THE EASTERN SHORE CONVENTION

On Wednesday last, as had been announced by the press generally of the State, a large and respectable Convention assembled at this place for the purpose of the citizens of the counties of this Shore to interchange views and give expression of opinions as to what step should be taken to secure to her the acknowledged just claim which the State now owes. All the counties, we believe, were represented, except one—that of Somerset—though some of them not so fully as we would like to have seen. Cecil, had but one representative, and we think Kent but one or two. It appeared previous to this Convention that the citizens of some of the counties were under the impression that it would be useless for them to attend this Convention, as Caroline and Talbot counties would vote in a body to crush to the earth their voice. But it will be seen by the proceedings of the Convention that those counties who had but one representative had the same voice in the Convention as this and Caroline county—as all questions were voted on by counties, and Talbot and Caroline acquiescing in the desires of the other counties.—The most of Wednesday was occupied in organizing, drafting addresses, &c., as something for the Convention to work upon. H. H. Goldsborough, Esq., made a short but strong appeal to the Convention, in behalf of the interests of the Shore.

On Thursday morning the discussion upon the address drawn up by the committee appointed for that purpose, to the Governor of Maryland and submitted to the Convention, was opened by Dr. C. C. Cox of Talbot, in an eloquent speech, going in for the spirit of the address, but spoke against language contained in it—referring to the new Constitution. Thinking it not calculated to have a good effect.

The next that spoke was Wm. B. Clark, Esq., of Talbot, charging upon some of the members of the last Legislature of being ignorant of their duty, and others, although having to take the oath of office, not doing their duty. He then touched upon the subject in a legal point of view.

Jas. Ll. Martin, Esq., was the next to address the Convention, which he did in an able and argumentative manner. He discussed the appropriation question in a legal point, and showed by strong argument that the Shore's rights had been trampled upon, and that we are justly entitled to the money without further delay. After Mr. M. concluded Dr. Cox made a few explanatory remarks to the Convention, as he thought his language or meaning had been misconstrued by Mr. M. That it was not his intention to impede the progress of the Convention or throw any obstacle in the way to mar the harmony which should characterize its proceedings. Far from it. He said he felt as deeply interested and as warmly accorded with the spirit of the Convention as any man, but thought the address to the Governor contained language which was unnecessary, and such as he desired to see expunged from the document.

Col. Milton Y. Keidd, of Cecil, next addressed the Convention to some length.—He said that se-cession had been spoken of, but he could speak for old Cecil as never giving in to any such measure, and if the address to the Governor contained any such language he begged the Convention to excuse him from voting, and consider Cecil as not, through him, represented. There were some substitutes which he wished to offer to portions of the address, and erasures which he desired to be made, when on a vote being taken his desires were granted.

Col. Hambleton, of Talbot, next addressed the Convention, and in the course of his address alluded to the Constitutional obstacle that some held up as being the only thing that impeded the settlement of this claim. He asked why was it considered unconstitutional to pay the debt in money, but perfectly constitutional to pay it in stocks? He took up other like points in favor of the payment of the debt. After the conclusion of Col. Hambleton's speech Gen. Tilghman, the President of the Railroad Company, made a brief but pertinent address. He considered language expressed in the address to Gov. Hicks, which others thought unnecessary and might operate against its object, to be strong arguments in its favor. The General, to the best of our recollection, in speaking of the last Legislature, said there was but two Senators who voted for the appropriation "that had not some other object in view." That he spurned all party feeling in this matter; that he did not consider this Convention as either acting against or for a Constitutional Convention, that the participants in it were not committed either way. As for himself he believed the old Constitution defective.

We wish we had time and space to notice more extensively the various speeches that were made on the occasion.

