

SOLOMON GROVES. As the solicitation of many Voters, offers himself as a Candidate to represent Anne-Arundel county in the next General Assembly.

CANDIDATES. For Electors of Senate. For Anne-Arundel County—William H. Marriott, Horatio Kidout, and Rezin Estey.

ELECTORAL CANDIDATES. We are authorised to state that THOMAS T. SUMMERVELL has consented to serve, (if elected,) as an Elector of the Senate for the State for Prince George's county.

To the Voters of Prince-George's county.

I offer myself as a candidate for the office of an Elector of the Senate of this State at the ensuing election. I am friendly to General ANDREW JACKSON, the man of the people's choice, and if elected, will do every thing in my power to promote his election as the next President.

JOHN B. BROOKE. Upper Marlborough, Aug. 16, 1826.

You are authorised to announce Dr. WASHINGTON DUVALL, as a candidate for an Elector of the Senate of Maryland for Montgomery county. This gentleman who has represented the county two years in the Legislature, disclaims being considered a candidate on party grounds, as he is determined, should he receive a plurality of votes, to vote for a liberal senate, without reference to political motives.

FIRE!!!—The Kitchen of the Banking House in Upper-Marlborough took fire on Tuesday night last, and was entirely consumed. The house also is injured, but no loss of papers, books or money. The house is insured, and the whole damage may be estimated at 1,200 dollars.

THE ATLANTIC & PACIFIC. On the 18th of May, Mr. John Williams, Charge d'Affaires of this country, was presented to Don Manuel Jose Arce, President of the Republic of Central America. On reading the address delivered by Mr. Williams on this occasion, and the reply of the President, we observe in the latter, the following notice of the contemplated union of the waters of the Pacific and Atlantic, by a canal to pass thro' Guatemala, near Lake Nicaragua:

"The first authorities of the Republic are occupied with bringing to a point the enterprise of connecting the two seas by the Lake of Nicaragua. Probabilities promise the realization of their project; and the advantages of this great work will result in the benefit of all the commercial powers of the globe, while it will constitute a new link of fraternity and union between all the sections of the American continent and this Republic. She does not limit her wishes to her own felicity—she extends them to all other nations; and on this occasion she makes very sincere ones for the aggrandizement and prosperity of the United States of the North."

RAIN AT THE EASTWARD. The papers from the eastward notice the fall of a very heavy and excessive rain. At Salem, (Mass) it rained almost incessantly, from noon of Thursday, the 10th instant, until Monday the 14th, during which time, the quantity of rain that fell in that town, was 8 inches and 7-10ths, as measured with an accurate gauge. There was at the same time, a heavy rain at New Bedford, Boston and Providence. At the two last mentioned places it caused considerable damage, by filling the cellars with water and breaking and washing away the streets. So serious were the consequences in Boston, that a town meeting was called, and $2,000 voted to repair the streets only.

TENNESSEE BANKS. The Banks of Tennessee have within a short time past resumed the payment of specie for their bills.

A LONG TOAST. The following toast was given by a Mr. John Widgery, at the last 4th of July celebration in Portland, Me. "The virtuous fair and accomplished daughters of Columbia—Born in the land of happy destiny, rocked in the cradle of liberty, educated in the unbounded freedom of intellectual inquiry, roaming in the garden of genius and the graces, she gathers from its imperishable verdure, the fruits of refinement; on which she banquets in literary luxury. Calling the flowers of wit, of mirth and of sentiment, she encircles her brow with the chaplet, and stands arrayed in all the majesty of moral beauty—that brow arched by heavenly promises, that smile the palfrey of present bliss; the harbinger of future glory. Presented us by Heaven's high behest, as the redeeming spirit of humanity, she must cause the heart and ear of every honest man to glow as to overflow with gratitude and love."

OBITUARY.

Died, at his residence in this county, on Tuesday morning last, Mr. NICHOLAS WATKINS, of Thos. He has left a widow and several children to lament the death of an affectionate husband and parent.

COMMUNICATED. "Quis desideria sit pudor, aut modus 'Tum cari capitis?'—Hor.

