Metropolitan U.M. bids farewell to Lockmans

On Sunday, June 25th, Metropolitan United Methodist Church said farewell to Dr. Irvin C. Lockman, his wife Joan and daughter JoAnn in the grand splendor the church is noted for.

The distinguished, Rev. Frank L. Williams spoke to a packed sanctuary of well wishing members and noted Baltimore leaders including: President of City Council, Mary Pat Clark, Md. Senator, Troy Brailey, Rev. Sidney Daniels, Pastor of Emmanuel C.C. Church, a representative from B.U.I.L.D., Rev. Robert Behnke and many bearers of love gifts.

A farewell reception followed immediately in a loving and elegant setting in the church's social hall, where Dr. Lockman and his family were surrounded by old and new friends as he ended his pastorate of nine years at Metropolitan United Methodist Church.

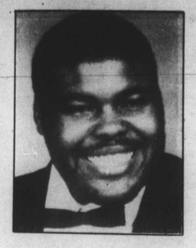
AREA OBITUARIES

Terry D. Jones



Terry Dewayne Jones, Sr., son of Edna M. Malone and the late Henderson Woodley, was born on March 21, 1969 in Baltimore, Maryland. Mr. Jones died on May 15, 1989.

He received his high school education at Southwestern High School, where he was a member of the wrestling and football teams. Upon completion of high school, he attended Catonsville Community College for one year.

Terry made numerous friends wherever he went and his warm smile will be sincerely missed by everyone who knew him. He was always a true friend and a devoted son and father.

He leaves to mourn: his mother, Edna M. Malone; stepfather, James Malone; one son, Terry D. Jones, Jr.; two sisters, Leslie and Rita Smallwood; two brothers, Edward Eugene Smallwood and Keith M. Adams; great grandmother, Edna B. Adams; grandmothers, Glenda Jones and Sadie Woodley; a devoted friend, Roslynn Hemphill; a host of aunts, uncles, other relatives and friends.

Charles Petaway

Charles Petaway, son of the late John and Minnie Petaway, was born on April 24, 1922 in Tarboro, North Carolina. Mrs. Petaway died on May 23, 1989 after a lengthy illness.

He leaves to mourn: his wife, Minsie Petaway; three stepdaughters, Eva Hall, Jessie Tillery and Emma Johnson; three stepsons, Ernest and Samuel Johnson of Baltimore, Maryland and James Johnson of Poughkeepsie, New York; one son-in-law, two daughters-in-law, fourteen grandchildren, ten great grandchildren, one sister, Lucy Ricks; one sister-in-law, Emma Lee Petaway, of Rocky Mount, North Carolina; three nieces, four nephews, a host of other relatives and friends.

Scott E. Jordan

Scott Ellis Jordan, son of Ola Mae Jordan Woolfolk, was born April 19, 1905. Mr. Jordan died on May 19, 1989.

Reared in Georgia, he left for Chicago at an early age. After stopping in Baltimore to visit a sister, he decided to remain. It was here, he met and married Jeannette M. McBride in May of 1931. From this union three children were born.

A lover of education, he attended defense school completing all trades offered. He regularly transported senior citizens to markets, hospitals, and other places of interest. He was also a 32nd degree member of the A.E.O.N.M.S. and a member of Jerusalem Temple No. 4.

In 1970, he retired from the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad after forty-four years of service. During his life he gave generously and freely of his time and resources to the many young people with whom he came in contact with.

He leaves to mourn: two daughters, Norma D. Jackson, Alease Belinda Williams; one son, Glen Askew; four grandchildren, Valarie Kimball-Wallace, Gregory Kimball, Kevin Kimball, and Jeannine Kimball; three great grandchildren, Eric Vonverde, Christopher Vonverde, and Kevin Kimball, Jr.; one sister, Nina Woolfolk; two sisters-in-law; Mary McBride and Minnie Woolfolk; one brother-in-law; and a host of nieces, nephews, cousins and many friends.

