THE SENTINEL.

ROCKVILLE, MD.

Friday Morning.....March 9, 1866.

The Mass Meeting.

A very large and enthusiastic meeting of the people of this county, called for the purpose of endorsing the course of President JOHNSON, was held at the Fair Ground, near this place, on Saturday, the 3rd instant.

The notice published to which the meeting was held was only partially circulated through the county, owing to the lack of time, but the way the sterling and substantial citizens came throughout into town was convincing proof that they felt and thought alike upon the issue involved. It was much the largest meeting held here for many years.

The meeting was called to order by W. W. BOWIE, Esq., and the following officers, selected from all former political parties, nominated and unanimously elected, viz:

Chairman.—FRANCIS C. CLOPPER, Esq.

Vice Presidents.—Wm. Thompson of R., Elisha J. Hall, Zachariah Waters, John T. Benson, Col. Robert T. Dade, Wm. S. Jones, Samuel C. Veirs, John Brown, Dr. Washington Duvall, and Francis Miller.

Secretaries.—R. W. Carter, R. G. Crift, Thomas O. Waters, James Kemp, W. B. Chichester.

The Hon. MONTGOMERY BLAIR had been invited to act as Chairman, but was prevented by sickness from attending the meeting.

The meeting was addressed by the Hon. D. W. VOORHEES, of Indiana, who fully sustained the unrivalled reputation he has long since won as an orator. His noble sentiments, so grandly uttered, thrilled the hearts of his audience. Frequent enthusiastic bursts of applause, as the intervening breathless hush of eager attention, indicated how fully and heartily the views of the speaker were endorsed. His eloquent appeal to the honest and patriotic masses of the people to support President JOHNSON, the iron man of Tennessee, the second ANDREW JACKSON, as he called him, in his contest with the Radical fanatics of Congress, was irresistible; and if they people elsewhere, as we hope they do, endorse President JOHNSON's policy as unanimously as the people of old Montgomery, the contest will be brief and earthquakes will speedily dispose of his enemies, who are enemies of the country.

Mr. VOORHEES impressed the citizens as being not only a finished orator, but, what is far better and higher, a truly patriotic citizen, an honest man, contending now, as in the past, with all the genius with which Providence has so largely endowed him, for what is right, simply because it is right.

The Hon. D. W. VOORHEES was followed by Dr. C. W. ALLEN, of Washington, who, in a chaste and eloquent oration, enforced the same general ideas, and was greeted by repeated rounds of applause from the delighted audience. The DOCTOR is an exceedingly fluent and impressive speaker, and as our near neighbor we hope to hear him often in the good times which we trust are coming.

The following resolutions were adopted; after which three cheers, which made the welkin ring, were given for President JOHNSON, and three more for the speakers; and, on motion of Mr. E. HALL, the thanks of the meeting were returned to the speakers for their able and eloquent addresses, &c.

Adjourned.

RESOLUTIONS.

1st. That we love the Union of the States as formed by our fathers under the Constitution, and that we cordially approve of the wise and patriotic restoration policy of President Johnson.

2nd: That in the conflict now existing between Congress and the President, we recognize in the President an able and patriotic exponent of the true principles of the Government, and we pledge ourselves to support and sustain him in his course.

3rd. That we regard the course of Congress in refusing to admit the representatives from the Southern States as destructive to the Union, and subversive of the foundations of the Government.

4th. That the veto of the Freedmen's Bureau bill receives our cordial approbation, believing it to have been an unwise and injudicious measure, and one which would have destroyed forever the liberty of the whole people.

5th. That we regard it the duty of all persons, no matter to what political party they formerly adhered, to unite in the support of the President in his policy, and in all measures having for their object the reconstruction of the Union, the prosperity of the country, and the preservation of our free institutions.

6th. That we will hereafter, as we have always done heretofore, protect the negroes in the enjoyment of all their just, legal and equitable rights under the Constitution and laws of the State and country.