It has become the painful duty of a friend, who knew him long, and loved him dearly, to announce the death of ADDISON RIDOUT. He departed this life in the early part of the present month, at the Sulphur Springs, Monroe county, Virginia, to which he had repaired, in the hope of reestablishing his health, which had long suffered, under the pressure of that lingering and fallacious disease, consumption. At the period of his death he had attained to the age of about 31 years. His life, though short and transient, was full of interest, usefulness, and respectability. He was educated at St. John's College in his native city, and while a student there, manifested the germs of those talents, which subsequently expanded in rich and blooming luxuriance. Having devoted himself to the profession of the Law, he pursued his studies with unremitting ardour and zeal. After reading in this city, under the direction of a judicious friend, the elementary books of his profession, he went to Litchfield, in Connecticut, where he remained a considerable time, in attendance upon the Law Lectures, delivered by Judge Reeve of that state. These favourable circumstances excited hopes on the part of his friends, that he would one day become distinguished in the profession which he had adopted—nor were these hopes disappointed. His diligent attention to business, his reputation for talents, and legal acquirements, and his devotion to the interests of his clients, soon acquired for him a very considerable portion of practice. As soon as he entered into the active duties of his profession, his reputation and his business were constantly increasing; and it may, without indulging in too partial an estimate of his character, be confidently believed, that had his life been prolonged to a more mature period, he would have attained to the foremost rank of his profession. At the election of October 1825, he was chosen a delegate to represent this city in the General Assembly. His feeble state of health prevented his taking an active part in the deliberations of that body—but notwithstanding this inauspicious circumstance, and the short period which he was able to attend the sittings, of the house, he acquired by his speeches, and his writings, a celebrity and distinction, which have seldom been obtained by those of equal age. But distinguished as was the deceased, for his legal and literary attainments, useful as he was in the community, in which he lived, it is in the more quiet and tranquil scenes of domestic and social life, in which his friends and relatives will best love to contemplate him. Rarely has there been occasion to shed the tear of sorrow, over greater worth, than that which characterized the deceased. As a son he was obedient, grateful and affectionate—as a brother, he was endeared by every amiable, kind, and generous feeling—as a friend he was cordial, ardent and disinterested. He was a Christian—the doctrines and precepts of the Gospel, were early impressed upon his mind, by the solicitude of a pious parent, and they approved themselves to his understanding, in his maturer years. His mortal remains have returned unto the dust, and his immortal spirit, it is humbly hoped, has ascended to the God who gave it. This feeble tribute is offered by one who knew his virtues, but knows not how to tell of them.

MEETING OF THE BAR.

At a meeting of the members of the Annapolis Bar, the Register of the Court of Chancery, and the Clerk and Sheriff of Anne-Arundel county, Alexander C. Magruder, Esq. being called to the chair, and William H. Marriott, Esquire, appointed Secretary, the following resolutions were unanimously adopted: The melancholy intelligence of the death of our professional brother and friend, ADDISON RIDOUT, demanding of us a just, voluntary, and public manifestation, of our esteem and regard for the memory of the deceased, our deep sense of his loss, and the high estimation in which we held him in life: Resolved therefore, That the loss of such a man, both as a member of society, and of the profession which he pursued with honour to himself, and usefulness to the community, is to be deeply lamented. Resolved, That as a testimonial of our affectionate remembrance of the virtues of the deceased, and the fond, though melancholy recollections of what he was, we will wear crapes on the left arm for the term of thirty days. Resolved, That the proceedings of this meeting, attested by the Chairman and Secretary, be published in the Maryland Gazette, and Maryland Republican.

ALEX. C. MAGRUDER, Chairman. W. H. MARRIOTT, Secretary.

POSTSCRIPT.

There were 44 deaths in Baltimore, during the week ending on Monday last.

MELANCHOLY ACCIDENT.

It becomes our painful duty to note an unfortunate event that occurred on Monday evening last, being another evidence of the danger attendant upon an attempt to leave a carriage while furiously drawn by an unmanageable horse. Miss MATILDA BREVITT, second daughter of Dr. J. Brevitt, while on a visit to a friend in the country, was induced, last evening about 6 o'clock, to visit a camp meeting held in the neighbourhood, on returning from which, the horse that drew the carriage all became frightened and dashed rapidly along—Miss Brevitt becoming alarmed, sprang from the carriage and was instantly killed! The young lady in company was also seriously injured in the like attempt. Thus has society been deprived of an amiable and interesting female, and her parents of an affectionate and beloved child, justly endeared to them by her virtues. The young man who drove the horse, escaped with trifling injury. Balt. Pat.

Engagement between the Greek Pirates and the crew of the English frigate Sybille.

Mr. Topliff of Merchants' Hall, Boston, writes to the editors of the New York Gazette, that he has been favoured by Capt. Williams of the brig Sultana, with a Malta paper of the 28th of June, containing the particulars of the dislodgement of a nest of Greek pirates at the Island of Candia, by the English frigate Sybille, Capt. Pechelle, in which the frigate sustained a loss of a Lieut. and 17 men killed, a Lieut. 2 midshipmen and 24 men wounded. On the part of the pirates, the account says: "Two of the mystics were sunk and the other two disabled, and the destruction of the people on shore, from the guns of the Sybille, must have been very considerable, as the Island was strewn with their bodies and muskets." The account further states, on the arrival of the frigate off the Island, "Here was discovered a complete nest of these robbers, and so well were they prepared for defence, that upwards of 200 armed men were seen behind a stone breastwork, ready to repel any attack."

