THE SENTINEL.

ROCKVILLE, MD.

Friday Morning,..... August 18, 1871.

DEMOCRATIC CONSERVATIVE TICKET.

For Governor,
HON. WM. PINKNEY WHYTE.

For Attorney General,
HON. ANDREW K. SYESTER.

For Comptroller of the Treasury,
COL. LEVIN WOOLFORD.

In Memoriam.

We clothe the Sentinel, this week, in the habiliments of mourning for the loss of its founder and proprietor, the late MATTHEW FIELDS. It has pleased the Great Father of all, in the dispensation of His Providence, to remove from our midst, our beloved chief, who died suddenly and unexpectedly, at his residence in this town, at 7 o'clock on Saturday morning last, in the 59th year of his age.

The loss of so useful a man in the community is a calamity that all must feel; but none so keenly as his afflicted family, and we who are thus bereft of the benefit of his great experience, sound judgment and unbounded courtesy and kindness in our business relations. No man ever lived among us of more innate goodness of heart, none ever attracted to him a larger circle of devoted friends by his deeds of charity and benevolence. He was one of that rare class of men, whom all could approach and confide in—liberal in his business transactions, faithful and honorable in his dealings, energetic, and a worker in whatever he undertook.

In politics, our deceased friend and brother was a Whig, until that party was no more, and during his connection with it, he was elected to the office of Sheriff and appointed County Collector, and filled other local offices. When the Know-Nothing party sprang into existence, with its narrow and proscriptive ideas, he did not hesitate to break loose from the majority of his old party friends, and join the Democratic party in its grand career. From the beginning to the ending of the late civil war, he was a decided and enthusiastic sympathizer with his Southern brethren, for which he was twice imprisoned, the operations of his [illegible] suspended, his health impaired, and his business interests greatly injured. His strict adherence to principle, his ardent support of what he believed to be right, won the esteem and confidence of all who knew him. His self-sacrificing devotion to the cause of truth and justice endeared the respect and warm attachment of all classes of society.

As an able and successful journalist, a good and patriotic citizen, an efficient and popular officer, a kind and provident husband and [illegible], he retires in the person of our deceased friend. And while we bow with submission to the will of Him, who suffers not a sparrow to fall to the ground without His notice, we can but feel deeply the loss of one with whom we have been so long and so pleasantly associated. While we shed the tears of regret and sorrow at his loss, we will only serve ourselves for more earnest and more efficient work, that we may prove ourselves more worthy of one whose arduous labors and earnest toil in the office over which he has presided for seventeen years, has done so much for the public good.

His widowed wife and orphaned children have the sincere condolence and sympathy of the whole community, in the loss they have sustained, and we have the fullest confidence in the disposition of the public to sustain and support them in their efforts to continue the business of their late head.

County Organization.

The particular attention of the Democratic and Conservative voters of the county is directed to the call made upon them by the State Central Committee, through our paper of this week, to assemble in primary meetings in their respective Districts, on Saturday, the 2nd day of September ensuing, to select delegates to a County Convention, to be held here on the 9th, to nominate candidates, for States'-Attorney, Sheriff, Surveyor, House of Delegates, Orphans' Court, and County Commissioners.

We cannot urge too strongly upon our party friends the necessity for their prompt attendance at these meetings in order to secure satisfactory nominations, as all who participate in them are bound to support the nominees of the Convention. Political, like military organizations, can be effectual, only through discipline and strict compliance with the rules established by popular usage. The County Convention should be the all the common arbiter, whose decisions as to the merits of the several candidates for the nomination must be obeyed or else discord and defeat will be the result. All who sincerely desire the success of their party should not only attend the "primaries," but should use all honorable means to secure the election of the members of the Convention. Those, who shall absent themselves from these meetings, should also remember that they will have no just cause of complaint, if the nominees should not please them. If they do nothing to secure the services of those they may think best suited to the offices to be filled, they should submit without a murmur to the action of those who do take such interest and heartily support the candidates thus put forward with the best lights before them for nominate.

CORRECTION.—In our notice, last week, of the improvements, we committed an error in stating that "the upper floor of the new building erected by S. C. VEIRS, Esq., was sold for the Masonic Lodge of Rockville." We have since been informed that the entire building was planned by COOKE D. LECKEY, Principal of the Montgomery Female Institute, and was designed exclusively for his school, the Fourth Annual Session of which will begin in the "New Hall, this" Monday, the 4th day of September next. The "New Hall" in location are most admirably adapted to educational purposes and will doubtless [illegible] the interest of the public in this [illegible] Institute."