EFFECT OF "CONCURRENT" RESOLUTIONS.—Whether the "concurrent" resolution claiming for Congress authority over the question of representation, which has passed the Senate and House, is binding upon anybody, is a question yet to be settled. It has been stated that because it is a "concurrent" resolution it has authority without the sanction of the President; but the Constitution has this language, which would seem to conflict with such an assertion:

"Every order, resolution or vote to which the concurrence of the Senate and House of Representatives may be necessary, (except on a question of adjournment,) shall be presented to the President of the United States, and before the same shall take effect, shall be approved by him, or passed over his veto.—[Art. 1st, sec. 7th.]

☞ The Washington correspondent of the Baltimore Sun says: A highly important rumor has just reached me from a source entitled to consideration, to the effect that the President has summoned to this city the Senators elect from all the re-organized Southern States lately in revolt. The report may be premature. But several of these Senators are now here, and have been requested by the President to remain. That he may have occasion to confer with all of them, after the events of yesterday, is not improbable.

The majority of the Committee on Reconstruction have come to the conclusion, in effect, that no one of the eleven lately rebellious States shall be represented in this Congress. This is in conformity with the assertions of the most trusted leaders of the Congressional majority.

THE RAILROAD.—The contractor, Mr. J. A. Ford broke ground on section 11, (the summit of Parr's Ridge) of the Metropolitan Branch of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, on Tuesday, the 27th ult.

There was a pretty general turn out of the neighbors, who assisted at the ceremony with pick and shovel. Mr. J. W. BROWN, of Barnesville, threw out the first shovel-full of earth. Captain SELLMAN was also present, but not in time to take the first honor. There was no organized ceremony, but a little impromptu frolic gotten up by the Contractor. No disrespect was intended the oldest inhabitants by selecting so young a man as Mr. BROWN to inaugurate the work: it was simply because the Contractor was better acquainted with Mr. BROWN and Captain SELLMAN than with anyone else in the neighborhood.

There is a large force of carts and horses now regularly at work; and the Company show that they are in earnest, and manifest the intention to push the work on to completion at the earliest possible moment.

This road running, as it does, diagonally through the county, will afford facilities for travel and transportation to our citizens such as could be attained by no other route, and will, undoubtedly, prove a great blessing to our people. The cheap transportation of fertilizers, and the easy and rapid means of communication with the National Capital and other prominent points, that will be afforded by this road, will invite population and greatly enhance the value of our real estate. Not only will our people be enabled to retrieve their losses occasioned by the late war, but such an influx of population, such a rapid development of the resources of our county will follow, and such a spirit of enterprise be awakened by the construction of this road, that our barren fields will be converted into blooming gardens, as if by magic. We trust that no obstacle will be thrown in their way, but every assistance rendered the Company by our people. As for ourselves, we wish the good work God speed.

☞ WILLIAM C. PIERCE, a harmless old man, who lived in the lower part of this county, and had the reputation of keeping money in his house, was murdered, on Friday night, the 2nd instant. The murder was not discovered till eight o'clock the next morning. All his chests and boxes down stairs had been broken open and rifled; the thieves had gone up stairs but did not disturb the chest that had his money in it. It is supposed that they were frightened by some noise, as several negro houses are near. The Coroner's jury could find no clue to the murderer.

MURDER.—On last Saturday night, two negroes and a white man entered the house of JOHN W. CORD, a dairyman, in the District of Columbia, with the view of robbing him, when HENRY BLAISE and JERY OXLEY came to his assistance. One of the negroes fired on them with a pistol, and killed BLAISE. The villains escaped.

NEW MUSIC.—We are indebted to JOHN F. ELLIS, No. 306 Pennsylvania Avenue, 10th Street, for the following pieces of late and popular music: The "Derrieka' Serenade," words and music by T. N. CALTHELD. Price thirty-five cents; "My Mother Dear," words by SAMUEL LOVER, music by T. N. CALTHELD. Price forty cents. They will be sent by mail, free of postage, on receipt of price.

☞ We would call the attention of our readers to the advertisement of Mr. F. L. KIDWELL, in this days paper, and feel assured that purchasers would do better by calling on him, than they possibly could by visiting our cities for their purchases.

☞ It is said that the number of cattle in England attacked with the Rinderpest, since its commenced to February 1st, is 148,023, of which 111,100 died. The disease is on the increase.