THE COUNTY MAP.—We understand that Mr. Wm. B. Dilworth is now engaged in revising and correcting the proposed map of the county, before placing it in the hands of the engraver and publisher; and of which we deem proper to inform those of our citizens who are not already aware of it, as it will be necessary for him to invite persons to his office in Easton, to examine the accuracy of the map in some particulars, and to visit various sections of the county to ascertain more minutely the location of farms and dwellings, and the courses of small creeks not laid down upon the United States Coast Survey charts. We hope that all upon whom he may call, will treat him with that civility which is due to a stranger engaged in so important a work, and aid him with all the information they severally possess.

We predict that this map will be of great advantage to this county. The water courses of Talbot, which bewilder while they delight the stranger, and which give to the county unrivalled advantages as well as beauty, cannot be understood and duly appreciated, even by our own citizens, until the peculiar and intricate geography of the county shall be fully and intelligibly developed by a map of sufficient size to effect that object

How valuable it will be to the county commissioners in deciding questions as to the necessity and proper location of roads and school houses, laying off road districts, &c., &c.

By its exhibition of the extraordinary number of handsome sites for dwellings, and of the agricultural resources and advantages, possessed by this county, how many valuable citizens will probably be induced to bring their wealth and settle among us.

Ponder upon the influence which this map will exert, fellow citizens, upon the interests of Talbot at home, and her character and reputation abroad, and let us all encourage its early publication and extensive distribution.

WORK OF THE BLIND.—Mr. Bowen, a blind man, is in our midst, and we have been requested to state that he will preach in the M. E. Church on Sunday (to-morrow morning) at 11 o'clock, and at night in the M. P. Church.

In a few days he will offer to the citizens of Easton, a book written by himself, and the proceeds accruing from the sale of which is the means of his support. The book is neatly gotten up, and contains highly interesting matter; a biographical sketch of the author, essays, &c. Let us give you a small sample of his verses, in reply to a question propounded to him by a Lady, as to which of the many beautiful surrounding objects, had he his sight, would engage his undivided attention:

"I oft have wished in vain to view
The earth, the sea, and sky,
The pretty flowers, the lovely stars,
That gladden every eye.

But oftener far I've yearned to see
That home of love and grace,
Where beauty ever sits enshrined,—
A pretty maiden's face.

And oh! if I could see to-day,
Fair one, I tell the true!
I'd turn from all the world away,
And gaze alone on you!"

F. W. THOMAS, Esq.—The lecture of this distinguished gentleman on Tuesday night last, we understand, was an intellectual and oratorical treat rarely afforded our citizens. The illustrations of Clay, Webster, Calhoun and others, were the most graphic and appropriate; while the closing allusion to the recently deceased Benton was touchingly and eloquently beautiful.—Few men have the faculty of so completely enchaining a public audience, as has Mr. Thomas. Last evening the Young Men's Christian's Association were to have the benefit of his services, and to night his last lecture will be delivered in the Town Hall, to be interspersed by readings from favorite authors. Let no one fail to hear the eloquent son of the South.

FOR SPITE.—We understand that a negro man belonging to H. H. Goldsborough, Esq., of this town, known by the name of Dick Hayward, and has since Christmas been in the employ of Mr. James Bartlett, near the Royal Oak, ranaway a few days ago, and on Mr. B.'s going after him, the negro refused to return, and deliberately cut all the fingers off his left hand.

MAGAZINES.

FOR MAY.—Peterson for May has been received, and its pages are interspersed with splendid engravings. Its reading matter is of the highest character, and in every respect calculated to attract attention.

Godey is at hand, and does credit to its publisher. In point of beauty and neatness it is hard to surpass.

Arthur's Magazine is also entitled to a share of patronage, as it contains fine engravings, good reading matter, and its general appearance is very neat.

Graham has also been received. It is an old established magazine, needs nothing more said about it than it can speak for itself.

Any lady, by taking the above magazines one year, which would cost some eight or ten dollars, and have them bound, would secure a number of beautiful books for her parlor table, which would otherwise take three times that amount to purchase.

TO CORRESPONDENTS.—We have received a poem entitled "Musings," by "Rose," which will appear next week.

