

March 28, 1787.

THE subscriber humbly presumes to beg leave to inform the public in general, and his old steady friends and acquaintances in particular, that he has now removed from the blacksmith's shop; lately occupied by him, near the old church-yard, to Green-street, fronting the market-house, where he carries on all sorts of blacksmith's work in every different part, either for shipping, plantation work, or farmers, &c. His readiness always to oblige, he hopes, will entitle him to the favour of every one who perfectly know him, and he expects the continuance of their former favours, as he will always endeavour, early or late, not to disappoint, shall do his work to perfection, and in every thing study to merit the approbation of every one who please to employ him.—And is their very humble servant,
