

BRYN MAWR FINALS HELD

Miss Madeline Baumgartner Wins College Fellowship.

The commencement exercises at Bryn Mawr School yesterday afternoon were marked by extreme simplicity in accord with war-time economy. Miss M. Carey Thomas, president of Bryn Mawr, gave an informal talk to the graduates, and Dean Andrew Fleming West, of Princeton University, made the principal address, his subject being "Our Need of the Classics."

The members of the graduating class wore simple white frocks and received no flowers, in accord with their request. They carried baskets filled with daisies, yellow and white being the school colors.

The graduates were Miss Josephine Fisher, Miss Octavia Howard, Miss Eleanor Brush, Miss Frances Bliss, Miss Carr Iglehart, Miss Harriet Gibbs, Miss Marjorie Ober, Miss Dorothy Hearn, Miss Mabel Holland, Miss Dorothy Benson, Miss Mabel Baumgarner, Miss Dorsey Shreve and Miss Eleanor Janeway.

The invocation was delivered by the Rev. Dr. John McDowell, pastor of Brown Memorial Presbyterian Church.

Miss Madeline Baumgartner received the Bryn Mawr College Fellowship and Miss Josephine Fisher and Miss Octavia Howard received honorable mention.

The school scholarships awarded annually by the Bryn Mawr Alumnae were won by Miss Eleanor Kinsolving and Miss Katherine Van Bibber.

The sixth class was awarded the reading prize, and gymnasium cups were given the seventh and eighth classes in the main school and to the fourth class in the primary department.

Miss Anne Kirk lead the singing of the school song and the exercises were concluded by the singing of "The Star-Spangled Banner." This was followed by a reception in the school gardens, and refreshments were served in a marquee adjoining the tennis court.

At Bryn Mawr College commencement Thursday a number of Maryland girls received honors. Miss Alida Haupt, daughter of Dr. Paul Haupt, of Johns Hopkins University, received the degree of Master of Arts, and Miss Louise Tunstall Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tunstall Smith; Miss Margaret Mall, daughter of Mrs. Franklin Mall, and Miss Charlotte Teresa Howell received their Bachelor degrees.

The James E. Rhoads Junior scholarship was won by Miss Arline F. Preston, of Fallston, Md., and the special junior scholarship was awarded to Miss Mary Louise Mall.