EASTON TO BE LIGHTED WITH GAS.—Pursuant to public announcement the citizens of Easton held a meeting in the Court House on Thursday evening last, to take into consideration the project of lighting the town with gas. The meeting was large, and was organized by calling Mr. Wm. H. Groome to the chair and appointing Mr. L. Dodson Secretary. The object of the meeting was then stated by Mr. Sprague, agent of the Baltimore Portable Gas Company, and the economy and superiority of the gas light, elucidated in a very satisfactory manner—a company was formed composed of the following five gentlemen: Col. Sam'l Hambleton, Wm. H. Groome, Col. R. Thomas, I. C. W. Powell, L. H. Campbell, Escrs. The meeting then adjourned to meet last evening at 7½ o'clock. Yesterday the company was engaged in soliciting stock or subscriptions, and had, when last informed nearly the whole amount ($10,000) necessary to insure the object of the enterprise. In the course of ninety days then, we may expect to have the town illuminated with gas.

MARYLAND INSTITUTE.—The tenth annual exhibition of American manufactures and the mechanic arts, under the direction and superintendence of the Maryland Institute, will be opened at the Hall of the Institute, on Tuesday evening, the 21st of September, and continue to the 27th of October. The Annual Exhibition and Cattle Show of the Maryland State Agricultural Society, will be held in Baltimore during the continuance of the Fair of the Maryland Institute, and hence that constitutes an additional inducement to Manufacturers, Mechanics, Inventors and Artists, to send their productions to the Hall of the Institute for the examination of the great body of the Agriculturists of Maryland, and the adjoining States who visit Baltimore for the purpose of witnessing both of these exhibitions.

DISAGREEABLE.—It would be very frequently the case no doubt, that those of our subscribers, who have their papers left in the front office, would miss getting them, were we not so careful in replacing the missing ones, from the fact that persons take them from their boxes, read them and lay them down, and probably never think of them again. When they attempt to replace them at all, it is very freqently the case that they are placed in the wrong box or the name folded in. These things look to be of a very trifling nature, but nevertheless, it is a great deal of trouble to us and very annoying to subscribers. We keep a regular file of the Gazette for reference, which can be seen at any time—but not for the purpose of cutting.

FIRE AT DENTON.—The granary and store, near the steamboat wharf, Denton, Caroline county, owned by Col. Bradley and occupied by Mr. Wm. Lednum, were consumed by fire on Saturday night last—It is supposed that the store was robbed and then set on fire. Mr. Lednum is a poor man, we learn, and unable to repair the loss.

EASTON MARKET.—Our market ranges as follows: Beef, 11 cts. per lb.; hams, 18¢ per lb.; ducks $3 per dozen; butter 25 cts.. lard, 18¢a20 cts.; meal, $1; corn, $1; Irish potatoes, 50 cts.; sweet potatoes, 1a$1.25; peaches 50a$1 00.

The Reading Gazette says there is a German in that city, who owns two houses, is well to do in the world, and keeps adding to his wealth by sending his children out to enact the part of common street beggars!

WE invite our readers to give the decision of Judge Goodloe, of Kentucky, a careful perusal, also the article headed "progressive democracy," on our first page.

"THE SHAKES."—There was a little squib appeared in the Star on Tuesday under this caption, which we think is calculated to do injury to Easton and vicinity. It is a well known fact that Easton for several years has been very healthy; though some years back it was characterized as a very sickly town. We did not know until we saw the article in the Star that it was more sickly this season, in this vicinity than usual during this time of year. It is doubtful whether there can be found a town on the Shore, or in the State, where there is, as a general thing, less sickness. Such notices are calculated to keep from our town strangers and persons who might otherwise come, as such things are copied by city papers, and spread to the world.

P. S.—Since the above was put in type we have received a card for publication, from all the Physicians and Druggists in the town, which will be found in another column, corroborating our statement.

ELECTION OF SENATOR.—The Governor has issued a warrant of election to supply the vacancy created by the resignation of Hon. Francis T. Davis, senator for Carroll County. The vacancy will be filled at the November election.

CALIFORNIA.—The Americans have nominated a full State ticket. G. W. Bowie, an able and influential man, is the Gubernatorial nominee. Our friends in the golden State have opened the campaign with spirit.