☞ By some accident, the name of RICHARD CISSELL, as one of the Supervisors for Berry's District, was omitted in our last paper.

ATTACK ON A PUBLIC MEETING.—One of the largest public meetings that ever assembled in this county, composed of its reflecting and peaceable citizens, met in front of the Court House, in Hagerstown, on Tuesday afternoon, February 27, to endorse the reconstruction policy and veto message of President Johnson.

Delegations from different sections came into town in a body, with banners flying and band playing, and all were enthusiastic in support of the President and the Constitution. The meeting was organized by selecting Col. Geo. Schley to preside, who addressed the large concourse of people assembled, for near a half hour, and when the motion to elect Vice Presidents and Secretaries was made, a regularly organized mob rushed from the court house, by the Mayor's and Sheriff's offices to the rear of the stand, and made an attack on the parties on the stand. The stand being partially cleared by the mob, Thomas E. Mitlag, a member of the Maryland legislature, rushed forward with a series of resolutions which he read in the confusion and tried to have adopted. In the meantime Samuel Fiery, Esq., got possession of part of the stand and most ably denounced the outrageous attack made upon the meeting, and spoke in support of the President, during which time fighting continued in different portions of the crowd. After this the friends of Mr. Johnson again obtained the stand, and Mr. Alvey made a motion to appoint a committee, and the committee being appointed to draft resolutions, when the disturbance was renewed in the rear of the stand, and after considerable fighting again, the rioters and disturbers of the public peace obtained possession of the stand and a general fight ensued, pistols and knives being used, and stones, sticks and clubs flying in dangerous confusion, with considerable blood letting.

After this demonstration, no further effort was made to hold the meeting, as it was evident that the officers of the law, if they interfered at all, it was in favor of those who created the disturbance, while influential citizens of the "so-called" Union party, who had responsible offices, stood around viewing the scene with smiling countenances.

The attack was well organized and fully matured before the day of the meeting, by parties who stood behind as the originators of the enterprise, for the resolutions offered by Mitlag were ready prepared for the occasion.

A scene so disgraceful has never occurred in our town before, and we trust will never occur again. The officers of the law should not forget the obligations of their positions and the severe and sacred responsibility resting upon them.—Hagerstown Mail.

Proceedings of Congress.

MONDAY, March 5.—The proceedings of the House were interesting, to-day, in consequence of the majority of the reconstruction committee reporting a joint resolution for the admission of Tennessee into the Union as a State, on the following conditions: She must maintain in good faith her existing constitution and laws; exclude all who were engaged in the rebellion from the right of suffrage and eligibility to office for a definite period; repudiate the rebel debt, and provide against any claim being paid for any slave emancipated or liberated; said conditions to be ratified by the legislature or people of Tennessee before this act shall take effect. On motion of Mr. Bingham, rep., who made the report, it was recommitted, with the understanding that it would be reported back in a few days and called up for consideration. Mr. Rogers, dem., made a minority report, signed by himself and Mr. Grider, to the effect that as Tennessee has never been out of the Union, her representatives be admitted to seats on taking the prescribed oath. Messrs. Washburne and Boutwell gave notice of a report they intended to make, differing both from the majority and minority reports.

In the House a resolution was offered pledging the United States government to guarantee a loan of fifty millions of dollars proposed to be raised by the Republic of Mexico. This resolution met with considerable opposition, and on the motion to allow its introduction there was a tie vote, whereupon the Speaker voted in the affirmative. It was then permitted to be formally introduced and referred to the committee on foreign affairs.

Resolutions were introduced in the Senate, and referred, proposing to admit the Southern States to representation, provided they abolish all distinctions in civil rights on account of color, and consent to give the right of suffrage to colored men who have served in the army, can read the constitution, and who pay tax on real and personal property. The Senate passed the joint resolution to pay Miss Clara Barton $15,000 for searching for the dead bodies of missing Union soldiers. The army appropriation bill was passed in the House.