Latest from Europe.

The ship Marmion, at Philadelphia from Liverpool, brings Liverpool papers to the 22d and London to the 20th July, inclusive. It was reported that Constantinople was IN FLAMES on the 24th June; but the Paris Etoile, of the 18th July, questions the truth of the report.

A low contagious fever which had prevailed in Dublin for two months, had lately had a very considerable increase. Its general prevalence is attributed to the filthiness of the city.

It is reported that Ld. Cochrane has been assured by the British Government, that it would not concern itself with his proceedings, if he did not enter an English port.

It is affirmed that the Holy Alliance mean to defer the promulgation of the Portuguese Constitution, till the Governments have time to make representations to the Emperor, Don Pedro.

The accounts from Constantinople are still of a doubtful character. The city presented a scene of devastation, all the palaces of the grandees having been pillaged. The Sultan was encamped under the protection of the banner of the Prophet, surrounded by his partizans. The firm conduct of the Sultan has induced many of his former opponents to make cause with him; but it is still admitted, even by those most anxious for his success, that no certain opinion can as yet be formed concerning the ultimate result of the bold measures which he has taken.

In the commencement of the struggle, none of the foreign, but English Ambassador, could procure a courier to convey the intelligence of the insurrection to their respective governments. It is added that 5,000 Janissaries have fallen by the hands of the bostandjis. In the meantime, it appears by the accounts from Corfu, that the insurrectionary spirit has extended itself to Albania, and even to the Mahomedan inhabitants occupying the lofty chain of Pindus, &c. but this revolt could have no connexion with that of Constantinople. The Turks of Castoria, it appears, were so enraged at the intelligence, that they murdered the Archbishop and a great number of peaceable Christians; demolished and burnt the churches; attacked and destroyed San Marina, and after being defeated by the Christians, they turned their rage against the town of Ahaselitzza, which they burnt, as well as several Turkish villages in that country. Similar accounts are given from Uchrida and Scodra.

ISLES OF THE ARCHIPELAGO.

Syra, June 5. "Ibrahim traverses in a conquering march the whole of Peloponessus, without finding any where the least resistance. After having divided his army into 3 columns, he directed one upon Megapelea—a convent fortified by art and nature, in which is deposited the wealth of the principal families in the Morea. The Arabians made themselves masters of it, after having taken a great number of prisoners. The other column marched upon Mistra, where it encountered no opposition.—The Greeks fly on all hands. Those of the province of Zaconia could only find safety in escaping on board the Spezziot ships.

"Ibrahim has gone to Parthem, in order to march thence on Corinth or Napoli di Romania. In this latter place, Colocotroni is opposed to the Roumelioti, who possess the fortress of Palomide. The government is likewise divided into two factions.

"The measures taken by the Hydriots and Spezzioti are contradictory. The latter, because their ships can receive their whole population, are ready to fly. The Hydriots on the contrary, are obliged to remain on the island, the inhabitants of which could not be received on board their ships. By this defection of the Spezzioti, the little courage which remains to the Greeks will be extinguished.

"All the Egyptian squadron is anchored before Navarino, where it expects the Captain Pacha.

"The English corvette, the Rose, encountered on the 29th of May, two Turkish frigates coming from the Dardanelles, and proceeding to the Echelle Neuve.

"The English Colonel Gordon, it is said, had arrived at Napoli di Romania, with money and two cargoes of provisions. Forty families, flying from Azacaria, and repulsed from Hydra, have been refused landing at Cerigo, till they could give, according to the order of the English Government, the guarantees, required from emigrants. The inhabitants of Senidhi have experienced the same lot. Many of the latter have perished in flying to their boats. Syra is tranquil, but at the departure of the squadron, the armed force will proceed to Hydra, and Leyra will thus be abandoned to the mercy of the brigands.

"There has arrived at Hydra, a Dutch ship loaded with warlike stores, sent by the Dutch committee.

Distress in England & Ireland.

MANCHESTER, Tuesday, July 18. I am sorry to inform you that the calm which seemed to pervade the vicinity of this town was rather of an illusory description. The scattered groupes which were observed yesterday in our streets, apparently condoling with each other on the wretchedness of their prospects, seemed to have concerted together some new measures.

