Smile orchids

Smile-of-the-week orchids to Dr. Martin A. Goins, 3rd. He's the ear, nose and throat specialist who has plenty of sunshine in his voice.

We observed him at work this week at Sinai Hospital, where he was recently named chairman of the hospital's Department of Otolaryngology.

Equally hospitable is his office aide, Vanessa Daniels, who answers the phone in a pleasant, professional manner.

Cuff note: Dr. Goins is a Baltimorean, just 39 years old, a City College and Morgan U. grad who earned his medical degree at Yale University and did his interne and residency at Hopkins.

His family: Dad, Martin, Sr., former Morgan U prof; mother, Mrs. Mary Goins, special ed teacher. Wife is Julia Brooks Goins — they met at Morgan. They have three youngsters, Kiersten, 7; Martin 5: and Jilean, 2.

More people with pleasant voices met at Sinai on Tuesday. Mrs. Maty Evans, a private duty nurse — has a lovely smile. She's a member of Bethel AME Church.

More smile orchids to Bea Gaddy, the Eastside activist. She inspired members of Philomathian Club on Saturday when she addressed the group at Hopkins' Sheraton.

What a delightful manner she had as she related her experiences as she provided food and housing for the poor in East Baltimore — "where I've been collecting discarded food in the shadow of this building since 1980" . . . and, "hunger and homelessness are the two saddest things I've ever experienced . . ."

And this — "I'm not solving the problems of poverty and hunger. We have to teach people we serve self worth and motivation . . ."

And adding a smile to her equally interesting discussion of city problems — Mrs. Maggie M. Quille, the Druid Heights Activist and church worker.

* * *

Orchids, also to Jerome Livingstone. He's the city trash collector. Robin Williams of Fremont Ave. writes of him: "many times when he and his crew come to collect the debris, it is all over the place. But I've seen him go the extra mile and make sure it is all up by the time the truck gets there, and he does his work with a smile . . . dirty work it is, too."

Did someone's smile make your day? Let us salute them. Please write Smiles, If You Ask Me, Baltimore AFRO-AMERICAN, 628 N. Eutaw St., Baltimore, Md., 21201, and smile, please.

New Year's Day infant: — Andrianna Nicole Betts weighed in at 8 lbs., 6½ ozs., at 1:50 p.m. on January 1, 1989 at Sinai Hospital.

Infant is a first for Thompson and Zita Betts. Dad is administrator with the city's Office of Employment Development. Mother is an attorney.

Proud grandparents are Mrs. Doris Betts of northwest Baltimore, and Mrs. Mary Arrington and John Arrington of Prince George's County. Family attends Heritage United Church of Christ.

Double rites

People being kind to others: A crowd of relatives and friends gathered Tuesday evening at St. Cecilia's Catholic Church to say goodbye to two brothers who had been active in the church and community.

Eulogized were Thomas Rudolph Smith, Jr., 61, who died suddenly on Thursday, and John Hamilton Smith, 3rd, 57, who died on Sunday after a long illness.

Both brothers were active in the Holy Name Society and Sampson Brooks Lodge of Elks, both of which conducted special services at the church at Clifton and Windsor Aves.

Thomas Rudolph was former exalted ruler and president of Tri-State Elks. He was the first black city clerk and later director of the Municipal Post Office under Comptroller Hyman Pressman.

He is survived by his wife, the former Gertrude Rogers; three daughters, Vanessa Ray, Tometta Gray and Robin Ott; son, Thomas R. Smith, 3rd his mother, Marie Roberta Smith; brothers, Joseph, Daniel and Howard Smith; and sisters, Dorothea Jennings and Eileen Chapman.

John Hamilton Smith, 3rd, was formerly employed by the Veterans Administration and later by the Social Security Administration where he retired in 1980 because of ill health.

Like his brother, he studied at Morgan State College, now university, and was active in the Holy Name Society and Elks. His other survivors, wife, the former Abbie Pearl Russell; daughters, Kim Murray and Avis Naomi Smith, and son, John Hamilton Smith, 4th.

MLK: Visions of the dreamer

Birth and Family

Martin Luther King, Jr. was born at noon on Tuesday, January 15, 1929, at the family home, 501 Auburn Avenue, N.E., Atlanta, Georgia. Dr. Charles Johnson was the attending physician. Martin Luther King, Jr. was the first son and second child born to the Rev. Martin Luther King, Sr. and Alberta Williams King. Other children born to the Kings were Christine, now Mrs. Isaac Farris, Sr. and the Rev. Alfred Daniel Williams King. The Rev. A. D. W. King, Sr. is now deceased. Martin Luther King's maternal grandparents were the Rev. Adam Daniel Williams, second pastor of Ebenezer Baptist Church, and Jenny Parks Williams. His paternal grandparents were James Albert and Delia King, sharecroppers on a farm in Stockbridge, Georgia.

He married the former Coretta Scott, younger daughter of Obadiah and Bernice McMurry Scott of Marion, Alabama on June 18, 1953. The marriage ceremony took place on the lawn of the Scott's home in Marion. The Rev. King, Sr. performed the service, with Mrs. Edythe Bagley, the sister of Mrs. King, maid of honor, and the Rev. A.D. King, the brother of Martin Luther King, Jr. best man.

