Here are the remains/ of/ Mrs. Anne B. Upshur/ Second daughter of the late/ James Steele/ and relict of the late/ Arthur Upshur/ of Virginia/ She was born on the 24th of October 1791/ and died on the 2nd of March 1855/ Blessed are the pure in heart/ for they shall see God.

Beneath this Tomb/ are deposited the remains of/ James Steele, Esq./ Late of Dorchester County,

Md./ who departed this life on the/ 21st Sepr A.D. 1816 aged 66 years/ The deceased had been long afflicted/ with a painful disease, which he bore/ with that fortitude and equanimity/ which so strongly characterized him/ thro life./ This monument is erected/ by his afflicted widow and children/ as a tribute of sincere affection/ and respect.

Beneath this tomb/ are deposited the remains of/ Mrs. Mary Steele/ only daughter of the late/John

Rider Nevitt and Sarah his wife/ and relict of the late James Steele/ She was born/ on the 17th of January 1769/ and died/ after a long and painful/ Pulmonary Affection/ on the 16th of September 1836 (reverse) Her life was marked by a liberal charm/ a peculiar freedom from selfishness/ and a zealous and untiring devotion/ to the performance of her duties/ as a daughter, a wife and a mother./ Her death was attended by that bright hope/ and peaceful resignation which are/ an earnest of happiness beyond the grave!/ Eye hath not seen, nor ear heard, neither/ hath it entered into the heart of men to/ conceive the things which God hath prepared/ for them that love him.

Beneath this tomb/ are deposited the remains/ of/ Miss Isabella Elizabeth Steele/ 4th daughter/of the late James Steele, Esq. of Annapolis./ She departed this life Aug. 6th 1825/ aged 21 years & 7 months/ of consumption/ Why must the grave hide one whose light would shine/ to bless the world, why friends and kindred weep/ And this cold stone why vainly must it strive/ To tell a mother's woe, a mother's grief./ The grave must hide the young, the fair, the good/ To prove the grave to be the gate of life/ through which they pass to joys that bloom not here./ Kindred and friends must mourn that they may long/ to meet again where they shall part no more/ A mother's heart must bleed that he who wounds/ Only to heal may call its hopes from earth/ to fix them with a sainted child in Heaven/ When graves give up their dead O, then may all/ who weep o'er this, reap blessings from their tears. (reverse) This monument/ is raised to the memory of a beloved daughter/ who throughout her life was all that the fond heart/ and most cherished hopes/ of a devoted mother could wish/ She possessed Youth, Beauty and varied accomplishments/ and a Heart which was the sanctuary/ of the purest Virtues, kindest Charities/ the warmest, tenderest, and most refined affections/ combined with a mind of the first order, quick, clear/ and powerful by nature, cultivated with assiduous care/ Nor were her thoughts and affections of this world only/ blessed with real piety/ she was enabled through faith and hope in her Saviour/ to sustain without a murmur the protracted sufferings/ of a Pulmonary Consump-tion/ and meet the gradual approach of death/ with submissive resignation. She lived beloved & died deeply lamented by all who knew her/ To her afflicted mother & fond relatives she was a blessing/ Which they only are able to estimate and who now/ deplore and mourn her loss.

Here/ repose the remains of/ Sarah M. Steele/ youngest daughter/ of the late James Steele, Esq./ of Annapolis/ who departed this life on the 10th of April 1828/ in Philadelphia of a rapid consumption/ in her 22nd year./ All that the world could promise to the hope/ of a young heart was hers, & in her breast dwelt/ every gentle & endearing virtue that gives to life/ its bliss. The summons came to call her from/ a mother's arms to lie by a loved sister's grave/ whose peaceful death shone as a light to guide/ her through the gloom of the dark path she was/ so soon to tread. (reverse) This monument/ is erected by a disconsolate Mother/ to the memory of a beloved Daughter/ who with personal attractions the most engaging/ and a mind highly cultivated, united a judgement/ that rarely err'd and a heart that never refused/ to sympathize in other's woe./ Gentleness and amiability found in her bosom/ a continual resting place, and retiring modesty/ which withdrew her in some degree from the world,/ but rendered her more dear to those who knew her./ Ever characterized her deportment. Fervent piety/ taught her humility in life, and gave her tran-/quility in the hour of death./ Oh, Death/ thou hast demanded another victim/ and an afflicted mother rears this testimonial/ of thy relentless power.

Mrs. Ann Ogle Steele/ Wife of/ John N. Steele/ of Dorchester County/ Died on the 21st April 1859/ in the 40th Year of her age./ He who erects this last sad tribute to thy sainted memory./ Oh! perfect wife, perfect mother,/ perfect, faultless being to all,/ but to thine own lowly view of thy self,/ cannot "in tables of stone" recount thy virtues,/ thy Heavenly purity, thy gentleness, brilliant talents, unceasing devotion to him and his children, thy forgetfulness of none but thyself. The broken heart alone can record worth like thine./ His only consolation is that while he mourned thy last sigh/ thy gentle spirit heard His voice, in whose blood/ thou hadst so humbly and earnestly tried to wash white thy robes/ saying "Come ye blessed children of my father, inherit the/ Kingdom prepared for you from the beginning of the world."/ In the despairing agony of worldly desolation he saw thee again/ while thy calm and tranquil brow seemed to say,

I know a voice you cannot know Forbidding one to stay
 I see a hand you cannot see Which beckons me away.

May he and each of your children/ be enabled at last to say/ to Him who freed thy spirit,/ from its pure and lovely house of clay./ "Though He slay me, yet will I live in Him."/ Their hearts hurt/ when they recall thy sufferings for eighteen months/ Suffering _____ without a murmur or complaint by thee,/ ever humbly trusting in Him who had said/ "Weep not thou afflicted, tossed with tempest/ _____ thou _____ thro' the waters/ I will be with thee."/ We now mourn thy earthly death/ thy spirit now rejoices/ at its birth to eternity.

Sacred to the cherished memory of/ Ann Elizabeth/ wife of/ Essex R. Dorsey/ and daughter of the late/ Richard Dorsey/ of Hockley, A. A. Co./ Md./ and great, great Grand-daughter of/ John Dorsey/ The first settler of this/ the Hockley Estate in the year 1661/ Born November 17, 1803/ departed this life/ September 10, 1862/ I laid me down and slept, I awaked/ for the Lord sustained me.

In memory of/ Essex Ridley/ Second Son of/ Essex R. & Ann Elizabeth Dorsey/ Died Aug. 23rd, 1852/ in the 16th year of his life./ If the deep rooted affection of Father,/ Mother, Brothers, Sisters, Relatives &/ Friends could have retained thee/ longer in our midst then would's't/ thou not so soon have departed, Most/ rich in promises that so adorn &/ beautify humanity./ But the great "I am"/ whose ways are above the scrutiny of man/ decreed it otherwise and here thou liest/ enshrouded in the cold mantle of death./ That meek modesty of mien so peculiarly/ thine own, and yet so effective on others/ The natural eye no longer beholdeth/ that merry laugh, that came gushing/ from the full free soul, and claimed/ its willing heart as thine own, no/ longer glideth before our vision/ but thine image is entwined around/ our spirits and must continue there/ to dwell till time shall have called/ us into eternity to embrace thee, we/ humbly trust in heavenly blessing.
