No. 8862. Equity.

Answer of Charles Bundheim
and Albert S. Gaxley, Trustees.
Filed Nov. 21-1912

Charles Bundheim and Albert S. Gaxley Trustees, having been made parties defendant to the above entitled cause by order of this Court, now answering the allegations contained in the petition

First: That they are trustees under each of the two deeds of trust described in the last petition filed by Richard J. Earnshaw and David Lowenstein, receivers of the deeds of trust are correctly described therein; that they know of efforts having been made by said receivers to make an advantageous sale of the property of defendant corporation, as also they know of the offer received by said receivers from George M. Oyster Jr., to purchase the assets of said Company, as set out in the before mentioned petition of the receivers.

Second: That under the circumstances they are of opinion that it is desirable to accept the offer of George M. Oyster Jr., and there is no objection on their part as said trustees to the acceptance of said offer and the appointment by the Court, of said receivers to sell the property, and therefore they consent to an order being passed by this Court which shall authorize the sale by said receivers.

Greenwald to Sale.
Filed Nov. 21-1912

To the Honorable,
The Circuit Court of Frederick County.
State of Maryland.

The Undersigned respectfully states to the Court that he is a bondholder under the first deed of trust given by Baltimore & Washington White Cross Milk Company to Charles Bundheim and Albert S. Gaxley, Trustees dated January 10-1912, of which the under stands that $16,500 in bonds were issued and are outstanding; that he has had knowledge of the proceedings taken in the above entitled case wherein Richard J. Earnshaw and David Lowenstein were appointed Receivers to make an advantageous sale of the property of said Company, that he has also been informed of an offer made to said Receivers by one George M. Oyster, Jr., to purchase
