some villain having sawed and cut through a leaf of the shutter of a bow window in which a large number of watches were hanging, when the noise of a person who slept in the shop alarmed him and he made his escape. A window shutter of Mr. Parkman, watchmaker, nearly opposite, was taken down, but nothing being perceived within, no further attempt was made to enter. And on Sunday night the store of Mr. William Byrne, at Athens, was broken open at the chamber window, and goods to the amount of 150 dollars stolen. An attempt was made to enter the lower door by boring, and a gimblet left which proves to be of the same dimensions with the one used at Mr. Stanton's shop.

AN ACT OF PERSEVERANCE.—One day last week an honest and industrious but poor man lost a valuable horse, by which he gained his livelihood, and which he was unable to replace, when the citizens, with that humanity which is so amiable a trait in the character, set on foot a subscription & almost immediately raised enough money to purchase another—on which occasion Mr. W. Heath a merchant from New York, bestowed a five dollar bill, with a prohibition of mentioning his name—but a spirited, abhorring such disinterested and unostentatious benevolence in a stranger, determined on expressing his sense of the worthy deed in this public manner.

The Fire Men called a special meeting of the people of Baltimore on the morning of the [illegible] to take into consideration certain transactions of foreign nations, preparatory to the meeting of congress.

Mr. [illegible] has [illegible] British government a strong paper against the deprecatory orders of the British cabinet council, and the oppression to which our ports and our commerce are exposed by the navy of that nation.

Advices have been received from London by our government, as late as the 9th August, when our minister had introduced to the attention of the British government the subject of the recent captures of our vessels under the pretext of their being engaged in an illicit trade between the European and colonial possessions of the enemies of Great Britain.

The Board of Health of Philadelphia report, for 48 hours ending on Monday, at 12 o'clock—9 new cases in Southwark ----3 in the city----7 admissions into the hospital—6 deaths—16 discharged, cured—43 patients in the house—18 of whom are convalescent—and 27 adults and 3 children buried.

The New York board of Health report for 24 hours ending on Friday—eight cases of malignant fever——and six deaths: for Saturday nine cases and seven deaths—and for Saturday five admissions into Bellevue Hospital—two deaths, six discharged cured——thirty remaining in the house, of whom twelve are convalescent.

DOVER, AUGUST 14.—"Yesterday the Robert, of and from Baltimore, came in here. This vessel is to convey back to America the Lady of Jerome Bonaparte, whose return to Dover is daily expected."

REPORT

Of the President and Managers of the Baltimore & Frederick-town Turnpike-road Company, laid before the Stockholders at their annual meeting on Monday last.

CONCEIVING it a duty arising from the trust committed to us, we take leave to submit to the stockholders, the following report of our proceedings:

The board was organised on the twenty-seventh day of May, and proceeded immediately to appoint commissioners for the purpose of co-operating with those appointed by the levy-courts of the different counties through which the road passes, and to value the same according to the act of incorporation. That part of the road through Anne-Arundel county, was valued at the sum of 4666 dollars 67 cents—and that part through Baltimore county to the sum of 5000 dollars—which valuations were not completed prior to the fourth day of July last. Until the valuation through Baltimore county was effected and a survey made thereof, we were precluded from commencing any operation thereon. Contracts have since been made for the distance of ten miles through Baltimore county, the whole to be completed on the 1st day of April, 1806; and for three miles in Anne-Arundel county, to be completed on the 1st day of August, 1806. Contracts have also been made for the bridges and culverts, for the whole thirteen miles. Other contractors have submitted their terms for a further progress on the road.

The board having taken into consideration the supplementary act, authorising the extension of the road from Boonsborough to Hagers-town, and from Boonsborough to Williams Port, agreed to recommend the adoption of the same to the stockholders, upon certain conditions, viz. Provided those interested in the said extension may see proper to subscribe a sufficient number of shares for the purpose of completing them, which stock shall be payable in money or in making the artificial road, at a price to be agreed on by the president and managers, and that the stock created for making the said roads, shall be excluded of from a dividend until the junction therewith of the road from Baltimore.