We have also received a prose article from "Harry Grenville," which we have not yet had time to peruse, and one from another talented correspondent, entitled "Pretence and Reality, or something picked from a Port Folio," which owing to its great length we are not able to publish. It is with great regret that we have to return it without giving it publicity. Although we have not read the whole of the article, we have seen sufficient to justify us in saying that it is a story of no ordinary taste. We hope therefore our friend will not think that any other was the cause of its rejection than its length. The manuscript we have already received would make in our paper about twelve columns. His articles, when brief, we would be glad to receive.

WE would call the attention of farmers to samples of Phosphatic Guano, to be seen at the store of Mr. John Goldsborough.—Upon a great variety of soils it is said to be fully equal to the Peruvian in its fertilizing effects, is preferable to giving a succession of crops, and has the advantage of being but a little more than one half the price of the article generally used in this vicinity.

NEW ARRANGEMENTS.—From the advertisement in another column, it will be seen that the Hugh Jenkins resumed her routes on the 15th inst., and her trips to Cambridge and other points will be ran on Thursdays and Tuesdays instead of Fridays and Tuesdays as heretofore.

DEATH OF THOS. H. BENTON.—Hon. Thos. H. Benton, U. S. Senator, breathed his last in Washington on Sunday last.—His remains have been carried to Missouri. Thus has passed away another man of great note.

HON. James A. Stewart will please accept our thanks for a pamphlet copy of his speech, delivered in the House of Representatives, on the admission of Kansas.

EASTON, April 14th, 1858.

Pursuant to call made by the citizens generally of the Eastern Shore of Maryland, the Convention assembled this day at 11 o'clock, A. M., to take into consideration the best means of securing and protecting the rights of said Shore. A large number of persons were present, and great interest was manifested on the occasion.

On motion of I. C. W. Powell, Esq., Col. Sam'l. Hambleton was called to the Chair for the purpose of a temporary organization. He stated fully the object of the meeting whereupon, on motion of Mr. Powell, Dr. P. S. Reynolds and Wm. B. Clark were appointed Secretaries.

A committee consisting of one from each county was then appointed to nominate permanent officers for the Convention. The following gentlemen composed the committee:—F. W. Smyth from Kent, W. I. Gibson from Queen Ann's, W. E Downes from Caroline, Richard Arringdale from Talbot, Dr. Joseph Flint from Dorchester, W. E. Timmons, from Worcester and Milton Y. Keidd of Cecil. After retiring the committee presented the following report:

For President—Capt. Thos. B. Sherman of Dorchester county. For Vice President—G. W. P. Smith of Worcester county, and Mathias George of Queen Ann's county, which report was received and adopted.

On motion of H. H. Goldsborough, Esq., the said committee was appointed to draft resolutions to be submitted to the meeting for their action.

On motion of Dr. C. C. Cox, F. W. Thomas from Charleston, South Carolina, was admitted to a seat in the Convention. The Convention then took a recess until 3 o'clock, P. M.

WEDNESDAY, April 14, 3 o'clock, P. M

The Convention again assembled at the hour appointed, and the Chairman of the committee made a report which was received, laid on the table and after discussion adopted.

James Ll. Martin, Esq., offered the following resolution which upon motion was adopted:

Resolved, That the votes upon all questions taken by this Convention shall be taken by counties, and each county entitled to one vote.

A motion was then made to adjourn until 10 o'clock, A. M. next day which was adopted.

THURSDAY, April 15th, 1858.

The Convention again assembled pursuant to adjournment. The attendance much larger than the preceding day.

A letter from numerous citizens of Dorchester county was read by Col. Hambleton in which they expressed their deep interest in the claim due the Shore.

The right of the claim was fully discussed during the session of the Convention by Dr. C. C Cox, Col Hambleton, James Ll. Martin, Esq., H. H. Goldsborough, Esq., Col. Milton Y Keidd, Gen. T. Tilghman, and Wm. B. Clark, Esq.

