[illegible] Upper House [illegible]

[illegible] reasons, why those first [illegible]

[illegible] Upper House may [illegible]

Wm. Brecken [illegible]

[illegible] Upper House [illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible] Rydes [illegible]

[illegible] thus underwritt.

This House doth judge this Act as yett inconvenient [illegible] such time are there be sufficient number of Tanners, Curriers & Shoomakers to Tan & worke up ye Hides of ye Province. And by consequence keepe many hundred of Shoes from being imported.

John Giddings Clr.

An Act prohibiting Forreigne Engrossers. Thus underwritt.

The Upper House doe Judge That this Act may cause a Contribeance the Colony of Virginia is in, about purchasing goods on Potomack River from Ships rydeing on either side. Having liberty to indifferently traded for supplying their respective necessities. Besides ye it can never well be proved ye ye very individuall goods bought from any Merchant are those same the selles are [illegible] their values.

John Giddings Clr.

As also the Pet.n of Robert Clarke pressed upon ye Indian designe. being not Planters workes on that designe.

In order thereunto the Upper House have thought fit,