No 7520. Equity

of what the trustee has to sell, an uncertainty appearing upon the face of the paper in this Cause, to allow the sale to proceed will entangle the Case and the rights of purchasers and at the same time of necessity most prejudicially affect the Sale.

5. Because Petitioner is advised and so charges, there is no question of the invalidity of the will of Bridget Sweeney, but on contrary the same is certain plain and express upon its face and vested rights charges or estates in the devisees named therein

6 Because Petitioner is an unlearned woman, who was assured by Vincent Tebold Esq. that it was perfectly plain that the Will of Bridget Sweeney was utterly null and void, that the proper was sure to be sold and that she, Petitioner could do nothing to prevent it, that she believed and relied upon these assurances, which she now charges were correct, though Petitioner does not impute to Mr. Tebold any actual fraudulent design in the making said representations

7. And for other good and sufficient reasons appearing upon the face of the papers in this Cause which will be made known at the hearing hereof,

Wherefore Petitioner prays your Honor to vacate the enrollment of the Decree in this Cause, to annul and strike out the decree and to permit Petitioner to make defense to the Bill of Complaint and Petitioner prays that your Honor will grant to her a Mandatory order commanding the Trustee Vincent Tebold Esq. to forbear from making the Sale advertised in this Case until such time as your Honor shall seem good.

And as in duty bound &c &c.