From consideration of the great utility of the undertaking to the public, individuals have for the first 10 miles generously given a sufficiency of stone and gravel of excellent quality, for its completion; equal generosity, it is expected, will be evinced by the persons through or near whose land the road passes.

The monies received at the time of subscribing being one dollar on each share, and that of the next payment of four dollars on each share, are nearly all paid into the hands of the treasurer; a regular account of which, and of all disbursements of monies up to this day, is now submitted to the stockholders, together with all contracts entered into.

We further take leave to state, that several obstacles which appeared to us at first view of this interesting and important subject, have disappeared on a more intimate acquaintance with it; one of which was, obtaining a sufficient number of hands, without raising the price of labor, and interfering with the ordinary occupations of the farms and manufactories in the vicinity of the road. Notwithstanding the work commenced at a season of the year, when it was to be supposed hands were generally occupied in other pursuits, there has at every stage, since the commencement of the work, appeared a sufficient number offering their services.

October 9.

A CARD.

ROBERT [illegible] presents his most respectful compliments to his friends and fellow-citizens, especially those of the 5th, 6th, 7th, and 8th wards; and begs leave to thank them for their honorable support at the late election. The more so, when the very short time is considered, previous to the election, of any predetermination on their part, or knowledge on his, of his being offered a candidate, as delegate to the General Assembly of Maryland.—He rests assured, that had the Mechanics of Baltimore determined on him, or any other Mechanic, but a few days sooner than they did, they would have been fully able to have carried their candidate in opposition to any other interest that may exist in the city.

A few days since a Treaty was signed at Vincennes by Wm. H. Harrison, governor of the Indiana Territory, on the part of the United States, and several Indian nations and tribes, by which the United States have acquired a right to all the country south of a line to be drawn from the north east corner of the Vincennes tract, so as to strike the Indian boundary running from a point opposite to the mouth of Kentucky river, fifty miles from the Ohio river—This tract contains about 30000 acres.

This is an interesting occurrence to our western settlements. The purchase connects the countries of Dearborn, Clark and Knox. The Indian title except a small tract of the Piankashaw claim, is now extinguished from the Miami river to the Mississippi. The Indians are cut off from the Ohio, excepting a point of twelve or fifteen miles, immediately below the Wabash. The settlement of Dearborn and Clark, is rapidly increasing—emigrants are crouding in along the Ohio, from the falls of the Wabash, and from thence to the Mississippi; Knox and the counties on the Mississippi, have recently received a considerable increase of population. We now have the fairest prospect of soon possessing sufficient numbers to authorise the formation of a state government, if Congress will consent to a small alteration in our ordinance. It is believed that Congress will not dissent from a scheme that will be so advantageous to the inhabitants of the territory; and it is to be hoped that our fellow citizens will not be so far influenced by local or party prejudices, as to decline the acceptance of an arrangement that will place them on the footing of a free and independent state.

BALTIMORE, October 7, 1805.

The Mayor of this city having desired the Reverend Clergy to convene this day, and submitted to their consideration the propriety of appointing a Day of Thanksgiving to Almighty God, for his manifold blessings, and particularly for an exemption of the city from that desolating malady, which has fallen so heavily on some other parts of the United States, the Pastors of the several congregations met this day, agreeably to invitation, in the First Presbyterian Church, and resolved—

1. That it is incumbent on the citizens of Baltimore to cherish lively sentiments of gratitude on this special occasion, and highly expedient to render to Him, who has been their merciful Preserver and Deliverer, a solemn and public testimony of their thankfulness for his blessings.

2. That for this purpose, THURSDAY, the 7th day of November, be kept as a Day of solemn Thanksgiving, in the churches of this city: And it is earnestly recommended to its inhabitants to unite in act of worship and religion, suitable to the occasion.

3. That the Mayor of the city be respectfully requested to use the means which may be judged most conducive to a due and general observance of that day, with the reverence and piety which may be expected for obtaining a continuance of the favors now enjoyed.

By order of the Meeting,

J. CARROLL, Chairman.

J. G. J. BEND, Secretary.
