DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA
REDEVELOPMENT LAND AGENCY
NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

Notice is hereby given that pursuant to Section 2(b) of the Redevelopment Land Agency Disposition Review Act of 1982, D.C. Law 4-140, D.C. Code 5-806, as amended, the District of Columbia Redevelopment Land Agency will hold a public hearing on June 21, 1990 at 9:45 A.M., in the Agency's Board Room, 5th Floor, 51 "N" Street, N.E., Washington, D.C. 20002.

The purpose of this hearing is to consider: (1) the proposed disposition of approximately 42,343 square feet of land legally identified as Lot 245, Square 672 in the Northeast One Urban Renewal Area, and said land is to be conveyed to the North Capitol Plaza Limited Partnership for the development of an office building of approximately 250,000 square feet of space; (2) the terms and conditions of the proposed Contract of Sale DC-DHCD-90-5; and Special Warranty Deed No. DC-DHCD-90-5A; and (3) the execution on or after June 21, 1990 of the proposed Contract of Sale and Special Warranty Deed.

This public hearing is being conducted pursuant to the District of Columbia Redevelopment Act of 1945 in order to assure that citizens are informed about the selling and leasing of property in the project areas for the purpose of redevelopment and rehabilitation and to ensure that citizens have the opportunity to present publicly their views concerning such sale or leases.

The North Capitol Plaza Limited Partnership filed with the Agency a Statement of Public Disclosure. All disposition documents and Redeveloper's Statement for Public Disclosure are available for public examination at this public hearing and in the office of the Agency during its regular office hours from 8:15 A.M. to 4:45 P.M.

Interested parties or representatives of organizations may be heard at the public hearing. The public hearing will be conducted in accordance with the provisions contained in Section 2010 through 2027, Title 10, Chapter 20, of the D.C. Municipal Regulations (1984). Persons desiring to participate as a party shall comply with provisions of Section 2015 of the regulations.

Section 2015, "Parties", reads in part as follows: "Any person may petition the Board of Directors to intervene in a disposition hearing and become a party to the hearing if the Board finds that the petitioner may be affected or aggrieved by the subject disposition. The petitioner to intervene shall file the following information no later than eighteen (18) days prior to the date set for the disposition hearing: (a) His or her name and address; (b) Whether he or she will appear as a proponent or opponent of the disposition; (c) Whether he or she will appear through legal counsel; (d) A written statement setting forth the manner in which he or she may be affected or aggrieved by the disposition and the grounds upon which he or she supports or opposes the disposition; and (e) A list of witnesses who will testify on his or her behalf. This requirement shall not be waived except for good cause shown. All admitted parties to the hearing shall be required to file certain documents, as specified in Section 2016.2 of the Regulations, at least ten (10) days prior to the scheduled Disposition Hearing. Such submissions shall be available for examination at the offices of the Agency to any persons during usual business hours.

Any other person may be heard at the hearing for any period of time that the Board allows. These other persons shall be subject to cross-examination by the parties, but shall not be permitted to cross-examine parties of the Agency staff except with permission from the Board.

All statements, documents, and petitions to intervene as a party shall be addressed or delivered to the Secretary, D.C. Redevelopment Land Agency, Room 501, 51 N Street, N.E., Washington, D.C. 20002, within the time period provided above.

Wilford L. Jackson
Secretary
Redevelopment Land Agency

BUDGET CRUNCH FALLOUT

BALTIMORE PUBLIC SCHOOLS:

43 central staff positions to be cut

Forty-three positions will be eliminated at the School Administration Central Office in order to keep within the 1991 fiscal year budget restraints.

Of the positions to be cut, ten are "teacher-level" administrative positions. The other positions are currently vacant.

This represents the second series of administrative reductions of central management by Dr. Richard C. Hunter, Superintendent of Public Instruction, in less than a year.

Dr. Hunter's first reorganization eliminated 116 positions last summer.

Department of Education Human Resources personnel began notifying the affected employees Thursday. Included were options available for each to remain within the school system in teaching or in other educational positions.

The reduction will take effect June 30, 1990.

To insure the current level of classroom instructional support for FY 1991, $1.0 million in reductions were necessary to continue the current level of operations with modest improvements.

The elimination of the 43 positions, combined with the reorganization of several administrative procedures, will enable the BCPS to operate within the FY 1991 budget of over 464 million dollars that has yet to be approved by the City Council.

To eliminate the ten positions, each bureau reduced its staff proportionally based on seniority.

COMMUNITY RELATIONS COMMISSION:

Staff cut means reduced services

By Will Marshall
AFRO Staff Writer

A newstipper notified the AFRO Wednesday, that the services for the Community Relations Commission (CRC), the Cities only Civil Rights Agency, would be reduced.

"The CRC is set up to administer Article Four of the Baltimore City Code," stated Thelma Scott, Office Manager of the CRC.

Article Four states that a person cannot be discriminated against due to race, color, age, religion, ancestry, physical or mental disabilities, marital status, or sexual orientation.

Mrs. Scott told the AFRO, "I can confirm that there have been cuts but I do not have permission to talk to reporters." She referred us to the Director of the CRC John Ferron.

In an interview about the pending personnel cuts, Mr. Ferron stated:

"It will have a devastating affect on our agency. We have not run at a deficit since 1973 and we have used funds wisely. Occasionally we even returned funds.