Notwithstanding the excellent precautionary means adopted by the magistracy within these few days back, the feelings of the populace, both of Manchester, and of several of the adjacent towns, this day assumed a more decided tone. About 11 o'clock, hustings were erected on the field of "Peterloo," and a mob of between 12 and 15,000 persons of every description, and of both sexes, many of whom were armed with pikes and staves, not a few of which doubtless had lain in their rust since the never-to-be-forgotten "Battle of Peterloo." The usual topics were attempted to be discussed by one or two speechifiers, but a party of the Queen's Bays made its appearance, and the mob quietly dispersed.

The disaffected are chiefly composed of persons from Macclesfield and Chorley, a Mr. Wood, of the latter place, an extensive manufacturer and an encourager of the power-loom has been marked out by the rioters, and on Monday the whole of his extensive works were completely destroyed.

LIVERPOOL, July 22.

It is with sensations of the deepest sorrow we have to reiterate our former statements relative to the distress which in an unparalleled degree pervades the manufacturing districts of this and the adjoining counties.

Accounts daily reach us of the increased misery of the working classes, occasioned by the manufacturers generally being compelled to abridge their hours of labour, and even then only to employ a portion of the manufacturing population.

IRELAND.

From the Freeman's Journal. THE LIBERTY WEAVERS.

These unfortunate people, to the number of about 200, assembled on Monday on the banks of the Canal, near Leeson street, and thence proceeded in mournful procession along Leeson st. Stephen's green, Grafton st, and Dame st to the Royal Exchange. When arrived opposite the Head Police office, the attendance of some of the overseers was required before the Magistrates; with this they immediately complied, and having stated the object for which they had assembled, they pledged themselves, for their body, that the peace should not be broken.—They then proceeded to the Exchange, and presented a memorial to the Committee then sitting, requesting that the proposed reduction might not be made in their wages, but that 1s per day might be continued to them while the funds lasted. The poor people remained without the Exchange in patient expectation of the decision until six o'clock, when they dispersed peacefully. We have not learned that any positive answer was given to them.

We never saw a more melancholy picture than these poor people presented, with their care worn countenances and emaciated figures; nor can there be any where a more deplorable sight than that of a people willing and able to employ themselves, and yet unable to procure employment.

LATEST FROM COLOMBIA.

Captain Southcomb, of the schooner Alisanna, at this port on Monday, in 17 days from La Guayra, reports that at the time of his sailing, business was completely suspended, and that no articles but necessaries of life would sell, General Paez was at Valencia with eight to ten thousand men, and the streets of Caracas and La Guayra were daily patrolled to add to his army. General Bermudez was at Cumana with an army of equal force, prepared to oppose the movements of General P. A British frigate was lying at La Guayra to protect the British merchants in case of need.

Baltimore Patriot.

Extract of a letter to the editor of the Baltimore Gazette, dated

"Laguira, July 29th, 1826.

"Paez has left Caracas for the Plains of Apure, with what object is not known; however, as yet, matters remain tranquil. We have no complaints to make except the entire want of confidence in the commercial community, and the scarcity of money.

In Chancery,

Aug. 15, 1826. Richard Harwood of Thos. Henry II. Harwood, Joseph Harwood, and others, some of the heirs of Benjamin Harwood, ag't. Benjamin Harwood, Margaret Harwood, Anne Elizabeth Williams, and others, the residue of the heirs of Benjamin Harwood.

The object of the bill is to obtain a decree for the sale of the Real Estate of the late Benjamin Harwood of the city of Annapolis. The bill states, that the said Benjamin Harwood died intestate, and seized in fee of sundry tracts and lots of land in Anne-Arundel and Allegany counties, that he left no issue; that the complainants and defendants are children and descendants of the brothers and sisters of the said Benjamin Harwood, (all of whom are dead,) and his heirs at law. The bill further states, that the following defendants named in the said bill, to wit: Benjamin Harwood, Margaret Harwood, Anne Elizabeth Williams, William Belt Harwood, Matilda G. Harwood, Maria Louisa Harwood, Samuel Middleton Harwood, Mary Eleanor Harwood, Caroline Virginia Harwood, Mary Harwood, Ellen Harwood, and Levin Harwood, live out of the state of Maryland.

It is thereupon ordered and adjudged, that the complainant by causing a copy of this order to be inserted in some newspaper published in the city of Annapolis, once in each of three successive weeks, before the 15th day of September next, give notice to the said nonresident defendants, to be and appear in this court, in person or by a solicitor, on or before the 15th day of January next, to shew cause, if any they have, wherefore a decree should not be passed as prayed.
