

William Milnes Maloy

The Sun (1837-1985); Aug 20, 1949; ProQuest Historical Newspapers The Baltimore Sun (1837-1985)

pg. 6

William Milnes Maloy

TO THE EDITOR OF THE SUN—Sir: For the knowing, sincere editorial on William Milnes Maloy—surely written by one who knew him well—deep thanks from his legion of friends. We who knew him, mourn him. And so should the whole town.

"Pat" Maloy has passed. But his memory will be eternal because he endowed our town with a great richness: a large company of young men inspired by his gracious spirit; by the lofty ideals of his untrammelled mind; by his honesty of purpose.

Many men, in passing, leave behind much material wealth. But "Pat" Maloy has enriched our town for all time with something more valuable: he inspired its youth!

SIDNEY FRIEDMAN.

Baltimore, Aug. 18.

' The Ober Law Decision

TO THE EDITOR OF THE SUN—Sir: I am very pleased that Judge Sherbrow had the courage to declare unconstitutional the Fascist-like, thought-control Ober bill. . . . The people of Maryland can feel proud that one of their judges took the first decisive step to stifle the growing menace of "legal" fascism.

A vote of thanks is also due The Sun for the full, objective coverage given this controversial issue. I believe that if the same full coverage is given to the Mundt-Ferguson bill (the Ober bill on a national scale). The Sun can be very instrumental in arousing the people of Maryland to further defend themselves against the attempted encroachment on their civil liberties. . . .

CHESTER COHEN.

Baltimore, Aug. 18.

Readers Will Be Shocked

TO THE EDITOR OF THE SUN—Sir: Your readers who love cats and, in addition to caring for their personal pets, regularly set out food and fresh water for the neighborhood strays, will be shocked to learn that approximately 10,500,000 American cats are uncared for and unwanted by indifferent, unconcerned and apathetic persons.

ROBERT LOTHAR KENDALL,
President, the American Feline Society, Inc., New York.
New York, Aug. 17.