Mrs. Brierley and Miss Emma Drake are visiting friends in Philadelphia.

Miss Margaret Eaton and sister, Mrs. Meredith, spent the first of the week in Baltimore.

Mr. John McC. Rochester and wife and daughter, Miss Lillie, spent the week at the exposition in Baltimore. Miss Lillie carried with her a beautiful selection of canned goods.

The Literary Club of Church Hill held their first meeting since work was resumed this fall at the home of Mrs. T. L. Roeder last Thursday evening. The club was glad to have with them two visitors from Centreville. The program was entitled "A Maryland Evening," and was as usual well rendered. The home was prettily decorated with Maryland colors and Maryland pennants. The following program was rendered: Mandolin Duet, Misses Mabel and Elizabeth Walls; Singing, "Maryland, My Maryland"; Historical Sketch of Maryland, Mrs. James Johns; Why Maryland's Colors Are Orange and Black, Miss Elizabeth Walls; Reading, Francis Scott Key and the Writing of the Star Spangled Banner, Mrs. J. K. Power; Reading, "Star Spangled Banner," Mrs. N. S. Dorsey. This was followed by a quiz of ten questions on Maryland geography which was very amusing. Miss Mabel Walls answered all the questions and won first prize. The lucky word to Centreville. Refreshments were then served and the evening spent Maryland, every inch a Maryland.

OUR WEEKLY CHAT WITH YOU

It is with the keenest pleasure that THE OBSERVER welcomes a large addition to its family of readers each week. The fact that so many new names appear on the subscription roster regularly is a splendid testimonial to the regard which readers hold for the old sheet.

This week, for instance, just twenty new names have been received. They are:

Robert Davis, Centreville, R. R. No. 2.

George A. Hart, Sudlersville.
Mary E. Jewel, Hayden.
T. E. Tolson, New York City.
Medford Roe, Sudlersville.
J. A. Scotten, Wilmington.
Brinkloe & Canning, Easton.
Dr. J. E. Gilfillan, Sudlersville.
W. J. Barton, Centreville.
M. B. Hazel, Wilmington.
W. T. Albert, Hayden.
J. Chas. Linthicum, Baltimore.
J. N. Faulkner, St. Michaels.
H. L. Hobby, Westminster.
G. E. Boyce, New York City.
James E. Wood, Northfield, New Jersey.
Milton Horney, Queenstown, R. R.
Walter Cole, Goldsboro.
Henry W. Wright, Centreville, R. R. No. 3.

One of the new subscribers this week is on the United States Battleship New Hampshire. He is Mr. G. E. Hoyles, a former Queen Annes Countian, but who is now a petty officer of Uncle Sam's Navy. He writes, in renewing his subscription: "I was very much pleased with a copy of THE OBSERVER so think I will subscribe for it. You will find enclosed $1.00."

o o o o

Other Queen Annes Countians, perhaps, will recognize the name of J. E. Wood, of Northfield, New Jersey. Mr. Wood is an old resident of this county and now has a profitable business in New Jersey. In subscribing to THE OBSERVER Mr. Wood spoke of the home ties that bound him to his native county.

o o o o

We would be pleased to hear from any of our readers who are old Queen Annes Countians, but who now reside in other sections of the world. Many Queen Annes boys are in Canada, California, Illinois, New York, Georgia, Minnesota, Alaska and dozens of other states. Why can't we have a sort of home coming by mail. Let us hear from you. We will be delighted to publish anything that you may see fit to write us, leaving with conditions and life in your new homes.
