Signed sealed, published and declared by Mrs Laura E. Gray the above named testatrix as and for her last will and Testament in the presence of us, who at her request, in her presence and in the presence of each other have subscribed our names as witnesses thereto.

I, Laura E. Gray of Frederick County State of Maryland do hereby, make ordain publish and declare this as and for a Codicil to my last will and testament bearing date on the Seventeenth day of March, in the year Eighteen hundred and Seventy six, and I do by this Codicil to my said will, affirm republish and declare all of the bequests and devises contained in said will the same as if they were herein set forth, except where the same may be altered changed or modified by this Codicil to my said will. Item First.

I do by this Codicil give and bequeath to the Vestry of Saint Marks Parish in Frederick County, a Church Corporation located in Petersville District, Frederick County, State of Maryland, the sum of Four thousand dollars, with this sum of money together with other money which said Vestry may raise and collect, it is my will and I give and bequeath the same to said Church Corporation for the express purpose that the said Vestry shall use the same in building a new Church, upon the present site of Old Saint Marks Church, and untill said building is commenced, it is my will that the said Vestry shall invest the said sum of money in some safe and profitable security, the accrued interest thereon to be used as part of the building funds. In case however the said Vestry shall not within ten years after my death, erect and build said new Church upon the present site of Old St. Marks Church Petersville District, Frederick County, Maryland, then I do hereby revoke said bequest and legacy to the vestry of Saint Marks Parish in Frederick County, and I do give and bequeath the said sum of Four thousand dollars, to the Convention of the Protestant Episcopal Church of the Diocese of Maryland, in trust to invest the same with the accrued interest, which may be received and the one half of the interest dividends and profits arising I desire shall Annually be applied for the use of Diocesian
