12 Int. Where did your Mother live in the later years of her life and what was her physical condition during that time?
ans. My husband and I lived with my mother since my Father's death and to the date of her death in her property described in "Exhibit A" My Mother was during all of the nine years in a very nervous condition and after she broke her arm, about 7 years ago required my constant care and attention: and after the breaking of her arm for three years I was obliged to wash her, dress her and comb her hair and wait on her like she was child. I used a heating apparatus for Rheumatoid upon her for a number of days prior to the breaking of her arm, and one hour each day. She had heart trouble which required a great deal of my care and trouble. She was in bed many times during the last three years most of the time since November 1909. and continuously for six months prior to the time of her death. I cooked the meals and carried them up stairs to her and waited upon her many times during the day and night when she required food and drink to be brought to her and attention at her bedside.
