COMMUNITY CALENDAR

'Let Freedom Ring'

Woodmoor Elementary School, located at 3200 Elba Drive, Baltimore, will present a tribute to Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. Students will participate in skits, choral selections, and other activities centering around the themes "Let Freedom Ring" and "In Remembrance of Martin."

The program will be presented Thursday, Jan. 12, at 7:00 p.m.

Persons interested in further information may call Mrs. Miller at 887-1318. The public is invited to attend.

Yolanda King To Speak

The Community Affairs Committee of the National Aquarium in Baltimore will sponsor an evening with Yolanda King, at 7 p.m., on Monday, January 30, in the Lyn P. Meyerhoff Auditorium at the Aquarium.

Ms. King, the eldest daughter of the late Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., shares his dream of nonviolent social change equal rights for all men.

Working principally through the Martin Luther King, Jr. Center for Non-Violent Social Change, Inc., in Atlanta, Georgia, Ms. King travels extensively carrying the indelible message of her father.

Tickets for the event may be obtained by calling the Aquarium at 576-3846 weekdays. Proceeds from the event will go to the Aquarium's Henry Hall Scholarship Endowment for minority students interested in aquatic and marine sciences.

Heritage Festival

Poets and authors, published and unpublished, are invited to participate in the African-American Heritage Festival in celebration of Black History Month, February 1989.

A Poet's and Writer's seminar, a cooperative effort between the Urban Services Agency Cultural Arts Program and Coppin State College, will take place in the Eubie Blake Cultural Center, operated by Urban Services, at 409 N. Charles Street.

A Book and Author Forum and a reception will be at the Eubie Blake Cultural Center, Friday, Feb. 10, at 7:30 p.m. On Saturday, Feb. 11, from 10:00 a.m. until 3:00 p.m., a poetry and writing seminar will be facilitated by Dr. Gilbert Daley.

On Sunday, Feb. 12, at 3:00 p.m., a Poets and Readers Hour will be led by poet Dorothy Alves of the Coppin State College Readers Theater.

In addition, other events are planned for the African-American Arts and Heritage Festival. The kick-offs, scheduled Feb. 2, will feature the Towson State University African Art Collection, a photographic portrait collection of Prominent Black Baltimoreans, and Lithographs of Black Life. Before and After the Civil War.

The second weekend, beginning February 19, there will be a special salute to and performance by African-American students at Peabody. The weekend of February 24, a Black Dance Seminar will be presented with Joe Nash, America's foremost authority on Black dance.

Also, during Black History Month, each Saturday, tours to places of Black historical interest will be scheduled. The entire roster of activities in February is sponsored by the Urban Services Agency's Cultural Arts Program, in cooperation with Coppin State College, Peabody Conservatory, and Towson State University.

For more information, call 396-1300.

Empowerment Conference

A single parent empowerment conference, sponsored by Delta Sigma Theta Sorority's Baltimore County Alumnae Chapter, will be held Saturday, January 7 at Epworth United Methodist Church from 9 a.m. to 3:45 p.m.

This free conference will feature workshops and panel discussions on such topics as "Stretching Your Dollars," "Educational Opportunities for Children and their Parents," "Spiritual Growth," "Health Services for Children," and many other important issues.

Free transportation and child care will be provided for conference participants. To register, please call 664-5175.

Freedom From Smoking Program

Kick the habit in 1989! Let the American Lung Association of Maryland and Union Memorial Hospital help with your New Year's resolution to stop smoking.

The Lung Association's seven-week Freedom From Smoking Clinic will be held at Union Memorial Hospital, 201 E. University Parkway, beginning January 17, from 5:30 p.m. to 7:30 p.m.

The Program will help you quit by making you aware of why you smoke, by providing alternatives to smoking, and by providing information about stress management, weight control, and maintenance of a non-smoking lifestyle.

Heart Saver Course

A Citizen's CPR Course A will be offered at Howard County General Hospital on Wednesday, January 11 from 7 to 10 p.m. This American Heart Association Heart Saver course includes one-man CPR for the adult victim and techniques to remove airway obstructions.

