New York.—The supreme court of this state last week granted a new trial in the following case of The People against Henry Croswell, on an indictment for a libel, before the then Chief Justice (now Governor) Lewis, in 1803. The motion for a new trial was founded on the act "concerning libels," passed at the last session of the legislature. This act is declaratory: and by declaring what the law was, as well as what it should be, overturns a dictum of the distinguished late Chief Justice, and entitled Mr. Croswell to a new trial.

[Lancaster Intelligencer Gazette.

The Fleets.—Captain Minor who arrived at Newburn on the 20th ult. from the West Indies, informs, that a few days previous to that date, between Cape Hatteras and Bermuda he fell in with the French fleet consisting of 21 sail of the line; they were under easy sail, and appeared to be standing for Norfolk or Philadelphia.—The next day he spoke admiral Nelson with 12 sail of the line and 5 frigates, who had recently been obtaining intelligence from the French Minor of the consort the fleet were steering, crowded sail on a larboard tack.

It was the opinion of captain Minor, that Nelson would lay-to to keep them from, for they could reach the Chesapeake or Delaware.

If the above information be correct, when we consider that Nelson is great in M. to [illegible] vigilancy, it is strongly presumable that an engagement has already taken place; and we may daily expect to hear of the important event.

N. Y. Paper.

HEALTH-OFFICE,

Philadelphia, August 22, 1805.

Received this day the following report, for publication for the information of our fellow citizens:—

Since the removal of the two persons to the Lazaretto mentioned in our former communications, two others have been taken sick in the same neighborhood, with similar symptoms, all of whom, as well as the families in which they resided, have been removed, some to the city hospital and others to the country.

Without wishing to intimate is not a case of malignant or contagious fever, existing in any part of the city or liberties, and arrangements are made for that one, with the whole of the family to go into the country and at the most, if any precautionary measures have been and are now taking to prevent the renewal of the disease, we have the most confident hopes, through the blessing of being able to prevent its re-appearance. If however we should be disappointed in our expectations, and the disease should leave to arrest its progress, we pledge ourselves to make it publicly known, without delay or reserve.

NOTICE

To those who are interested in vessels captured and carried into Tortola, or other British ports.

Mr. ——, captor's agent, leaves that island very soon for England, in order to attend to the appeals he is interested in, and to obtain a dismissal of those claims which have not been attended to by the claimants, or their proctors, within the twelve months allowed by law, for commencing the suits before the lords of appeal; Mr ——, is one of those, who are ever on the watch to take every advantage which the acts of parliament, the practice of courts, inattention of parties, &c. &c. will admit of.

During the last war he got many claims set aside for want of prosecution within the time, which would have been confirmed, if they had been brought to a hearing.—The merchants and underwriters of the United States, who are interested in such captures, ought as soon as possible to send to England, a copy of the condemnation at least, and have a proctor employed to serve a monition or citation on the captor's proctor, in case of capture by a man of war, notice on the king's advocate is sufficient; if by private vessels of war, on the owner's proctor, whose name he is obliged to give when required.—The copy of the proceedings in the case of any vessel, will answer for all the claimants. It is every day's practice in England, for the proctors to accommodate each other with the proceedings from the courts in the colonies, upon the parties, not having them, agreeing to pay a proportional part of the expence.

Departed this transitory life on Monday the 19th instant, Mrs. Elizabeth Norris, in the 53d year of her age, relict of the late Mr. Edward Norris of Harford county. Tuesday afternoon her remains were followed to the grave by a very numerous company of her relatives and friends, and deposited in the ancient family burying ground.

A fresh supply of

DOCTOR COOLEY'S Vegetable Elixir, is just received and for sale by GEORGE ARRIS, Druggist, No. 140, Market-street.

A Remedy, far exceeding every other yet [illegible] for consumptions, asthmas, spitting of [illegible], coughs, shortness of breath, and every [illegible] species of disease to which that organ of [illegible] the lungs, is perpetually exposed.

[illegible]mplaints of the lungs have always been [illegible]dered the opprobria medicinæ (or reproach [illegible] the art of physic) and it has long been a desideratum in medical science, that a remedy [illegible] be devised which should check the [illegible] of human life. The many thousands which [illegible] fall a sacrifice to this insidious disease, [illegible]isis pulmonalis, or consumption of the [illegible]s, has, ever since my acquaintance with [illegible]ses, which is almost thirty years) so ex[illegible] my commiseration, that a large share of [illegible] time has been [illegible] the [illegible] unrea[illegible] have [illegible] at, in [illegible] flec[illegible] needless [illegible] on the praises of this medicine; those who use it will be immediately convinced of its superior virtues in dispelling every distressing symptom in the complaints above enumerated; those hectical heats will in a few days be allayed, the night sweats will disappear, the cough diminishes rapidly, and the patients who, previous to the use of this medicine, were panting for breath, and fast approaching to dissolution, will find themselves resuscitated in the most unexpected manners. So wonderful has been the relief, that, to express their gratitude, frequent solicitations have been made to have their testimonials made public of the unrivalled virtues of this medicine: those who experience its benign and salutary effects by a short trial, will need no other recommendation.

It is not pretended that this medicine will cure every disease to which suffering humanity is liable, as is the case with most patent medicines; diseases which are as completely opposite as an acid and an alkali, they will assert, are all to be cured by one simple remedy. Such weak impositions have with much propriety brought most patent drugs into disrepute.—but the Vegetable Elixir is calculated for one class of diseases only, viz. those to which the lungs are exposed, and I need not observe that they terminate in consumptions. The precursors or harbingers of this hitherto intractable malady, (until the discovery of the Vegetable Elixir) are spitting of blood, pains in the breast and sides, coughs, difficulty in breathing, and a great number of complaints, which slender and delicate constitutions are so frequently labouring under, which if attended to immediately on their commencement, will easily be obviated, and those in the last stages will be much alleviated, and many of them effectually cured.—Price 75 cents per bottle.

Also, for sale as above,

Doctor Cooley's Genuine

ANTI-PESTILENTIAL ATTENUATING AND RESTORATIVE

PILLS,

Greatly esteemed in Rheumatic and Bilious complaints—50 cents a box.

THE DEBATES AND OTHER PROCEEDINGS OF THE

Virginia Convention,

On the adoption of the Federal Constitution.

ON THE advantages of a work, whose character is so well established, as that of the debates of the Virginia Convention, it would be useless to expatiate. A work which gives the most comprehensive account, extent of the proceedings and arguments on the adoption of the present constitution of the United States, certainly needs not the passing tribute of the mere mechanical editor. If the reputation of a book which is so frequently mentioned has not already anticipated these eulogiums, such a character, often mercenary, and always partial, can scarcely be expected to bring it into notice. If the merits of the work have been already appreciated, the eulogiums of the Editor will be surely unnecessary.