Earl L. Brooks

Earl Lamont Brooks, son of Gerald M. and Sylvia R. Brooks, grandson to Harry X. and Gloria B. Peaker, Jerome A. Brooks, Sr. and the late John L. and Susie H. Jones, was born April 23, 1964 in Baltimore, Maryland. Lamont died on June 19, 1989 after a lengthy illness.

He leaves to mourn: his father, Gerald M. Brooks; mother, Sylvia R. Brooks; three brothers, Gerald Brooks, Darrell C. Brooks and Lawrence J. Wilkens; one great uncle, Earlie Lee Jones; nine uncles, Jerome A. Brooks, Ronald B. Brooks, Jeffrey G. Brooks, Carl G. Brooks, Derek X. Brooks, Ronald B. Brooks, Jeffrey G. Brooks, Carl G. Brooks, Derek X. Brooks, H. Scott Peaker, Guy B. Peaker, Joseph B. Jones and James Mark Jones; one aunt, Gloria Butler; a host of other relatives and friends.

strengthen our brothers and sisters . . . to encourage them . . .to be a witness for them . . . to actually assist them in moving from one level of faith to another. And when thou art converted — fully persuaded — strengthen thy brethren!

. . . for we belong to one another. Won't you just lift up your hands and give the Lord another wave offering . . . Now throw your head back and say, glory! hallelujah!

Smile orchids

Smile-of-the-week orchids to Mrs. Vondalee Clark. She is the Baltimore city educator whom many admire for her devotion to staff and students. On Friday evening, some 200 associates and friends gathered at the Forum to tell her so.

The occasion: her retirement after 34 years service as teacher, specialist, assistant principal, supervisor, assistant superintendent, regional super and director of middle schools.

Speakers saluted her as a warm and caring person who was honest, very dedicated, and highly respected by all who worked with her. Isn't that a lovely tribute!

Orchids to Northeast Middle School principal, Beverly Crisp and David Benson, School No. 76 principal. They chaired the fitting testimonial.

Also playing key role, Douglass High principal, Jean Owens, and Charles Allen of the staff development office.

Cuff note: Mrs. Clark was gifted with a full stereo system and check to purchase tapes.

Her retirement plans — a trip to the Orient in the fall and then hopes to do further study — enroll in a theology school. She is a member of Eastern United Methodist Church.

Proud kin at her testimonial: Her daughter, Kim Clark, and her mother, Mrs. Margaret Harris.

More orchids

More smile orchids to the Rev. Althea Quarles. She is the first woman member of St. James Episcopal Church to be ordained a deacon. Ceremony was a Saturday ago at the Washington Cathedral. A large contingent of St. James members attended.

Rev. Quarles is a former city teacher and counselor. She has been assigned to serve at Memorial Episcopal Church.

Cuff note: Rev. Quarles is the first black woman to be ordained a deacon in the Diocese of Maryland.

Orchids, too, to these 50-year St. James members who were honored on a recent Sunday — Audrey C. Pinkney, Thelma C. Rogers and Anethia B. Williams.

Personable community volunteers are Mrs. Georgine Edgerton, president of Mt. Holly Improvement Association and vice chair of the Greater Walbrook Coalition; and Mrs. Dorothy Burgess, vice president Mt. Holly.

We watched these ladies as they listened to deliberations during board of trustee meeting at Community College of Baltimore on Monday evening.

They were pleased that board chair, Otis Warren advised there are no plans "to do anything with Harbor campus buildings," The assertion followed questionnaire from Walbrook Coalition president, James M. Griffin, and former CCB vice president, Dr. William V. Lockwood.

Mailbag: Mrs. Celetina Evans, a Catonsville resident, writes: "I like your smiles and salutes. Pass mine on for Linwood Fenwick. He is the neighbor who is a helping hand to many of us who can not get around well. Thanks to him, we get our trash cans in and other little chores, always with a smile . . ."