To register, call 740-7600.

Founders' Day Celebration For Sigmas

Phi Beta Sigma Fraternity, Inc., Zeta Sigma Chapter of Baltimore will host the Founders' Day Celebration for Baltimore Area Sigmas and Friends on January 14, 1989. The affair will be held at the Forum, 4210 Primrose Avenue from 3:00 p.m. til 7:00 p.m. Phi Beta Sigma is a service Fraternity.

Their three national programs are: Education, Bigger and Better Business, and Social Action. They serve the Baltimore community by actively participating in the NAACP, The United Negro College Fund and Baltimore City's Adopt-A-School Program. For more information contact Bro. Eugene Clark at 578-9352 or Bro Arthur Hill, III at 435-1375.

Help for depression

A new mutual help support group is forming in the Waverly/Charles Village area for people with depression and manic-depression and/or family members. The first meeting will be held on Monday, February 6, 1989 from 7:30-9:00 p.m. There will be no charge to attend this group. For information, please contact Howard at 301-235-6627 during the day or evening.

Tap dance auditions

To coincide with the January/February 1989 release of the film "Tap" on Saturday, Jan. 7 from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m., preliminary auditions to find Baltimore's Best Tapper will be held at the Baltimore School for the Arts, Madison and Cathedral Sts.

Ten finalists will then be selected by a panel of judges to participate in the final Baltimore Tap Competition on January 14th at Lexington Market.

"Tap Day," Baltimore's most exciting dance event, is part of a nationwide "Tap Challenge."

One talented Baltimore tap dancer will win an all-expense paid trip to New York City for the premiere of the movie "Tap," and the chance to compete for the Grand Prize: a series of individual master classes with some of the legends of tap, including Gregory Hines!

The auditions are open to any solo tap dancer of any age who wishes to prepare a tap routine of under two minutes. They will be on a first-come, first-serve basis and will be limited by time constraints.

Promotional prizes will be awarded to the 10 Baltimore finalists at the tap competition. For more information and audition entry blanks call 486-0770.

Storytime

Children of all ages are invited with their parents to a Drop-in Storytime at the Woodlawn Branch of the Baltimore County Public Library. The Storytime will be Saturday, Jan. 7, at 12:00 noon.

Registration is not necessary. Children may bring lunch. Do drop in and see us. For further information contact the Woodlawn Library at 887-1336 or visit us at 1811 Woodlawn Drive.

Valentine's Day Fun

Have a Heart! Join us for our Valentine's Day Fun Festival on Saturday, February 4, from 10:30 a.m.-1:00 p.m. Create Valentine gifts or cards. Your unique creative efforts will make family and friends feel very special.

The invitation is open to children of all ages and their parents. The Valentine festival is the second in the 1988-1989 series of "Saturday Fun Festivals," sponsored by the Maryland Committee for Children. The Valentine festival will be held at the Chocolate factory, 608 Water Street in downtown Baltimore.

This Valentine's Day make someone feel very special. For more information about our Valentine Fun Festival or any upcoming "Saturday Fun Festivals" please call Prema Coulbourn at the Maryland Committee for Children (301) 752-7588.

tions, it gives them a sense of responsibility which they will need to live constructive, progressive lives in the community.

By the same token we must understand how important it is for us to be accountable to our children.

Ask them to let you know how you can be a better parent, there's no harm in that. They may be able to show you something you've long overlooked, thereby helping to seal the bond between parent and child.

Teach your children what responsible behavior is, and then set them an example.

Do your very best to practice what you preach! It's not always easy, but if you will make the effort, you'll reap great rewards.

First, you'll raise them up to be good Christians and they will make a solid contribution to the betterment of society.

Next, you'll make your job of parenting so much easier, last, but certainly not least, you'll be doing what you're supposed to do anyway.

There is no substitute for love, by training your child up in the way he or she should go, you can rest assured they will feel loved, and when they grow old, they won't depart from it.
