to be held by her. Finding (as she is an old lady bordering on seventy) that she was excited and uneasy about the restoration of said Kunkel note I gave her about $1200 to be held as a guarantee for the safe return of said Kunkel note. Subsequently to this acquiring money I proposed to form from her the sum of $1200 and give her a mortgage therefor on my share of the Catechism property which I did by the mortgage of the 14th of July 1857. When my note of $3000 was about maturing and finding her uneasiness to raise the amount I proposed to Sophia Pittsburgh to sell said note of Kunkel to Horatio McPherson which she did do for the sum then due thereon being about $4000, and gave me an order on him for the same. With same money of mine and part of said proceeds of the sale of the note of Kunkel to McPherson, I paid my note of $3000 at the Merchants Bank of Baltimore and on my return home my mother was paid the balance of the amount received from McPherson less the mortgage of $1200 and the note of Thompson & Ondeslupe and of the Farmers and Mechanics Bank that is to say the said mortgage of $1200. and the said notes of Thompson & Ondeslupe and of the said Farmers & Mechanics Bank were held by my mother as part of the said sum of $4000 the proceeds of sale of said Kunkel note and I paid her in cash the balance of said sum of $4000 being between $1700 and $1800 or thereabouts. I further state that I did not intend to say more of the papers marked Exhibit P.F. No 4. Exhibit P.F. No 5 and Exhibit P.F. No 6 than that they were in my handwriting but as I have had so many money transactions with Sophia Pittsburgh I could not fully explain all the particulars thereof at this late date.

The witness was here cross examined by the Solicitor for L. M. Kunkel and upon his cross-examination depones and says

My $3000 at the Merchants Bank was I think a four months note dated about the 12th of June the note was got renewed to the best of my recollection. out of the proceeds of this $3000 note I think I took up the note of Thompson & Ondeslupe and paid $500 on the note of the Farmers and Mechanics Bank I must then have taken up the note of Thompson & Ondeslupe after the date of the note in the Merchants Bank for $3000 I cannot recollect whether I paid my mother any part of the proceeds of the note discounted at the Merchants Bank of Baltimore. When the note matured I got from Horatio McPherson the full amount due on said Kunkel $5000 note I think about $3900 the amount then due less the discount
