CITY HOTEL.

That Well Known Establishment, the

Union Tavern & City Hotel,

Formerly kept by George Mann, in the City of Annapolis, has lately been purchased, and is now occupied by

JAMES WILLIAMSON,

Who has opened a large and commodious TAVERN, where Boarders and Travellers will receive the most unremitted attention, and the best of every thing which the seasons afford.

Those who formerly favoured him with their custom, may be assured that every exertion will be made, and his personal aid given, to render them perfectly satisfied, and he invites those who have never witnessed his desire to please to give him a call, confident that if they do so once, they will repeat the visit whenever opportunity offers.

The Best Liquors, and fare of every kind, that can be procured, shall be offered to his customers, and the greatest attention paid to and care taken of their horses. He therefore solicits public patronage.

LANDS FOR SALE

OF GOOD QUALITY

In the neighbourhood of Annapolis, consisting of the

RISING SUN FARM

Formerly a Tavern—the house being formerly held by Edward Dale—and also adjoining the Body of Water lands, known by the name of Rattlesnake Hills, containing together upwards of 500 acres. These lands have not all been enclosed, by a good fence, much improved by plaster and clover which operate with very great effect. The soil is generally of a red loam, is susceptible of great fertility by cultivation—best of tobacco is made in the neighbourhood especially on part of this quality. There have been improvements added to the house, many other conveniences erected, it has been in the hands of the present possessors.

A credit of one, two and three years will be given to the purchasers, on all but one fourth of the purchase money down, and annual interest on the credit paid portions.

Also for sale the Land formerly held by Henry H. Brown, called "Prospect Plains," containing about 270 acres, on which Mr. Welch now resides, upon certain covenants. This land is advantageously situated on the bank of the Severn, with a most convenient landing on Plum Creek, is adapted to Plaster, and yields Tobacco of superior quality. This tract will be sold on the same terms of payment as the preceding ones—and if the whole be not sold by private contract before the first Monday in October next, they will then on that day, at 10 o'clock, be sold by public Vendue at the Rising Sun tavern. Apply for particulars to Mr. John Polland on the premises, to Mr. John Sands in Annapolis, or to the Subscribers in Baltimore.

I also offer for sale the land called on the river Patapsco and the Bay containing upwards of 1100 acres. This land is held by tenants under certain covenants yielding $700 a year. A part of it has commodious dwellings on it, and is in a high state of improvement—The supply of manure by oysters from the Bay, is beyond all the wants of the land. There is an abundance of deer and wild turkey on the land, and a great portion of it is in woods of second and original growth in the vicinity to Baltimore; its fisheries and other circumstances independent of its value as a farm, give it great advantages.

I will also sell all the lands that are known by the name of 'The Contention and Howard's Fancy,' lately held by Major T. Dorsey and Mr Yeald, adjoining the Blackhorse tavern, 10 miles from Annapolis. They contain together, about 600 acres, and constitute one of the first positions for a town of any location in that section of the country.

The quality of the soil is a red loam similar to the best lands on West River. Plaster and clover will in one year produce great fertility, and wheat may be raised on it, yielding a great crop, as may be seen by the crops within the neighbourhood on lands of similar quality. There are the best natural meadows on this farm, of any in the neighbourhood. A long credit will be given to the purchaser for the greatest part of the money. Apply to Mr John Sands in Annapolis, or the subscribers in Baltimore.

LATE FROM ENGLAND.

By the arrival of the fast sailing brig Hero Oak, capt. Fowler, in the short passage of 22 days from Liverpool, we have received London papers of the 2d, and Liverpool of the 4th inst.

By Paris journals received in London, it appears that the Duchess de Berri has been delivered of a prince. "Moniteur, (says the Courier) announces this auspicious event as follows: Five o'clock, AM. Sept. 2. We stop the press. The cannon resounds. Her Royal Highness the Duchess de Berri is happily delivered of a prince.—The Gazette de France adds: The mother and child are doing favourably."

