

Q. Someone was sitting on the porch with you and someone on the porch next door? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you look up and down the street to see who was sitting on the porch? A. I glanced around and saw, as usual, some on their porches. I didn't pay special attention to who they were.

Q. Are you sure that you were there, Mollie, between eleven and twelve o'clock? A. Yes, sir; I am positive of it. I went there about half past nine o'clock and was there until half past twelve or quarter to one o'clock. I was there all that time and didn't go inside at all.

(No cross-examination.)

(Examination concluded.)

MARY MACKALL, a witness of lawful age, being produced on behalf of the defense and duly sworn, testified as follows:

DIRECT EXAMINATION.

Q. (By Mr. Brady): Your name is Mary Mackall? A. Yes, sir.

Q. You live in Annapolis? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Where? A. No, 103 Clay street.

Q. Are you married? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Do you live with your husband? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Do you know Mary Perkins? A. Yes, sir.

(Mr. Green): I object to this witness being recalled to the stand. She was on the stand and they had an opportunity to examine her. I don't think this witness should be allowed to testify now.

(Mr. Brady): There was some misunderstanding as to what time it was. I spoke to her again and she told me what time it was.

(Mr. Grason): When this witness stepped from the stand yesterday afternoon, I thought there was some confusion in her mind. I immediately went to her and asked her what she knew, and then she told me what she knew in reference to the conversation that she heard on Second street at the time referred to, about the statement made by Mary Perkins; and I want to ask her about that statement that Mary Perkins made at that time.

(The Court): Foundations were laid for conversations with Rev. Williams, Catherine Brown, Mary Mackall and Edith Creditt when the witness was on the stand, but only one time when Rev. Williams was present.

(Mr. Grason): No, sir; I don't think so. Rev. Williams was there on the evening that the body was discovered, and Mary Perkins made certain statements to her, and I was to ask her what statements were made then.

(The Court): No foundation was laid for that, and I sustain the objection.

(Witness withdrawn.)
