Ans. About the time and before we contracted.
12th C. Int. Was a new estimate made by Waesche, about the time of the contract, with the Cellar and Foundation left out, If Yea, was that on paper or in a book?
Ans. — I dont have any knowledge of any new estimates. The first talked about Hons, the Cellar & Foundation included, and the price was then $2,000 —
Then we met again and talked about a price from the Foundation, Cellar windows and Lime and Foundation and Cellar way included for $1750.00 —
13th C. Int. Where was the first estimate spoken of shown you?
Ans. Over at Waesche Bro. & Co's Shop.
14th C. Int. Can you not now say whether it was on a piece of paper or in a book?
Ans. No Sir, I cannot
15th C. Int. Can you tell whether it was in lead pencil, or in ink?
Ans. That I cant tell
16th C. Int. Can you tell what has become of the said estimate?
Ans. No Sir.
17th C. Int. Did you take a copy of it or was a copy given you by L. R. Waesche or by any other member of the Firm?
Ans. I did not take no copy. No Sir, it was merely shown to me & I saw it.
18th C. Int. Look at paper now shown you marked "Exhibit L.R.W. No 1" & say if this is a correct copy of the estimate with the Cellar and Foundation left out?
Ans. I look at Exhibit L.R.W. now here shown me. No Sir,
19th C. Int. State in what respects and in what items it differs from the one shown you?
Ans. Judging by the Painting and the Carpenter work, there is more there than there was upon the estimate shown me.
20th C. Int. Is it similar in all other respects?
Ans. I cant say, its been some time since I seen it.
21st C. Int. In the estimate shown you what was the item of Painting put at?
Ans. $150.00 as near as I can recollect.
22d C. Int. What was the Carpenter's work put at?
Ans. $175.00 I think.
23d C. Int. What in your judgment was the digging of the Cellar worth? and the removal of the dirt?
Ans. I suppose about $65.00.
24th C. Int. Who put up the Foundation for you, and what did it cost you and what was it worth?
Ans. Daniel Eachenbrode, Samuel Wilhide William Damich, & a man by the name of Doney. I think I paid them as near as I can recollect about $40.00 flat for the Mason work.
25th C. Int. What did it cost you for attending the Masons & what was it worth?
Ans. I dont recollect what it cost. They put it up by the piece about fifteen Dollars.
26th C. Int. What was the stone in the Foundation worth brought to the Building?
Ans. $35.00 or $40.00.
27th C. Int. What was the Digging of the Cellar and the building of the Foundation including all materials except wood work worth?
Ans. About $200.00
28th C. Int: Did Waesche, Bro. & Co. furnish the wood-work for the fou