Editor's note: Did someone's smile make your day? Tell this column. Write Smiles, If You Ask Me, Baltimore AFRO-AMERICAN, P.O. Box 1857, Baltimore, Md. 21203, and smile, please.

About People

Good news in the family of Mrs. Emma J. Arnelle of Koko Lane. Son, Derrick R. Arnelle, who holds a doctorate in chemistry from the U. of Wisconsin, has been named associate professor at Brandeis University in Waltham, Mass..

Daughter, Dr. Darrelynne A. Mazyck, the pediatrician, was well enough to leave the hospital last week. She had been confined since that freak accident in December. Remember her car was struck by a tree during that horrible December storm and she was trapped inside. She suffered painful injuries, and will still have to have additional therapy.

Also happy about her return home — hubby, Bernard, the computer analyst.

Baltimoreans played stellar roles when Chi Delta Mu, the medical fraternity, held its 76th national conclave in Myrtle Beach, S.C., last week.

Our town's Dr. James Priest is national president. He gave keynote address — the theme, "The Black Male and the High Cost of Health Care." Our town's other officers: Dr. Elroy Young, chaplain; and Dr. Walter Shervington, historian.

Wives of members, called Chi Wives, have these Baltimore ladies as officers — Vice president, Mable Young; Ponjola Priest, recording secretary; and Fannie Mathias, parliamentarian. President is Ruth Bridges of Philly.

Visitors from Calif., N.Y., Tenn., Ohio, Mass., Mich., and Ga.; were in our town a weekend ago. They were here for the 54th annual class reunion of grads from Main High School in Rome, Ga. (former known as Rome High Colored School.)

The 1935 class activities were coordinated by Baltimore classmate, Mary Weaver Ellis, and hubby, Aaron.

Class members were headquartered at the Omni, where the banquet was held, citations awarded members and an initial $500 plus was contributed to a scholarship fund for deserving Main High students.

Visitors toured our city, worshipped at Sharp St. Methodist Church and had farewell get-together at Dozen's Club in Severn, Md., where they met a number of localities, and enjoyed the music of Lionel Jiggetts.

Certificates and trophies for achievement, service to classmates and for travelling the greatest distance went to the Thomas Mosleys of Los Angeles; Rev. Dr. Hortense Merritt, Jamaica, L.I., N.Y. and Dr. John Thomas, Jr., Nashville;

Also here: — David and Maggie Cherry, Knoxville; George and Fannie White, Worthington, Ohio; Lillie C. Sprawl, Boston; Mozelle Williams, Detroit; Mary H. King, Rome, Ga., and Marion Booker, Laurel, Md.

Visitor in our gates this week: Mrs. Odile Elias of New Orleans. She's guesting at the home of her stepson and wife, Tony and Sarah (Elias.) Friends gathered at their Cross Keys home to meet her on Tuesday evening.

Miss Mayo

People doing thoughtful things for others: — The current issue of the Morgan State University Women's Newsletter contains a beautiful tribute to the late Miss Beatrice Mayo.

Of her, newsletter editor, Dr. Beryl Williams, writes:—

The Morgan women remember well that she audited books and gave firm advisement on keeping records straight.

"Those of us who are older remember that she was a phenomenal accountant.

"In fact, her mind was a computer, long before the instruments came in use.

"She was well before her time and equal opportunity for women, because she was well in line and prepared to be comptroller and business manager; however, she was not promoted.

"Miss Beatrice Mayo is remembered as honest straight - forward, sincere, positive and direct.

She was also a musician (violin or viola?), an excellent keeper of the dues records of the American Association of University Women (Baltimore) and a hard worker in the Church Women United.

Cuff note: Miss Mayo, 81, willed her body to science. Memorial services were May 21 at Grace Presbyterian Church, where she was a lifetime member. She was financial advisor to many groups, including her Zeta Phi Beta Sorority.
