Miami police refer to rioters:

'Dirt bags kept in jail!'

MIAMI — Police said keeping hundreds of "dirt bags in jail" has helped quiet streets after two nights of rioting prompted by the shooting of a black man by a police officer, and no major added security was planned for Sunday's Super Bowl.

"It has been our experience when you have a second day (of violence), you generally have a third," said Assistant Police Chief Don March, Jr.

But by early Thursday, only minor disturbances were reported throughout the night in neighborhoods where the riots broke out Monday night.

"It has been much quieter than it was last night," Fred Taylor, director of Metro-Dade County Police Department, said late Wednesday.

A black teenager was killed and eight people were struck by bullets Tuesday during a night of sporadic gunfire and widespread looting in the Overtown, Liberty City and Coconut Grove areas, disrupting activities planned during the city's festive Super Bowl week.

Isolated rock and bottle throwing, gunfire and several fires were reported Wednesday evening in Overtown, Liberty City and Coconut Grove. Two fire bombs were thrown in passing cars in Overtown, but no one was injured, Miami police Sgt. Michael Mazur said.

Mazur said a total of 370 people, including two snipers wounded by police, have been arrested since Monday.

The majority of arrests occurred Tuesday night, after police announced a crackdown. Twenty-three people were arrested Wednesday, Mazur said. Charges ranged from grand theft and burglary to attempted murder and arson.

Police were counting on those arrests - and the promise of more, if the violence continues - to keep the area quiet. Officials also promised a swift investigation into the police shooting that triggered the violence.

When asked to assess the dramatically fewer number of arrests Wednesday, Mazur said: "They kept 250 dirt bags in jail. They didn't release them."

Rioting began Monday evening in Overtown after a Hispanic police officer fatally shot a black motorcyclist during a chase.

"Here we see police using deadly force against African Americans more than any other group. In most situations, it's been a black citizen being shot by an officer of another race."

Monday, Clement Anthony Lloyd, 23, was gunned down by a police officer. The passenger on his motorcycle was fatally injured in a resulting crash.

Broken promises:

Cause of the riots

By Samantha Gates
Miami Times

Repeated shootings of black men by the police, failed promises of help to the black community for economic improvement, lack of jobs, despair and favoritism by the city toward non-Blacks.

Community leaders say these are all factors which contributed to this week's fresh revolt in Overtown, and Liberty City and Coconut Grove that left buildings burned, people wounded and 150 in jail.

"There is a concern that city officials have been insensitive to Afro-Americans," said Johnnie McMillian, president of the Miami-Dade NAACP.

No furlough for Clarence Mitchell

By Helen Glover Cook
AFRO Staff Reporter

Notification arrived this week communicating the Bureau of Prisons denial of a furlough to Clarence Mitchell, one day before their requested furlough would go into effect. Clarence Mitchell, III requested the furlough from the Lewisburg Federal Prison Camp, after being assured that permission had gone through proper channels and that submitting written permission would only be a formality necessary to pass the last administrative barrier to his home visit scheduled for January 20-23.

The Bureau of Prison's letter stated "The severity of your (Clarence) crimes" as well as citing the "danger to society" he posed as the reasons why Clarence Mitchell, III was denied the furlough.

Clarence Mitchell IV, an attorney and the son of Clarence Mitchell, III states that "The Lewisburg Prison authorities have rules concerning furlough that are not found in any other prison in the Federal System."

Mitchell IV says, "This is the second time the prison authorities have denied a furlough to my father. He submitted a request for a furlough to be taken at Christmas time and was told that by requesting the furlough only 4 or 5 weeks before he wished to take the furlough did not meet the 8 week time allotment necessary for process-

Walbrook asbestos repair:

All bids rejected

By Delfield S. Yoes, III
AFRO Staff Reporter

Wednesday at a meeting of the city Board of Estimates, the members of the board decided to reject the seven initial bids for asbestos abatement at Walbrook High School and readvertise next week for accepting bids on February 8.

Andy Gisikin, the city asbestos coordinator for the city public schools and for the city of Baltimore, stated that the city received bids ranging from 4.3 million dollars to 7.5 million dollars.

Gisikin said that the bidders were rejected because of a lack of minority participation, as well as a lack of performance bonds required for the contract.

Originally 26 companies received specifications and drawings documents for the contract, then the Board of Estimates identified 14 bidders who had sufficient financial backing for the project. In the end, the city received only seven bids.

LEGISLATIVE ROUNDUP

Black Caucus agenda

By Alisa Samuels
AFRO Staff Writer

Developing minority-owned businesses and educational programs, totalling $22.5 million, are the top priorities for the Maryland Legislative Black Caucus during this session of the General Assembly, its chairman said.

Del. Curtis S. Anderson, the caucus' chairman and D-Baltimore, said Wednesday the legislative body would introduce legislation to strengthen minority-owned businesses, many of which have continuously been shut out of government contracts and franchise development programs.

Anderson said black-owned businesses have failed to receive various governmental and financial assistance because of discrimination and the absence of a history record with the "good old boy network".

The legislator said $7.5 million is being requested to help aid minority programs, so they too can purchase franchises, among them McDonald's and 711.

"This is not a hand-out," said Anderson. "We're not

Against Proposition 42

By Alisa Samuels
AFRO Staff Writer

The Maryland Legislative Black Caucus Wednesday called upon local universities and colleges favoring the National Collegiate Athletic Association's narrowly-approved Proposition 42, to reverse their support and provide "certain disadvantaged young people" a higher education.

Del Curtis S. Anderson, chairman of the caucus, said the body had personally or in written-form asked the University of Maryland-College Park, the University of Maryland-Eastern Shore, the University of Maryland-Baltimore County, Towson State University and Loyola College to reassess their decisions and oppose Proposition 42.

Dr. William E. Kirwan, acting president of UMCP, announced Tuesday night, the evening before the caucus' press conference, that the College Park campus planned to reverse its decision.

During the NCAA convention "we were not fully aware of the consequences of this legislation," said Kirwan.