Four children were born to Dr. and Mrs. King:
Yolanda Denise (November 17, 1955, Montgomery, Alabama)
Martin Luther, III (October 23, 1957, Montgomery, Alabama)
Dexter Scott (January 30, 1961, Atlanta, Georgia)
Bernice Albertine (March 28, 1963, Atlanta, Georgia)

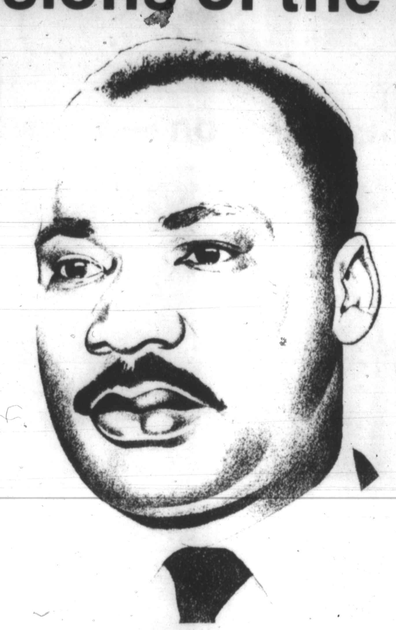
EDUCATION

At the age of five, M. L. King, Jr. began school, before reaching the legal age of six at the Yonge Street Elementary School in Atlanta, Georgia. When his age was discovered, he was not permitted to continue in school and did not resume his education until he was six. Following Yonge School, he was enrolled in David T. Howard Elementary School. He also attended the Atlanta University Laboratory School, and Booker T. Washington High School. Because of his high score on the college entrance examinations in his junior year of high school, he advanced to Morehouse College without formal graduation from Booker T. Washington. Having skipped both the ninth and twelfth grades, Dr. King entered Morehouse at the age of fifteen.

In 1948, he graduated from Morehouse College with a B.A. degree in Sociology. That fall he enrolled in Crozer Theological Seminary in Chester, Pennsylvania. While attending Crozer, he also studied at the University of Pennsylvania. He was elected president of the senior class and delivered the valedictory address; he won the Pearl Plafker award as the most outstanding student; and he received the J. Lewis Crozer fellowship for graduate study at a university of his choice. He was awarded a Bachelor of Divinity degree from Crozer in 1951.

In September of 1951, Martin Luther King began doctoral studies in Systematic Theology at Boston University. He also studied at Harvard University. His dissertation, "A Comparison of God in the Thinking of Paul Tillich and Henry Nelson Wieman," was completed in 1955, and the Ph.D. degree was awarded on June 5, 1955.

Martin Luther King entered the Christian ministry and was ordained in February 1948 at the age of nineteen at Ebenezer Baptist Church, Atlanta, Georgia. Following his ordination, he became Assistant Pastor of Ebenezer. Upon completion of his studies at Boston University, he accepted the call of Dexter Avenue Baptist Church, Montgomery, Alabama. He was the pastor of Dexter Avenue from September 1954 to November 1959, when he resigned to move to Atlanta to direct the activities of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference. From 1960 until his death in 1968, he was co-pastor with his father at Ebenezer Baptist Church and President of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference.



Dr. King was a pivotal figure in the Civil Rights Movement. He was elected president of the Montgomery Improvement Association, the organization which was responsible for the successful Montgomery Bus Boycott from 1955 to 1956 (381 days). He was arrested thirty times for his participation in civil rights activities. He was a founder and president of Southern Christian Leadership Conference from 1957 to 1968. He was also vice president of the National Sunday School and Baptist Teaching Union Congress of the National Sunday School and Baptist Teaching Union Congress of the National Baptist Convention. He was a member of several national and local boards of directors and served on the boards of trustees of several institutions and agencies. Dr. King was elected to membership in several learned societies including the prestigious American Academy of Arts and Sciences.

The above awards and others, along with numerous citations, are in the Archives of the Martin Luther King, Jr. Center for Nonviolent Social Change, Inc. in Atlanta, Georgia.

Death

Dr. King was shot while standing on the balcony of the Lorraine Motel in Memphis, Tennessee, April 4, 1968 by James Earl Ray. James Earl Ray was arrested in London, England on June 8, 1968 and returned to Memphis, Tennessee to stand trial for the assassination of Dr. King. On March 9, 1969, before coming to trial he entered a guilty plea and was sentenced to ninety-nine years in the Tennessee State Penitentiary. Dr. King was in Memphis to help lead sanitation workers in a protest against against low wages and intolerable working conditions. His funeral services were held April 9, 1968, in Atlanta at Ebenezer Church and on the campus of Morehouse College, with the President of the United States proclaiming a day of mourning and flags being flown at half-staff. The area where Dr. King is entombed is located on Freedom Plaza and surrounded by the Freedom Hall Complex of the Martin Luther King, Jr. Center for Nonviolent Social Change, Inc. The Martin Luther King, Jr. Historic Site, a 23 acre area was listed as a National Historic Landmark on May 5, 1977, and was made a National Historic Site on October 10, 1980 by the U.S. Department of the Interior.

Speeches

Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. was a vital personality of the modern era. His lectures and remarks stirred the concern and sparked the conscience of a generation; the movements and marches he led brought significant changes in the fabric of American life; his courageous and selfless devotion gave direction to thirteen years of civil rights activities; his charismatic leadership inspired men and women, young and old, in this nation and abroad.
