Look at Me I am Well.

I am 19 years of age. My eyes were red and inflamed. My eyes were especially sensitive to light. Scarlet was my trouble. I had had my eyes treated and took a great deal of medicine, but nothing seemed to help me until I tried Peruna. I always use Peruna when my family need it. Always find it very good. It helps wonderfully. You can use my testimonial anywhere you wish, if it may help others. Mrs. C. Skehan, No. 614 N. Leavitt St., Chicago, Ills.

How Joe Carpenter Secured a Good Salary.

By F. A. MITCHEL

Joe Carpenter was a clerk in the office of the third vice president of the railroad system. Joe was at his desk one morning sorting papers when he received a call to his chief's private room. When he appeared the vice president said to him:

"I wish you to take this package to Miss Dorothea Penfield as addressed. Here are twenty $1000 bonds, the last of the lot we agreed to sell her. Be very careful with them, and deliver them to no one except Miss Penfield herself, taking her receipt."

Joe took the package and left the room. He had heard that Miss Penfield was the only daughter of the man who had organized the railroad system in which he was employed, and that she had inherited his vast interest in it, making her one of the richest women in America. Joe had also heard that the lady was a philanthropist in a very large way and be associated with a very [illegible] portrait. His mental picture of her was a middle-aged person, part [illegible] and with a very [illegible] face. But handed as a large [illegible] she possessed, she must have an array of business sense to be [illegible].

He put the package in his inside pocket, put his office papers in the safe, put the key in his vest pocket, locked the door and [illegible] Miss Penfield spent several hours with the officers of the railroad. Joe was trying to minute how long the [illegible] would last. But it was [illegible] when he was called back to the vice president's office to receive the bonds.