AMERICAN STATE CENTRAL COMMITTEE.—The American State Central Committee will meet at Temperance Temple, N. Gay street, Baltimore, on Monday evening, the 25th instant.

CAROLINE COUNTY, Sept. 12, 1857.

MR. EDITOR:—You no doubt think I have concluded to "knock under," and that you will not hear from me again. I have an excuse which I think is very plausible, it is this:—I have been waiting with a great deal of patience for my friend "Scissors" to work up the last "material" which I furnished him, he has failed to do so; consequently he has not fulfilled his promise. I expected to have seen a reply in last week's Journal, but it failed to come forth to-day. I was very much disappointed to find him "crowded out." What has become of him? Does he decline the questions propounded to him? Or has he directed his attention to the disaffected members of his party.

This two edged gentleman (Scissors, I allude to) reminds me very much of a peculiar kind of people I have heard of, who wear two faces, one at home, and another abroad. Now this gentleman who figures so conspicuously in the ranks of the "democratic," or "union" party is none other than one who figured largely in Talbot county as an expounder of American principles, and during the same campaign made political speeches in Caroline county, favorable to the democratic party; he after met the council in Easton, and made as fervent and devout American speeches as he was capable of doing. I was for a long time at a loss to know why it was he was so well versed in the "signs, countersigns, secrets and mysteries" of the order. The secret has at last come to light—he was once a member of the order, and continued to be such until some time after he left his native county and came to this to reside. Perhaps he was convinced of his error and repented thereof.

I promised to furnish the contributor to the Journal with "American material" until the 1st Wednesday in November. In one of his strains of eloquence he remarks: "And if the material furnished up to this time is a sample of that which is to follow I, (Scissors) will take pleasure in giving it proper notice." "I can assure him so long as he writes letters to the Gazette, so devoid of truth of statement, and incorrect in the deductions to be drawn they (Scissors) will retain an edge sufficiently keen to do service."

He has failed to give my last letter its "proper notice" it "devoid of truth;" if the statements made are correct, he has most assuredly noticed them by remaining silent. Perhaps his "Scissors" have become somewhat wiery edged and have found it a difficult matter to find the "proper ones" to sharpen them. It is a self-evident fact that the gentleman's "perceptive faculties" which have remained dormant so long have at last been brought to light, and he can now see with a "discriminating" eye, the falling off of Democracy or Unionism. He has been aroused to a sense of political danger, and instead of answering my last questions, has failed most egregiously by remaining mum.

I have not made the above remarks quaniam of drawing from my friend, that which he does not wish "to acknowledge."

The American party met in their respective districts on Saturdy, the 5th inst., and elected a committee of eleven in each district, which met in Denton the following Tuesday, and nominated the following ticket:

For State Senator, Tilghman Nuttle.—For Clerk of the Circuit Court, Robert J. Jump. For Register of Wills, Thos. H. Slaughter. For Delegates, Chas. H. Tood. Joshua McGonigal. For Sheriff Alexander Knotts. For County Commissioners, Albert A. Davis, R. R. Emerson, Marcelus Plummer.

As far as I have heard the ticket gives general satisfaction to the American party; the Democrats acknowledge it to be a good ticket, and say it was as good a selection as could have been made. There is no little dissatisfaction in their ranks. One of the candidates for Commissioner declines serving. If they do not use us unjust and lay aside the Constitution, they will not carry the county by as large a majority as when the last county ticket was elected. I have no doubt we shall elect a portion if not the entire ticket.

Our candidates are well known to the people of the county, and not a single objection can be raised against them. Some Democrats say ours is a good ticket, and their committee might have done better. So mote it be.

You will hear from me again shortly.

Yours. 2D DISTRICT.

[COMMUNICATED.]

MR. EDITOR:—I never was more surprised than on Tuesday at the announcement in the Star, that the ague and fever prevails to a greater extent in Easton and vicinity and county than it has done at any previous season. I have since industriously inquired of the Physicians in Easton and from various parts of the county, in reference to the health of the county and all parts of the county, and learn that it was never better, and that very little sickness or disease of any sort prevails.

