Deltas' Baltimore Alumnae Chapter hosts Founders' Day

(Photos by Paris Gray)

DELTA HONOREES who were presented Service Awards (plaques) for their continuous and devoted service to the goals and ideas of the Delta founders during the Founders' Day observance held Saturday, Jan. 28 at the Forum, Primrose Ave., are (l to r): Sorors Elizabeth A. Edmonds, Maethelda M. Medders and Jennye T. Patterson.

An aura of warmth and joyousness pervaded as sorors of the Baltimore Alumnae Chapter, Delta Sigma Theta Sorority, Inc. and their guests gathered for the Delta's Founders Day Celebration Saturday, January 28 at 11:30 p.m. at the Forum, Primrose Ave.

With the theme, "Delta Women as Leaders — A Place For Us All" the program, commemorating the 76th year of the sorority, got underway following an animated cocktail hour.

Presiding were Gwendolyn Brooks Stewart and Brigitte L. Nash, co-chairpersons for the 1989 observance.

Subsequent to the professional, welcome and introductions, Peggy Willis, chaplain, gave the opening prayer and blessing, and greetings were

A FAMILY AFFAIR

SCG, Limited, a family organization, introduced themselves to the public on Friday, December 9. The family held a Harvest Dance at the Omega Fraternity House. They were joined by many friends who came to support the first activity ever given by the organization.

SCG, Limited has been in existance for three years and this five generation family was incorporated in 1988. An idea was spawned to organize, save and invest in the future of the family through it's children; love, support of each other and financial investments.

The members are: Lucy Greene, matriarch of the family; Hubert and Josie Spellman, Harold and Lucy Greene and Myra, (daughter); Vernon and Fern Greene, Guy and Janet Cruise Smith, Leon and Gwendolyn Cruise of Washington, D.C.; Martin and Joan Cruise and Marc, son; Warren and Carolyn Cruise, Enid and Tiffany, daughters, of Silver Spring, MD; Linda Clark and Raymond, son; of Plainsfield, N.J.; Gregory and Robena Simmons, Brandi and Tanya, daughters; Zollie and Stacey Cruise Lee, Alesia and Brandon, daughter and son; Barry and Bernice Smith and Barry, Jr., Sherice and Daniel, sons and daughters; Martin Cruise, II, Michael Cruise and Michelle Cruise.

Officers are: Mrs. Janet Cruise Smith, president; Vernon A. Greene, vice president; Martin H. Cruise, Sr., secretary; Michelle Cruise, assistant secretary; Josie E. Spellman, treasurer; Zollie Lee, assistant treasurer; Carolyn Cruise, parliamentarian, and Hubert Spellman, chaplain.

MSU SCHOLARSHIP BALL SET

Morgan State University will hold its 4th Annual Presidential Scholarship Ball on Friday, March 31. Committee members are hard at work planning the event which promises to be even more spectacular and enjoyable than the festive ones held in past years, beginning with the one held in 1985 to honor Dr. Earl S. Richardson upon his inauguration as Morgan's 11th President.

Chaired by Mrs. Mary Robinson, Director of Development at Morgan, the Scholarship Ball Committee has chosen the following subcommittee chairpersons: Mrs. Essie Banks, tickets; Mrs. Josephine D. Brown, decorations; Dr. Thelma Daley, Hosts and hostesses; Dr. Flossie Dedmond, program; Frederick I. Douglass, publicity and marketing; Mrs. Shirley C. Huffin, Esq., raffle; Larry Montgomery, site; Moses Rivers, promotions; and Mrs. Virginia Vauls, finance.

Fine African Art Exhibited

An exhibition of African Art by Kay Chiromo with Claudette Bailey, Chief of Party, Howard University/U.S. Government - Malawu, Africa as guest artist was held in January at the Murphy's Art Center, Morgan State University. PARTNERSHIP AND PRIDE

The Maryland State Enolia P. McMillian NAACP Lady's Auxiliary and the Girl Scouts of Central Maryland are collaborating on a gala two-day Black History event entitled Partnership And Pride.

The program, designed to provide an opportunity for 300 Junior Girl Scouts to learn about African American history and culture through educational fun and participatory activities, will be held at the NAACP National Headquarters Saturday, February 18 thru Sunday, February 19.

The program will consist of workshops, games, special events, crafts, music, an ecumenical service and storytelling by Jamal Koram. The recently wed Maria Broom-Stephens, will present an exciting ethnic dance session on Saturday evening.

Several other well known professionals, including Verna Day, Sandra Meekins and Kay Merrill, will spend their weekend helping the girls to gain an appreciation and acceptance of different cultures.

The activities will begin with a VIP reception for adults and a tour of NAACP National Headquarters Office Building.

CONGRATULATIONS

Congratulations to EPM NAACP LADIES Auxiliary Vice President, Linda Janey. Linda is one of four new appointees to the Baltimore City School Board.

RETIREMENT SEND-OFF

It was fun night at the Forum last Wednesday evening when SSA co-workers and friends of Joe Blackwell shared in the fun during a well attended retirement dinner. Joe claims roots in my hometown of Pittsburgh, PA.

ANNAPOLIS LUNCHEON

MTA Citizens Advisory council played host to members of the House and Senate this week in Annapolis. The occasion was the group's annual Luncheon. Since Light Rail is such a hot issue right now, we can bet that all conversations touched on the subject.

she has accumulated from various countries. She designed many articles in her collection.

Mrs. Jewel Moseley met Mrs. Bailey and Mrs. Chiromo while on a recent assignment to Malawu. She was so impressed with their works that through Mrs. Bailey she was able to acquire some of their works. Mrs. Moseley has a private collection of African Art. She was instrumental in bringing the exhibition to the Murphy's Art Center.

Friends who were co-sponsors with Mrs. Moseley were: Mrs. Gwendolyn Tarter, Mrs. Agnes Reaves, Mrs. Jacqueline Lewis, Mrs. Sheila Richardson and Mrs. Olivia Stewart.
