So the amendments were rejected.

On motion of Mr. Harris, seconded by two other members that voted in the majority, the house reconsidered their vote upon the amendment offered by him on yesterday and adopted by the house as the 9th section to the bill;

On motion of Mr. Harris said amendment was then amended by striking out the words 'both branches,' and inserting in lieu thereof, 'each branch;'

The said amendment was then adopted as amended.

Mr. Simmons moved to amend said bill by inserting as the 25th section, printed bill, the following,

Sec. 25. Be it enacted, that the annual meeting of the Legislature, after the October election of 1838, shall be on the first Monday in January, 1839, and on the same day ever after.

Determined in the negative.

The said bill having been read through as amended,

Mr. Kershner moved that the house adjourn,

Determined in the negative.

Mr. Carpenter moved that the house adjourn,

Determined in the negative.

Mr. Ely moved to postpone the bill until Monday next

Determined in the negative.