An address to be presented to his Excellency, the Governor of Maryland, was adopted by the Convention, and the following committee appointed to present the same:

Cecil—Milton Y. Kidd. Esq. Kent—James H. Cummins, Esq. Queen Ann's—Maj. Jas. Merrick. Caroline—Alexander Knotts, Esq. Dorchester—Capt. Thos. B. Sherman. Worcester—Dr. J. L. Hearn. Talbot—A. P. Jump, Esq.

After which upon motion of Col. Keidd the thanks of the Convention were tendered to the officers for the faithful discharge of their respective duties.

The Convention then adjourned,

By order

LIQUOR SPILLING.—The landlord of the Stage House, impelled by some motive best known to himself, on Monday night, brought into the street his whole stock of liquors, and emptied them into the gutter. The stock consisted of a quantity of rum, gin, brandy, whiskey and wine. We learn that he has pledged himself to keep hereafter a temperance house.—Paris (Me.) Dem,

BRIGHAM YOUNG.

It seems that Brigham not only, defies the General Government but has dared to warn Colonel Johnson to depart with his troops from their present position, under the penalty of being cut to pieces. Brigham brags strongly, but whether he will be able to hold fast when the pinch comes, is yet to be seen. We trust that our Government will not be caught napping, but will send on reinforcements to the army in time to prevent Brigham from carrying his threat into execution.

When this Mormon trouble first began, we recommended that a force of fifteen to twenty thousand men should be forthwith sent to chastise the rebels; but there were so many delays, and the force sent at last was so inadequate to the emergency, that time has been "given to the Mormons to make all their preparations for defence;" to embody and discipline their forces—and, probably, to enlist the neighboring Indians in their cause. It has been stated, that Colonel Johnston will probably make the attack early this spring with the force now under his command. We hope that he will not do so rash an act, as his defeat would be productive of the most disastrous consequences. We have no apprehension that the Mormons, will become the assailing party—for, however bravely Brigham may talk, we suspect that he will be careful to avoid collision with our army, small as it is. But Government ought to hurry on the reinforcements as speedily as possible, that we may have an end put to this intestine warfare.—Clipper.

THE SLAVE TRADE.—Important Correspondence.—It is stated that important diplomatic correspondence, lately carried on between the British Minister, Lord Napier, and General Cass, relative to the slave-trade, has reached the climacteric in a long, able and convincing note from the venerable Secretary, addressed to Lord Napier, reviewing the whole subject, and furnishing a complete answer to the demands and pretensions of the British government. A correspondent of the New York Times says:

Several notes had previuosly passed—Lord Napier complaining, on the part of his government, that the American flag is used on the African coast as a cover to slavers of all nations, and maintaining that the United States is bound to increase the African squadron from three, the present number of vessels, to four, &c.

Gen. Cass communicates to Lord Napier the views of our government at length, and in a manner which must silence, if not satisfy, Lord Napier and his government. Gen. Cass, however, studiously avoids giving offense to England, though he comments with great and deserved severity upon the Coolie trade, and the laws of England relating thereto, and animadvert with equal justice upon the African apprentice system of Louis Napoleon.

General Cass regrets the abuse of the American flag by vessels not entitled to claim that protection, but cannot admit that our government is responsible for this abuse to a greater extent than it has employed its efforts to prevent it. He further refuses to add another vessel to our African squadron and after reviewing the treaty stipulations, contends that we have fully complied with them, in letter and in spirit.

The document is written in strong but temperate language, and though severe and occasionally sarcastic, contains nothing at which the British government can possibly take serious umbrage. It is an able State paper, and will increase the reputation of Gen. Cass.

DISGRACEFUL AFFRAY.—After the adjournment of the House this afternoon, April 12, as nearly all the members lingered in the Hall conversing either in groups or in their seats, they were startled by a fight between Mr. Craige, of North Carolina, and Mr. Helper, the author of a book called "The Impending Crisis," formerly of the same State.