What could have induced the Editor of the Star to write and publish this libel upon the health and character of the county, I cannot conceive. People abroad not knowing the unenviable character of the Star as regards veracity, will probably give the article credence to the serious and irreparable detriment of the county. The Editor of the Star undoubtedly, as a good many other citizens, had been unjustly taunted with the health of the county, and instead of endeavoring to use what little influence he possesses as a journalist, to clear up the unjust and erroneous opinion that prevails in other communities in respect to us, he prostitutes his columns to slanderous articles conceived in bad taste, and though harmless at home, yet may operate to disadvantage abroad.

I have heard of no ague and fever in Easton, save in the Editor's own case—and judging from the health of the other portion of the town than that from which he hails, conclude that it must be produced by his own malaria.

Easton, Sept. 16. HEALTH.

New York Correspondence.

NEW YORK, Sept. 11, 1857.

The capacious stomach of New York is laboring in the pains of indigestion, owing to a deficiency of the social commercial gastic fluid—gold. We are rich enough in railway bonds, groceries and dry goods, but we are just in the condition of the dyspeptic old lady who "chewed up" a peck of gizzards [illegible] the digestion, but forgot to swallow [illegible] quantity of stones. The conseq[illegible] considerable amount of uneasiness and writhing and throwing up of numerous "bad eggs." One domestic dry goods commission house has gone under this week, to the tune of $1,200,000. mostly consumed in advances to manufacturers whose goods could not be converted into money. This makes the thirty-first failure of the week in this city. One of the broken houses had advanced a large amount of cash on "George Law's muskets," which seems to be everlastingly "turning up" somewhere. Another very heavy dry goods firm has all its immense property locked up in real estate, brought on by speculation. There have been no heavy failures of parties confining themselves to their legitimate business. This is a significant fact. The excitement is not so great in financial circles as it was last week. The danger ahead is no misty uncertainty but a well understood matter. If money does not grow more plenty before the beginning of next month, half the business men of New York, will be obliged to cave in. We know of a single case in which a house worth $1,000,000. "shinned around" a whole day, without success, in pursuit of the wherewithal to pay a note of $15,000. The very best names in the lower part of Broadway are discounting on the street at 2a2½ per cent. per month! Every occupation, particularly that of the city retailers, feels the deprivation of cash. Everybody who ever had any money has been tempted to lend it.—The credit of every large house, almost, has been attacked at different times. Still, we have had a fair week of business. Flour and sugar look downwards but cotton is quite firm. Dry goods stand the pressure better than they ever did before, as the importations have been comparatively light, and the domestic production is diminishing on account of the high cost of cotton. The western trade are in the city and buying well.

The cool weather has driven the man of the pleasure seekers back to town again—To-day and yesterday, however, are quite summer days, and a warm September is predicted by the knowing ones. The promenades grow gayer daily and with the return of the fair, amusements are setting in in full flood. The opera is in its glory and next week Thalberg gives one of his musical feasts to which the scientific musician and the untrained lover of simple harmony may together sit down and exceedingly rejoice.

The politicians are all out of town attending conventions, and owing to the absence of these lovers of the common weal, we have had a remarkably quiet week. Mrs. Cunningham has gone out on bail, nobody knows where, and nobody knows the men who bailed her. It seems she has some friends left. Thereby hangs the tail, which if pulled out, in extenso, would a tale unfold.

The fruit market presents a more satisfactory appearance to-day than it has done heretofore. Good peaches have been very scarce and high: $3a$4 per basket: they are coming down a little, and improving in quality. Grapes are backward in ripening owing to the coolness of the season: it is feared that the frost may cut short a part of this crop, which is a favorite and extensive one in city backyards. Apples are poor as yet: the supply from Jersey will be small this year. The lower classes of New York population rely principally upon imported fruits which do not vary much in price, such as bananaas, dates and peanuts. The skins of bananaas are a horrible nuisance: stepping on one is equivalent to a dislocation of the ankle. Otherwise they are an unobjectionable fruit, and furnish a great deal of cheap provision to the "bummers" who sleep under dirt-carts and eat anything they can force their teeth through. A very short season of life in the purloins of this city reduces a human being to depths of degradation of which the subject could never have conceived. We have heard recently of an aged woman of sixty-six years being dragged from her drunken bed in a Five Points gutter, by her son, an Englishman, owning a good farm in Maine. She came to this city at the age of sixty, with her children, a respectable and modest woman. The son left the city: the mother and daughters gradually sunk in the social scale, the daughters died prostitutes and the mother was dragged forcibly from the gutter, cursing her unrecognized son from whom she had parted with, weeping, only six years before! RIVINGTON.