TUESDAY, March 6.—The Senate, to-day, passed the bill giving the assent of Congress to the annexation of the counties of Jefferson and Berkeley to West Virginia, and also the bill to reimburse Missouri for expenses in equipping and paying the militia of that State during the rebellion. A resolution was introduced and referred to establish quarrantine regulations, to prevent the spread of the Asiatic cholera. The joint resolution to fix a new basis of representation was taken up, when Mr. Saulsbury, of Delaware, made a speech in opposition to its adoption. A communication was received from the President, in response to a resolution, enclosing a letter and document, from the Secretary of War in regard to the organization of provisional governments, etc.

The House passed the Military Academy appropriation bill, with an amendment that no money shall be used to pay any cadet appointed from the Southern States, whose appointment dates from the first of January last, until said States are restored to the Union.

AN UNPROFITABLE CONTRACT.—The Wilmington (N. C.) Dispatch says that a gentleman living about ten miles from that city contracted last year with forty-two negroes that they should have the use of his farm of three hundred and twenty acres, including all the stock and implements, provided they would give him one-third of the products. His share has been ascertained to be four bushels and three peeks of corn, two hundred and seventy-five pounds of fodder, thirty pounds of rice, four roasting ears, and a quart of tomatoes.

THE TEST OATH.—It has been announced by leading members of the Reconstruction Committee that the Supreme Court will soon deliver an opinion declaring that the test oath is unconstitutional.

SENSIBLE ADVICE.—As President JOHNSON has appealed to the people, and not to politicians, democratic or republican, the Journal of Commerce well says that it would be much better for certain journals, and republicans generally, who stand by Mr. JOHNSON, to suspend at once all their antipathy to copperheads, as they are offensively called, to stop all abuse of democrats as disloyal, and reflect that the President will fall unsupported if they succeed in preventing the democrats from sustaining him. In Congress, without the aid of democrats the conservatives could not prevent the radicals from passing all their measures over a succession of vetoes. In the country at large they are probably in a minority of their own party, for we have tolerably good evidence that the radicals carry nearly all the republican conventions. It is sheer nonsense for the political wire pullers to claim special property in Mr. Johnson at such a time as this, or to think that he will regard them as the only "people" to whom he has appealed for support.

☞ Some fifty or sixty armed negroes had an encounter with the police in the suburbs of Richmond, Virginia, on Friday night last. The firing was kept up for some time, but finally, by the assistance of a squad of soldiers, the negroes were dispersed.

WORTH REMEMBERING.—Our agricultural readers would do well to remember that J. P. BARTHOLOW, No. 558 Seventh street, between Pennsylvania avenue and the canal, Washington, D. C., and 25 King street, between Union and Water streets, Alexandria, Virginia, keeps every thing in their line. His Fertilizers, which he guarantees against adulteration, receives the commendation of our most successful farmers. He does not sell his Fertilizers to dealers, but manufactures only for his own sales. He also keeps on hand every variety of garden, grass and field seeds, together with Peruvian Guano, Bone Dust, Mexican Guano, Plaster, Clover and Timothy Seeds, Seed Wheat, Millet, &c. He has also a Repair Shop, where all kinds of machinery can be repaired. See advertisement in another column.

DEATH.

DIED, at his residence in Montgomery county, Md., near Emory Chapel, on Sunday afternoon, the 4th March, 1866, GEORGE HINKLEY, Teacher of the Public School, in that neighborhood.

He leaves a wife and four children in the deepest sorrow.

Possessed of a delicate constitution, he was yet endowed with a strength of will and energy and animated by a sense of duty which, to within a few days of his death, kept him in earnest endeavours for the faithful discharge of all that was required of him; at all times bearing his weakness, and almost constant suffering, with a patient submission and cheerfulness of spirit which Christian grace alone can give.

He died resignedly, and with the hope of a blessed immortality.

ASSOCIATION

FOR THE RELIEF OF Southern Sufferers.

