

U. S. ...
rison is pastor of a church in Baltimore county and one of the editors of the Presbyterian Weekly, and Mr. Spence is a prominent and influential merchant of this city.

Funeral of Rev. John N. McJilton.—The funeral of Rev. John N. McJilton, who died in New York city, on Tuesday last, took place at Christ Church, corner of Chase and St. Paul streets, yesterday afternoon. The remains reached Baltimore shortly before three o'clock, and were conveyed to the church, where a number of the old friends of the deceased were assembled. The services at the church were conducted by Rev. George A. Leakin, pastor of Trinity Protestant Episcopal Church, the choir of Christ Church singing the funeral anthem. The remains were conveyed to Greenmount for interment, Maryland Commandery, No. 1, acting as escort. The following were pall-bearers: J. Young Boyle, Andrew Hunter, J. C. Cross, J. Kaskinco Parker, R. E. Hook, A. H. Robertson, D. A. Woodward, and James Towles. At the grave the Masonic burial service was read by Eminent Commander H. L. Emmons, Jr.

Sale of a Baltimore Vessel—A Long and Successful Career.—Hugh Jenkins & Sons have sold