A new German Baptist church has just been erected at Louisville

MRS. CUNNINGHAM.—The Grand Jury of the city and county of New York have found a true bill against Mrs. Cunningham, charging her with fradulently producing a false heir to the Burdell estate. The indictment contains several counts, and is drawn altogether according to the law in such cases made and provided. Mrs. C. had previously been admitted to bail on the charge involved in the indictment. It is stated that now the indictment has been found the District Attorney could again demand bail, but he had announced that rather than incur the charge of persecuting a woman, and even such as Mrs. C., he would decline availing himself of that privilege; which he would agree before Judge Peabody that the fact of an indictment having been found was an additional reason for him to refuse sureties that were exceptionable.—Philadelphia News.

YOUNG MEN'S LITERARY AND LIBRARY ASSOCIATION OF TALBOT COUNTY.

According to previous notice, the Young Men's Literary Association met at the Town Hall on Thursday evening last when Mr. Wm. H. Groome was called to the Chair, and S. B. Hopkins, Jr., appointed Secretary. The chairman then announced the object of the meeting; after which Dr. C. C. Cox and I. C. W. Powell were introduced to the meeting, and each in elegant and forcible speeches set forth the object of the society, and urged the necessity and duty of our citizens encouraging the society by donation of books, and also becoming members after which an invitation was given for persons to come forward, and give material aid, when several gentlemen of the assembly came forward and united themselves with said association, some as life members, others as honorary members and others as active members. On motion a vote of thanks was returned by the association to the officers of the meeting, and the honorable gentleman who addressed the assembly as active members. The terms of membership are as follows, to wit: For life membership $10.00; for honorary membership for 2 years, entitled to all the privileges of the library, but not compelled to perform any duties $5.00; for active membership $3 a year.

The meetings of the society are at present held in the Temperance Hall on Thursday evenings, and the Hall is open every evening in the week for the benefit of all those who desire to avail themselves of the advantages of the Library. The association is at present engaged in making particular provisions for the ladies, and hope that they will unitedly come up to their help.

A committee will wait upon the citizens with the terms of subscription and membership, and all who desire to subscribe or join as members will have an opportunity. By order,

R. O. GORE, Pres't.

A SHOCKING AFFAIR.—The Cambridge Herald says: Peter Kirwan, Keeper of the Light-boat at Hooper's Straights, in this county, was put in Cambridge Jail on Wednesday morning of last week, for stabbing George Davis, at Mr. Washington Gootee's Store, in Lane's District, on Tuesday evening last, which will no doubt prove fatal It seems that Kirwan supposed he had cause to be jealous of Davis and his wife, and on the evening in question, on seeing him charged him with having been intimate with her. At this Davis picked up the wooden bar of the door and struck at Kirwan, who eluded the blow, and rushing in, inflicted a horrible wound upon Davis in the abdomen with his knife, and as he fell stabbed him again in the side. Kirwan then stooped over to repeat the blow, when a bystander pulled him back. Davis then got up and attempted to strike Kirwan with the bar, but fell from loss of blood.—It is said there is no foundation for the accusations of Kirwan.

A CARD.

A STATEMENT having been made under the editorial head of the "Easton Star," calculated to produce a highly erroneous impression abroad in regard to the health of this Town and vicinity, the undersigned, resident Physicians of Easton, deem it proper to declare—

That for several years past the epidemic fever usual to this section have been gradually and certainly diminishing, until the health of the town and neighborhood will compare favorably with that of any town, of equal population, in the State.

They further assert that the present season, up to this date, has been marked by fewer cases of Intermittent fever (or fever and ague) than for a number of previous years, and the aggregate amount of disease of all kinds is not greater than usual; while for the most part the cases under treatment are exceedingly mild and manageable.