A NUMBER of the Ladies of Maryland have formed an Association for the purpose of alleviating, to the extent of their ability, the wretchedness and want which the late war has entailed upon large portions of the population of the South. As the work which they propose to themselves is purely one of charity, and as its scope, unhappily, must needs be ample to be of much avail, they feel justified in calling for liberal assistance upon all good people who sympathize with human creatures and brethren in suffering and sorrow. They, therefore, respectfully and earnestly invite contributions of all sorts to the end in view, and especially in furtherance of a FAIR or BAZAAR, which they are preparing to open in the city of Baltimore, as soon as may be possible after Easter. They have already received encouragement which promises them much success in this latter undertaking, and they trust that the present appeal may so insure it, that they may be enabled to send relief to thousands of desolate homes and destitute women and children. They do not deem it necessary to enlarge upon the widespread misery and want throughout the South, of which every day brings them heart-rending accounts, unfortunately too true.—They can safely assure the charitable, whose almoners they ask to be, that no wider or sadder field was ever opened to the kindliness of those cheerful givers whom God loves.

The following named Ladies have been appointed Officers of the Association. All money and articles of value which may be transmitted to any of them or to the Managers—a list of whom will be published in a few days—will be gratefully received, and applied as may be directed. An efficient Committee of Gentlemen will give their personal attention to the business of the Association, and to the careful management and impartial distribution of its funds.

Mrs. BENJ. C. HOWARD, Pres
Miss FRICK, Sec.

☞ It has been determined to open the Fair on the 2nd day of April.

☞ The above circular having been sent to me by the Managers in Baltimore, to ask the co-operation of the people of Montgomery county, I have taken the liberty of nominating the following named ladies as a committee for that purpose, with authority to call to their aid any number of other ladies they may respectively select:

1st District—Mrs. Wm. Thompson, of R. and Miss Mary Hutton.
2d do Mrs. Leonidas Wilson and Mrs. William Blount.
3d do Mrs. John H. Gassaway and Mrs. Joseph A. Taney.
4th do Miss Jane Harding and Mrs. Jno. L. Dufief.
5th do Miss Maggie Duvall, and Miss Agnes Noland.

These ladies will be expected to perfect their arrangements amongst themselves and with the committee in Baltimore city.

BARTHOLOW'S PREPARED

Peruvian Guano

Manufactured under our personal supervision.

It is composed principally of the best Peruvian Guano and other Phosphated Fertilizers. It readily assimilates with the soil, and is a valuable and permanent Manure.

We have been engaged in the manufacture of this article for six years and have introduced it over a wide extent of territory. It has established its own reputation, and needs no comment at our hands.

We will simply say with reference to it, that its standard shall be kept up—that we will guarantee the article sold this season and hereafter to be the same as that manufactured at any time since we have commenced its manufacture.

We think it necessary to make this statement, in view of the fact that it has hitherto been the custom of some manufacturers of Manipulated Guano and Fertilizers to manufacture a good article for introduction, which when it had succeeded, they have lessened in value for greater profit.

To such an extent has this been carried, and so great has been the loss to the purchasers, that Farmers have, and very justly too, lost all faith in Manufactured Fertilizers.

When Fertilizers are sold by dealers, received from Manufacturers who can adulterate them for greater profit, the dealer cannot offer any guarantee as to their genuineness.

We manufacture only for consumers, and we are therefore responsible for its standard.

The demand last year exceeded the supply. We have in consequence, enlarged our Factory and otherwise increased our facilities, and will hereafter keep constantly on hand a full supply.

BONE DUST.

To this we would particularly call your attention. As a fertilizer it is the most reliable and beneficial article in use, and is rapidly superseding all others.

Having a Mill grinding for our exclusive sales, we will be able at all times to supply a pure and fresh article of Bone Dust, in any quantity, at the lowest market price.

We guarantee this Bone Dust to be the best manufactured. It is made of Bones that have not been boiled or calcined.

We offer the above Fertilizers at lowest market rates.

By establishing our House in Alexandria, Va., the natural market of the lower counties of Maryland and the Eastern Shore of Virginia, we are prepared to offer advantages important to the convenience of the Farmers of those sections, as they will be able to purchase their supplies from more accessible points at as low, if not lower, prices than they can be purchased elsewhere.

Extras and Repairs,

Furnished for all kinds of Machinery.—Competent machinists constantly employed to REPAIR MACHINERY at short notice.
