

CLAIM WOMEN BACK DRY LAW

Wet Advocates Seek To Cross-Question Witnesses.

Washington, March 12 (AP)—Friends of prohibition placed before the House Judiciary committee today the view that the womanhood of America was lined up in solid support of the Eighteenth amendment and was prepared both now and at any time to combat moves looking toward its repeal.

Near the outset the group of women were given authority to present their prepared testimony without interruption. This decision was reached after a sharp verbal clash precipitated by wet members who sought to cross-examine. The committee, however, deferred interrogation until the women had concluded the statements they had drafted.

Mrs. Henry W. Peabody, of Beverly, Mass., chairman of the Woman's National Committee for Law Enforcement, took charge of the witnesses who argued that the veto had failed to provide a "workable solution" in view of the dry statutes were repealed. Further, they contended the anti-prohibitionists had shifted responsibility in this regard by saying they left the solution to Congress.

The women took the stand in rapid order. They supported their case by presenting statements from Mrs. Henry Ford and Mrs. Thomas A. Edison. Both the Detroit manufacturer and the inventor have been recorded as favoring retention of the Eighteenth amendment and its supporting laws.

The women witnesses were drawn from a wide field. Some were prominent in club and social circles while others spoke as chairmen of nationally known women's organizations.

Mrs. Vic Donahay, wife of the former Governor of Ohio; Mrs. Orrin R. Judd, president of the Council of Women for Home Missions; Mrs. Jesse W. Nicholson, of Chevy Chase, Md., president of the National Woman's Democratic Law Enforcement League; and Mrs. John P. Sippel, of Baltimore, president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, were among those recorded as supporters of the dry law.

Sure Enough!
We all have ailments of our own and none in this are quite alone.
It may be trouble with the arches, or bad effects of too much starches, or weakened eyes or crooked nose or aching cramps upon the toes, or sour stomach, sluggish heart or pains about the apple cart, or fractured skulls or broken shins or nerves that quake or head that spins, or one or more of many ills including aching ears and chills!

So here is comfort for us all—some ills are great and others small—but every mortal, here or there is bound to get a certain share.

First Man At Scene.
Leo Bowler, railroad switchman, heard the crash and was at the scene a few minutes later. He testified that he did not see either Cain or Smallwood at the place of the accident.

H. S. Bickel, who assisted the injured man, and several young men from Knoxville also hurried to the place. Justice Alton Z. Bennett, coroner in the case, told the circumstances of the inquest which took place, and Sergt. J. J. Cassidy of the State Police, now stationed at Cumberland, related his investigation the night after the accident. He told of the absence of sick marks, and of the finding of a bottle containing liquor on an embankment beside the culvert.

FIVE YEARS AGO TODAY IN FREDERICK

(Items from the columns of The Post, March 13, 1925.)
One of the largest farm sales of the season in the L. C. Powell farm, near Walkersville, totalled $5,700.

Frederick county yielded a fifth of the total automobile fines collected through the counties of the state during the week ending March 11.

Road improvement work in this county by the State Roads Commission is now well-underway, having been started some time ago with construction work in the northern and southern sections.

The fifth annual concert by the Frederick high school band was given in the auditorium before about 500 people.

A pilgrimage to the Odd Fellows Home, north of this city, when completed is being planned for the future. Lodges from all sections of the state will join in the pilgrimage.

Razing Smith Property.
The eight-room brick house at the corner of West Second and Court streets, which was recently purchased by the Mayor and Aldermen from Mrs. John Francis Smith for the city street widening program, has begun to fall before workmen, who are rapidly razing it in charge of George C. Currier. About three weeks, after which time the space will be cleared, preparatory to the widening of North Court street, now known as Klinehar's alley.

SICK
Charles W. Summers, Quincey, Pa., was taken ill with appendicitis Wednesday, March 5, while on a visit to Mr. and Mrs. Lorenzo Miller, of Myersville. He was operated on at the Frederick City Hospital, Thursday and is doing as well as can be expected.

The condition of Mrs. Guy Bell, Buckeystown, who has been sick for the past eight weeks, is much improved.

Mrs. Lester Barns, who has been sick at the home of her parents, Nabant, Mass., has recently returned to Buckeystown and is much improved.

Mr. Louis C. Echolson, Jefferson, who was operated upon at the Frederick City Hospital Wednesday morning, is getting along nicely. He returned the hospital Tuesday.

Reports that a small forest fire had started in Catoctin Mountain Tuesday morning and was subsequently extinguished by the rain were found to be incorrect Wednesday upon investigation by Warden C. Cyril Kiffin. It developed that a fire line was being cut around the property in question and the fire was under constant supervision while in progress.