They had just before been angrily engaged in conversation. Crowds immediately rushed in and separated the combatants while they were engaged in dealing heavy blows. Mr. Helper was temporarily taken in charge by the Sergeant-at-Arms. A number of ladies on the floor were frightened witnesses of the disgraceful proceedings.

An investigation was held this afternoon before a magistrate when Senator Hale and Montgomery Blair appeared as his counsel. The justice held him in security to keep the peace.

FREEDOM SHRIEKERS.—Another meeting of the Red Republican Universal Freedom Executive Committee of New York, was held at the Steuben House, on (Sunday) morning, but could not agree upon naming the day for their proposed demonstration in honor of the memory of Orsini. A general meeting of foreigners of all descriptions is to be held on Tuesday, (to-day) to make the final preparations. Among other things contemplated, will be an effigy of Louis Napoleon, which will be dragged along with the torch light procession, and when it reaches a certain point—meaning the Opera House, in Fourteenth street—a number of mock infernal machines will be let off, killing the Emperor outright, amidst the heartiest vociferations of "Vive la Republique."

SHOCKING OUTRAGE.—Sixteen laboring men left Washington, on the 14th, on the turnpike for Baltimore, and this afternoon Justice Donn received intelligence that when two miles distant the men met a woman whom they assaulted. Knives were drawn, and she was dragged into the woods and brutally treated. Officers were dispatched in pursuit, and thirteen of the wretches arrested at Beltsville. The prisoners were tied and brought back this evening in the cars. Justice Donn committed them all to jail for further examination when it is hoped all witnesses will be present. Their return created considerable excitment.

BLOODY AFFRAY.—The Kemper (Miss,) Democrat of the 18th ult., states that a difficulty occurred near that place, a day or two previous, between two men named Heron and Doughty, and that the former attacked the latter with a "six-pound bowie knife." Doughty defended himself with a pocket knife, and the conflict was terrible, many dangerous wounds being received by both, about the head, face, breast, and sides.—Heron broke his knife, and was mortally injured. Doughty, it was thought, might recover.

A NATION AT PRAYER.—A gentleman from Ohio lately stated that, by adding his personal observations to those of a friend, he could say that from Omaha City, Nebraska, to Washington, there was a line of prayer meeting along the whole length of the road; so that wherever a Christian traveller stopped to spend the evening, he could find a crowded prayer meeting across the entire breadth of our vast republic. There is a great revival throughout Canada, and at Quebec the most intense religious interest is manifested.

A RARE BIRD.—Mr. George Still, of West Vincent, Chester County, Pa., shot a bird last week, which was an object of curiosity, not having been seen before in those parts. It was of the form and size of a crane—long neck, legs, and wings. The wings extended from tip to tip, five or six feet. Its wings were a dark color, white on the side of its head—on the breast under the wings the feathers were black, mixed with white feathers. The down was yellow and very soft. Its bill was long and sharp and on its head were long tuft feathers, which hung back gracefully about the neck. It was first observed on a tree, near the barn; and when it was approached, it flew, and was shot on the wing.

ATTEMPTED PETTICOAT SWINDLE.—At Battle creek, New York, the other evening two gentlemen and a lady—one of the real skirt expanders—got aboard the cars for Chicago. One gentleman and his wife had through tickets, while the other paid his fare only to the first station. From certain manifestation, George Wandles, the conductor, who is keen on scent, concluded it was the intention of the trio to dead-head one of the party through. On arriving at Augusta, the gentleman did not get out, and on search being made, he was found secreted in the ladies' saloon. He was brought forth, and directed, to leave the train at the next station, but on arriving there he was not to be found. After a long and diligent search, in which everybody had become interested, it was concluded he had leaped off the train while in motion. Speculation was then rife as to his fate, when a gentleman sitting near the lady of big dimensions, hinted that those hoops might there "a tale unfold." On producing a light, four feet were seen protruding from her petticoats, which it was unreasonable to suppose belonged to one person, and the lady was requested to rise, which she did after some hesitation, revealing the lost passenger.
