

THE members of the graduating class of Bryn Mawr School were guests of honor at a banquet given last evening at Montebello, the country estate used by the school, the hosts being the seventh class, of which Miss Sarah Johnston is president. The faculty of the school and the members of the sixth class were also included in the invitations for the banquet. Miss Johnston was toastmaster, and the sixth class furnished a musical program.

The senior class includes Miss Frances Bliss, Miss Eleanor Brush, Miss Josephine Fisher, Miss Harriet Gibbs, Miss Dorothy Hearn, Miss Dorothy Benson, Miss Mabel Holland, Miss Carr Iglehart, Miss Octavia Howard, Miss Eleanor Janeway, Miss Marjorie Ober, Miss Madeline Bumgarner and Miss Dorsey Shreve.

The sixth class is composed of Miss Ottolie Wickes, Miss Elizabeth Phelps, Miss Mary Clegg, Miss Eleanor Tilden, Miss Anne Williams, Miss Aileen de la Tour Clark, Miss Katharine Van Bibber, Miss Anne Kirk, Miss Louise Kirk, Miss Phoebe McDowell, Miss Mary Marshall, Miss Elizabeth Duffy, Miss Elizabeth Guffey, Miss Ethel Carrington, Miss Isabelle Blogg and Miss Katharine Lalor.

The members of the seventh class are Miss Eleanor Kinsolving, Miss Ida Lee Spence, Miss Sarah Thomas, Miss Elizabeth Tabb, Miss Frances Young, Miss Eleanor Gibson, Miss Eleanor Evans, Miss Gayle Reese, Miss Margaret Carey, Miss Juliet Iglehart, Miss Margaret Wehr, Miss Mary Grimes, Miss Dorothea Smith, Miss Margaret McEvoy, Miss Phyllis Fechtig and Miss Virginia Pierce.

The commencement exercises will be held at 5 o'clock this afternoon at the school, and the graduates have requested that no flowers be sent this year on account of war conditions. The awarding of the Bryn Mawr College scholarship will be one of the interesting features of the exercises. Dean Andrew Fleming West, of Princeton University, will speak, his subject to be "Our Need of the Classics."

Miss M. Carey Thomas, president of Bryn Mawr College, will attend the exercises and deliver the diplomas.