Among other articles of minor importance the papers state that the celebrated Count Bergami arrived yesterday morning (the 5th Sept.) in this capital, alighted in the Rue de la Paix, took horses, and set out immediately afterwards for Calais." They state that his sister the "Countess Oldi, had passed through Paris on her way to London, accompanied by a physician."

It has appeared, notwithstanding all the statements of the ministerial journals to the contrary, that Bergami, and his sister are under no apprehensions of danger from violence in the metropolis, and that the Queen and her advisers intend bringing them forward as witnesses in her behalf. The most active measures are taking to facilitate the arrival of evidence from all quarters, previously to entering upon her defence; and it is stated in the London Observer of the 3d inst. that the Queen herself enjoys most excellent spirits, being fully confident of an honourable triumph over her enemies.

Addresses continue to pour in from the most remote parts of the kingdom; and it may be considered remarkable, as it is certainly highly complimentary to Her Majesty, many of these addresses come from places that were never before known to take a single step which had the least appearance of opposition to the king or his ministers. The Courier continues the witnesses at the Queen, and the witnesses which have arrived in London to give testimony in her behalf, if that should be thought necessary.—"The day of reckoning, however, is fast approaching, when it will be seen who have the best right to condemn each others crimes—the Sovereign, or his much persecuted, and much adored wife.

Mr. Alderman Thorpe has been chosen Lord Mayor of London.

An attack has been made by the populace on the Oxford Herald Office, by which the windows were broken. The alleged cause was the hostility shown by the Herald to the cause of the Queen.

A chemist at Paris has invented a soap for the beard, which will take it off without the use of a razor!!

A government order has been issued in Berlin for shutting up the lodges of free masons. It is thought this measure will be adopted throughout all the states of Germany. It has excited much surprise in Prussia, where the free masons have hitherto been protected by the government.

We have again from authority, that there is no foundation whatever for the assertion, that several sail of the line, with 40 frigates and other ships to carry troops, are fitting out for an expedition.—Courier.

It appears by letters from Malta, which have been inspected, that the British merchants in Sicily continued to be greatly apprehensive for the safety of their persons and property, and had applied to the Governor at Malta for British ships to protect them. The following is an extract from one of them:

"Malta, Aug. 27.

"At present all is anarchy and confusion in Sicily, moveable property is considered to be very unsafe by British merchants, who are in great alarm, and applications have been made to the government of this island for vessels of war to anchor off Palermo and Messina, to afford protection in case of need. Several individuals have embarked their property in ships along the coast. I still hope that the Sicilians will succeed in their struggle for liberty."

Private accounts have been received from Rio Janeiro, dated Aug. 1. They are of rather an important nature, inasmuch as they lead to the belief that the Brazils are by no means in a settled state, and that it is not improbable the revolution in Portugal will extend itself across the Atlantic.—Letters from Bahia, Pernambuco, and other southern ports of the Brazils, from houses of the first respectability, are written evidently under the apprehension of some important event, and it is even more than suspected, that the projected revolution in Portugal was known in the Brazils so early as June last. The communications to which we refer are written in a very guarded manner. The writer of one from Bahia does not venture to say more than express his wish that the British government would despatch a naval force to the Brazils, which might, on an emergency, afford protection to British subjects and their property.—Should the example of the inhabitants of Oporto be followed by the Brazilians, revolution will first manifest itself in the Northern Provinces.

The Queen had not intimated any desire to attend in the house of Lords during the progress of her defence.

It appears, by the language of the Emperor Alexander, in his speech at the opening of the Polish diet, on the 13th Sept. that the recent changes in Spain, Naples and Portugal, are mentioned at St. Petersburg with no friendly eye. The progress of the revolution is ascribed to the "spirit of war" in one part of Europe, and the keeping of crimes and convulsions on each other.

Mr. Smith, long assistant secretary to the navy board of England, is appointed secretary in the place of Mr. Nelson deceased.

It is certain, says a Paris paper of the 1st, that the bankers of this city have refused with Hope of Holland, to negociate a loan for the Spanish government, said that the contract is concluded one of the principle signing firm of Ardoin, Hubart, & C.