"Now at what appears to me to be the most inopportune time, the agency is facing lay-offs.

"It has been clearly documented over the years that when there is economic stress, agencies such as ours experience an increase in calls for help in the area of inter-ethnic tensions. These are the times that serve as fertile

A MOTHER'S SHOCKING FIND:

Elder Moore slain

By Helen Glover Cook
AFRO Staff Writer

Mrs. Hattie Moore's worst nightmare came alive Saturday night as she entered the apartment of her 37-year-old son, Elder Marvin Moore. She found her son lying on his bed immersed in a pool of blood, dead from gunshot wounds to the head.

Elder Moore's family had not heard from him in days, so Mrs. Moore decided to take matters in her own hands as she and her daughter, Karen Hollowman traveled to Elder Moore's apartment on Franklin St.

They let themselves in with the key Marvin had given his mother for use in emergency situations.

Paramedics arriving at the scene pronounced Elder Moore dead at 11:30 Saturday night. Baltimore City Police officers summoned to the apartment found the victim's personal possessions in place and undisturbed as well as no traces of forced entry.

Elder Moore had joined the United House of Prayer in 1968 and had become an Elder (the Apostolic denomination's title for Minister/Reverend).

A short while after becoming an Elder, he was elevated to the position of Assistant Youth Pastor.

He was President of Presidents at The United House of Prayer—a distinction accorded to the leader of all of the presidents of the church auxiliaries.

A born and bred Baltimorean, Elder Moore was a product of the Baltimore Public School System and a graduate of the Community College of Baltimore.

The Elder was well known throughout the United States as a prominent member of the Gospel community.

As a producer of gospel extravaganzas under the auspices of his M&M Production Company, Elder Moore was making the final preparations for a show in the Pier 6 summer line-up.

He was also a skilled Gospel announcer who belonged to the National Gospel Announcers Guild.

Mr. Irving Conway, a longtime friend and fellow alumnus of the Rev. James Cleveland Gospel Music Workshop Choir, said, "Marvin preached all over the United States and he had a particularly good youth ministry, he was good with young people. He was able to talk their language to them."

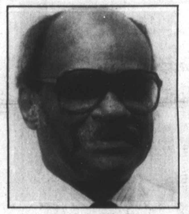
New Urban Services head

Lloyd C. Mitchner officially assumed the office of Executive Director of the Services Agency Monday, May 21.

The City Council approved of Mayor Schmoke's choice at a confirmation hearing held April 26. Mayor Schmoke swore in Mr. Mitchner in the Ceremonial Room at City Hall at 3:30 p.m.

Mr. Mitchner had been serving as Acting Executive Director since July 1, 1989. He replaced Dr. Lenwood M. Ivey, who left to head the Baltimore City Foundation.



Lloyd C. Mitchner

The Urban Services Agency primarily promotes the independence, welfare, and self-esteem of the disadvantaged. Based on the self-help concept, Urban Services offers a helping hand to all age groups through myriad activities and city wide projects.

In recent months UDA's Neighborhood Centers have teamed-up with the Mayor's Stations in order to maximize the efficiency of the community service delivery

Funeral scam co-conspirator pleads guilty

Last week, part owner of the Brown/Thompson Funeral Home, Lamont Thompson was sentenced to four years in prison for his part in stealing more than $390,000 from the state's Burial Assistance Program for the poor.

His co-conspirator Gladyce Harris, former head of the state's burial assistance program was scheduled for trial on May 21 on related charges, pleaded guilty on Monday to all charges against her.

Ms. Harris, 57, admitted conspiring with Lamont Thompson, an owner of the Brown/Thompson Funeral Home, to steal over $350,000 in State burial assistance payments.

The scheme to which both defendants have pleaded guilty continued from January 1985 until mid-August 1989.

Ms. Harris, of the 2300 block of West Lexington Street, had been the head of the City's Burial Assistance Unit during most of that time period and admitted to forging hundreds of applications in the name of the Brown/Thompson

Sam Lacy announces the 1990 Scholarship Awards named in his honor as Sharon Reichlyn (L) and awardees Terray Martin and Reggie Lewis look on.

Project Survival awards

By Helen Glover Cook
AFRO Staff Writer

After 11 years of awarding college scholarships to high school students who have combined academic excellence with exceptional basketball skills, Project Survival kicked-off its 1990 award presentation.

It was called "An Evening With..." testimonial honoring Prince Hall Masonic Grand Treasurer, Ronald David Scott and Baltimore business leader Kenneth O. Wilson.

Each year Project Survival honors two outstanding contributors who have demonstrated through their deeds an interest in the welfare of youth. The most promising of those youth are selected as recipients of a Sam Lacy Scholarship.

The Sam Lacy Scholarship is named for the longtimne AFRO sportswriter whose tireless efforts to promote good scholarship, moral character and fair play have immortalized him as the dean of Black sportswriters.

The scholarship is granted to those who are selected by a committee that includes Vince Bagli, Earl Banks, Roy Cragway, Walter Orlinski, John Steadman and Project Survival director, Vernon Wolst — who has guided the project since its inception in 1968.

This year Terray Martin of Western High School was the winner of a $2,000 grant that she will use to attend Delaware State. Beth Muccino whom Sam Lacy titled "Miss Personality" was presented with a trophy
