

Women Lawyers.

The bill to admit women to practice law came up on its third reading with amendments from the House. One of these was as follows: "No discrimination shall be made on account of race, color, creed or previous condition of servitude." The amendments were finally concurred in and the bill passed.