PROCEEDINGS
OF THE
HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
OF THE
UNITED STATES.

[Taken for the AMERICAN.]

FRIDAY, December 13, 1805.

A letter from the secretary of the navy, was read, with his report on the petition of Cornelius Brooks, which prayed a compensation for masts furnished the navy. The report was "there is not in the navy department, any proofs to substantiate the claim."

Mr. J. C. Smith observed, that this petition had been last session before the committee of claims, when Mr. speaker was chairman and rejected. He therefore moved,

"That the petition of Cornelius Brooks, ought not to be granted." Mr. Quincy rose, and observed, that this petition had been handed to him by a gentleman of the senate, and that he was not fully acquainted with its merit—he therefore moved, in order to gain a little time, that it lie on the table. Agreed.

A letter from the secretary of the treasury, with an account of the appropriations necessary for the year 1805. Referred to the committee of ways and means.

Mr. Crowninshield, reported a bill for the relief of Theodorick Armistead of Norfolk.

This Bill is for the relief of the brig George, with 1200 demijohns of brandy on board, the particulars of which we gave in our report of yesterday.

The bill was twice read, and referred to a committee of the whole house, for this day.

Mr. Varnum in the chair.

Mr. Newton read several long documents respecting the circumstances which caused the captain to return to Norfolk, for further directions from his owner, in place of proceeding to the Havanna, for which market the brandy was intended.

Mr. Macon, opposed the passing of the bill chiefly upon the grounds of precedent, and of being inconsistent with the established rules of the house. Frequent applications of this kind are likely to come before the house, and the bill ought to shew the reasons for its passing into a law. It was urged that, it was a hard case upon the petitioner; it might be so, and does not every petitioner that comes to the house, think his case a very hard one? He wished the committee to rise and report progress, then the bill can be referred to the committee of commerce and manufactures, which was the proper course for it to take.

Mr. Newton went at length into the merits of the case, and used many arguments against the committee rising. It was not, said Mr. N. a voluntary act, which had caused the vessel and cargo to be in this predicament—no, it is entirely owing to the royal and imperious order of his Britannic majesty, who "can do no harm" to his own subjects, but a great deal of mischief to the Americans. What could be done after the issuing these orders? if the vessel continued her voyage as destined, the English would make her a lawful prize if they caught her. Underwriters would not insure her under fifty per cent. The honorable Mr. Speaker, says he wants some reasons to accompany the bill—Mr. N. to this observed, that he would leave all the documents in the house, and they could always be referred to. Delay in this case was ruinous; the vessel had already laid since October, and being a chartered vessel, the house might calculate upon the great daily expences attending her. If the committee should rise, the progress of the bill will be very slow; he therefore hoped they would not rise.

Mr. Crowninshield took the same side in the debate. He urged dispatch, and hoped the committee would not rise. He said it was a case attended by singular and peculiar hardships. The owner not daring to send the brandy, he asks leave to land it here—what is he to do with it? shall it fall into the hands of the British, under the plundering order of their king? They have many cruizers at hand, and it would be improbable the vessel could escape It were cruel continued Mr. C. to drive him to this risque—and why should we refuse to grant him relief? he will pay duty on the brandy, and so far we benefit by relieving him—but then an old act of congress says, brandy amongst other things, shall not be landed in such a vessel as a demijohn. He could not see any reason in this—for it could not be a temptation to smuggle. He had on a former day moved a resolution respecting this very business, and to enquire into the restrictions on spirits, malt liquors and loaf sugar, while other articles were imported in any quantity.

Mr J. Clay, thought that as this was an innovation on our commerce, he wished it to go to the committee of commerce and manufactures, where the matter could be fully investigated and reported upon.

The committee rose, reported progress, but upon a division, were refused liberty to sit again. The bill therefore was referred to the committee of commerce and manufactures.

Mr. Dawson moved that the message of the president respecting the Brigantine Henry, with the documents, be referred to a committee of the whole house—agreed—and that the documents be printed.

The house proceeded to ballot for a chaplain, in the room of the Rev. Mr. Glendy, who had resigned the appointment; when the Revd. Mr. Lawrie was elected.

Mr. Thomas reported a bill for regulating the grant of land to certain refugees, viz—Charlotte Huzeli, E. Ewrie, senior and junior, and others, who had fled from Canada and Nova Scotia. Referred to a committee of the whole for Monday next, and ordered to be printed.

Mr. Speaker applied for leave of absence for I. Wheaton, the serjeant at arms to the house, who was summoned as a witness upon the trial of John Atkins Burford, indicted at the district court, in Alexandria, for an assault and robbery on the person of Mr. Peter, a clerk in the Bank of Columbia---leave granted.

Adjourned until Monday next.

Petitions and memorials presented to the house of representatives of the United States, on Thursday the 12th December, and Friday the 13th.

Petition of William Ambert Barron, presented last session, and reported on by the committee of claims.

Referred to the same committee.

Memorial of S. Downe, stating that he had been many years in the service of the United States and was wounded, so that he cannot longer support himself and family, his discharge signed by the late Gen. Washington, accompanied his petition.

Referred to the committee of claims.

Another petition of the manufacturers of hats, was presented, complaining of the conduct of the agent of the United States, for Indian affairs, and praying that the furs received by him of the Indians, may be sold at public auction.

Referred to the committee of commerce and manufactures.

Petition of —— White, a soldier, disabled in the service of the United States—and of Lieutenant Love, referred to the committee of claims.

Petition of Thomas Kitland, referred to the committee of commerce and manufactures.

Petition for a road leading to the navigable waters of the Ohio, presented last session, referred to the same committee.

Petitions of John F. Randolph, and Randolph M'Gills, of Samuel Bebee, of the justices of King George county in Virginia, respecting a regulation of weights and measures.

Petition of William Beck, junior.

Petition of Peter A. Guiestier.

Sale by Auction.

On WEDNESDAY,

The 18th inst. at 10 o'clock, by order of the executors of the late Mr. O'Donnel, at the Rope and Chandlery Store, No. 19, Thomas-street, Fell's-Point, will commence the sale of the whole contents of said store,

CONSISTING OF

A quantity of excellent CORDAGE assorted
82 quoils of Match ROPE
12 bundles of rigging LEATHER
A Cabin Stove, 2 boilers, Jack Screw, &c.

Immediately after, at the wharf near the Fountain

A SCOW AND OARS, and a number of pieces of timber, the greater part square.

LEMMON & CAMPBELL, Auct'rs.

December 14

Notice is hereby given,

That on THURSDAY the 19th inst. will be sold by Public Auction, on the premises, (weather permitting, if not on the next fair day) upon terms that will then be made known, at 11 o'clock,

ALL those three new two story BRICK HOUSES and lots of GROUND adjoining the estate and residence of Mr. JOHN S. HORNE, situate on Paca and Mulberry streets, one of which houses (that Mr. JACOB MOORE, painter, lived in) has a garden lot attached to it, that would admit the building of a good corner house upon. There is a pump of the best water on the Premises, and the houses have good dry cellars. The New Market, through the centre of which Paca-street runs, makes this property of increasing value; greater improvements are now making in the neighborhood than in any part of Baltimore at this time.