THE ROCKVILLE ACADEMY.—We are pleased to notice the improvement that is being made in our old "Alma Mater"—the Rockville Academy. It has been thoroughly cleansed and readjusted internally, and is now undergoing repairing and repainting externally. New School Furniture is expected, in a few days, and then everything will be ready for the new Faculty to go to work. We understand that the Academy will be fully reopened on Tuesday next, by the new Principal, JESSE D. AMES, Esq., and we predict for it, under his administration, a successful and satisfactory career.

THE CHOLERA.—A cable telegram announces at length the appearance of a case of Asiatic cholera in London, an event for some time dreaded but no doubt fully anticipated, and while it creates sensation among the people, it is presumed that steps have been taken to prevent the visitation from becoming a public calamity. The disease may or may not soon find its way to American seaports. New York has commenced the work of preparing for its reception, and adopted measures for systematic street cleaning and other sanitary precautions which might be copied with advantage by other cities.

THE attempt of "the Patriotic Sons of America," in their State convention in Pennsylvania the other day to pass a resolution disjoining all within its jurisdiction never to vote for a Roman Catholic for any office of trust, honor, or profit," is the subject of comment in the New York Tribune, which paper says: "A man at this late day in this country refuses his political confidence to a Roman Catholic, simply because he is such would have assisted at the roastin of John Rogers with a cheerful heart and a ready hand."

VOTING will be held next fall, Maine, Massachusetts, New Jersey, Maryland, Georgia, Louisiana, Kentucky, Ohio, Iowa, Minnesota and California, will each elect a Governor. In October Pennsylvania elects an Auditor, Surveyor General, and in November New York a Secretary of State. Several State Conventions meet during this month.

The returns from important districts of Kentucky increase the total vote of the State over that of former years, and also increase Leslie's majority, which will probably be nearly forty thousand. The Democratic vote is five thousand larger than it was at the previous election for Governor.

FERTILIZERS.—Farmers should not fail to read the advertisement of F. L. Moore, in to-day's issue, giving his prices for the different kinds of Fertilizers generally used.

[COMMUNICATED.]

It is with unfeigned sorrow and sadness that we learn of the demise of Mariner Fields, Esq., the editor and proprietor of the Sentinel, who departed this life, after a short illness, on Saturday morning last, in the fifty-ninth year of his age. Mr. Fields had been identified with the present the county for more than forty years; learning his trade here, in the office of the old "Maryland Journal," and afterwards becoming the proprietor of the Sentinel, which, for seventeen years, and up to the time of his decease, he conducted with unexceptionable impartiality.

Few of his contemporaries had a firmer hold on the esteem and affection of his fellow-citizens, and none have left the scene of their labors more deeply and universally regretted. Of enemies he had none, or if any, though an uncompromising and fearless advocate of public rights, he was so honest, so kind, so ready to forgive, so true to his country and State, that even the most active of his political adversaries could not but feel a kindness for him, that he ever preserved the most amicable relations with his political adversaries.

Upon his afflicted family this sad bereavement has fallen with its heaviest blow, and as he labored so assiduously for the best interests of his country, it is to be hoped that the same liberality which was extended to him while living, will now that he is no more, be continued to his surviving family, in their efforts to conduct the Sentinel, in future, on its example, and to preserve its well earned reputation as a first class country paper.

Debility and Emaciation.

Both result from the lack of ability to convert the food into nutriment. How to accomplish this is a question for those who find it a difficult one to solve, and many resort to a remedy that will strengthen the stomach and digestive organs. For, as a means to this desirable object has been accomplished the health improves and the patient resumes his usual vigor and energy. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters enjoys a world-wide popularity in such cases and has been proven the best and most reliable of tonics, combating constipation, toning the stomach, giving energy to the liver, and relieving every symptom of nervousness and depression of spirits. Its cheering and beneficial effects are highly spoken of by thousands who owe to it their restoration to health. No restorative in the annals of medicine has attained the same popularity in the short space of time it has been before the public, or has won the high endorsements accorded to this excellent tonic. Many other preparations, purporting to be correctives and restoratives have been introduced, and have perished one by one, while the popularity of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters continues to increase, and is now recognized as a standard household medicine. The success which attends the use of the Bitters evinces at once its virtues in all cases of debility and disease of the stomach. Certificates, almost without number, have been published, attesting its truly miraculous power in removing those painful and fearful diseases. And at this time it seems idle to do more than call attention to the great remedy of the age, in order to awaken public attention to its excellence. It is the only preparation of the kind that is reliable in all cases, and it is therefore worthy of the consideration of the afflicted.
