LIST OF PREMIUMS,

AWARDED BY THE

Montgomery County Agricultural Society,

At its Nineteenth Annual Exhibition, held on the Society's Grounds, in Rockville,

On WEDNESDAY, THURSDAY, FRIDAY and SATURDAY, 11th, 12th, 13th and 14th of September, 1872.

The Secretary of the Montgomery County Agricultural Society has handed us for publication his official report of the Nineteenth Annual Fair which was held on the 11th, 12th, 13th and 14th, of September, including the list of premiums awarded, all of which will be found highly interesting to our readers:

The Nineteenth Annual Exhibition of the Society began on Wednesday the 11th of September 1872, and though the weather was very unpromising on that day, there was every evidence of determination on the part of officers, members, and visitors, to make the exhibition a success.

Though the day was mostly taken up in making entries, and in arranging the exhibition for the two succeeding days, the number of visitors fully equaled that of the first day of any former year.

At 11 o'clock a procession of the officers and marshals was formed at the President's quarters, and escorted John E. Nourse, Esq., who at almost the last moment, had consented to take the place of John H. B. Latrobe, Esq., to the speakers' stand, in front of which a large and elevated audience had gathered.

The President opened the proceedings with a neat address of a few moments length, and then introduced Mr. Nourse who had proceeded but a very short time, when the first passenger train that ever ran over the Metropolitan Rail Road, arrived near the grounds, with a large crowd of visitors.

The President at once suggested that Mr. Nourse suspend his address until the passengers by rail could reach the grounds. They came in such numbers, and consequently consumed so much time in obtaining entrance at the gate that the hour for dinner had intervened, and as the time for the County trial of speed was near at hand, the address was postponed to Friday, September 13.

Thursday, the second day, was so imminent that it was at first apprehended that the exhibition could not be held on that day. The first train from Washington, however, brought so large a company, and the grounds around so taxed, notwithstanding the constant succession of heavy showers, that the Executive Board held a meeting at the President's quarters, passed resolutions continuing the fair, without Saturday, the 14th, as the last day, and postponing the trials of speed to Friday, and those of Trotting to Saturday. Friday proved a clear and a very pleasant day for the Society. Large crowds from all quarters, of the exhibition, and were evidently much pleased. The address by Mr Nourse was attentively listened to and from the very able and universally popular Benjamin Hallowell, was expected, as he had accepted an invitation to speak on that day previous, but the sun having previously his attention on that day, he had not heard of the action of the Executive Board continuing the exhibition, much to the manifest disappointment of all present.

The discouraging results foreshadowed by the gloomy and rainy weather at the beginning of the Fair, were not verified. Every effort exerted to ward off diligently to avert what appeared to be an impending disaster to the Society, Friday and Saturday were bright, beautiful, and pleasant. The grounds were in both days. The mud dried marvellously. The track was in good condition. The programme was faithfully carried out, and the result is, as it is hoped the Treasurer's Report will show, that the Montgomery County Agricultural Society can pay all demands against it.

The following is the list of premiums reported to the Secretary, and awarded to the exhibitors:

RICHARD M. WILLIAMS,
Secretary.

A PARADOX.—In the State of Ohio there recently lived, consisting of an old man of the name of Beaver, and 9 his three sons, all of whom were hard 'uns who had often laughed to scorn the advice and entreaties of a pious though very eccentric minister, who resided in the same town. It happened one of the boys was bitten by a rattlesnake and was expected to die, when the minister was sent for in great haste. On his arrival he found the young man penitent and anxious to be prayed with. The minister, calling on the family, knelt down and prayed in this wise: "O Lord, we thank thee for rattlesnakes. We thank thee because a rattlesnake bit Jim. We pray thee send a rattlesnake to bite John; send one to bite Bill; and, O Lord, send the biggest kind of a rattlesnake to bite the old man, for nothing but rattlesnakes will bring the Beaver family to repentance."

WEDDING RINGS.—"I wonder why they always make wedding rings of plain gold?" asked one of our pretty lady gossip-readers the other day. "Don't know—I'll try to find out." An old scrap gives a reason—and here it is:

A lady, once, whose love was sold,
Asked if a reason could be told
Why wedding rings were made of gold;
I ventured thus to instruct her;
Love and Lightning are the same,
On earth they glance, from heaven they came,
Love is the soul's electric flame,
And gold it's best conductor.

A Southern gentleman, wearing a Greeley badge, was accosted by a Grant man a few days ago on a Fulton ferry boat with the following remark:

"Well, I suppose you are going to vote for Greeley?"

"Correct. I shall vote for Greeley," replied the Southerner.

"On what ground?"

"On the ground of what he knows about farming."

"What does Greeley know about farming?"

"He knows that when a pile of manure gets too high it requires spreading."

Exit Grant man.

GENTLEMAN—"My good woman how much is that goose?"

Market Woman—"Well you may have the two at seven shillin'."

Gentleman—"But I only want one."

Market Woman—"Can't help it; ain't a goin' to sell one without the other. Them ere geese, to my certain knowledge, hev been together fur more'n thirteen years, and I ain't a goin' to be so unfeelin' as to separate 'em now.

A Quack in advertising a lotion for the cure of all evils affecting children, said truly: "Babies after having taken one bottle of my soothing syrup will never cry any more."

An exchange says: "This is the fifth trout caught this year from the same 'hole,' the total weight of which is six pounds." "Good," says the Ottowa Citizen, "now we know what a hole weighs."

The lady who did not think it respectable to bring up her children to work has recently heard from her two sons—one is a barkeeper on a flat boat, and the other a clerk to a limekiln.

Dean Swift said: "It is with narrow-souled people as it is with narrow-necked bottles—the less they have in them, the more noise they make in pouring out."

Mrs. Partington, in illustration of the proverb, "A soft answer turneth away wrath," says it is better to speak paragolically of a person than to be flinging epitaphs at him."

An Irish lover remarked "that it's a great pleasure to be alone, especially when your sweetheart is wid ye."
