ANOTHER ATTEMPT AT THE CABLE.—Fail, or to be out-done, appears to be in direct opposition to the nature and set principles of our nation. Perseverance has overcome many obstacles in life and in the scientific world has done wonders, and brought out for the use and comfort of man that which was once buried far in obscurity. The Baltimore Clipper says, "the opinion is generally entertained that the failure of the Atlantic Telegraph is attributable to the insufficient wrapping of the conducting wire, and its untwisting from the action of the sea, and the consequent exposure and destruction of the conductor. This belief has aroused the inventive genius of our countrymen, and produced the invention of a plaited wire wrapping which retains all necessary flexibility, while it is incapable of being untwisted. It has been invented and patented by our fellow-citizen, Henry J. Rogers, Esq. It is about a quarter of an inch in diameter, or one-third the size of the Atlantic cable, already laid down, and consists of a copper wire in the centre, about as large as a good sized knitting needle, covered first with a layer of gutta-percha, and next with a braid of fine flax or hemp thoroughly saturated with pitch. It is flexible, yet very solid and evidently durable. It is intended that the 'cable' shall be covered with wire plaited like the thread that covers the specimen. The great desideratum for a submarine cable will thus be obtained. It will not be liable to kink, to break or to untwist, but will be quite as flexible as any other cable and will afford a perfect insulation of the conducting wire.

This invention has been submitted to Lieut. M. F. Maury, of scientific renown, and elicited from him a letter of commendation.

We understand that a company has already been formed in that city for the manufacture of his newly invented submarine cable, and it is expected that it will be adopted by the Boston and Halifax Submarine Telegraph Company. The invention of Mr. Rogers seems to overcome all the difficulties which occasioned the failure of the Atlantic telegraph, and may yet lead to the success of that enterprize, and enable us to realize all that was expected from it.

INDIANA.—Our exchanges daily bring to light stronger opposition to the present Administration. From nearly every section we hear of all parties uniting in opposition to the powers at Washington. The following indicates that the breech between the Lecompton and anti-Lecompton democracy in the West, at least, is wider than was supposed. The New Albany Tribune says that in the election of officers of the Legislature the anti-Lecompton democrats, Republicans, Americans and old line Whigs cordially united. This is the beginning of a harmonious union of all the elements of opposition to the democratic party proper. It is but the beginning of the end, and shows that notwithstanding the prayers and protestations of the Buchanan organ at Washington, the democracy are not as formerly a unit. The slavery question has been for years their sole reliance. They have sedulously promoted slavery agitation, taking care themselves to show two faces, one white for the North and the other black for the South. But the fire-brand they cast forth in 1854 to distract and divide the opposition has been flung back into their own camp. There it blazes with increased intensity. It has proved a boomerang which returns upon the head of the unlucky thrower. The poisoned cup which they presented to the opposition in '56 is now commended to their own lips; and while the opposition is every where uniting, the fierce democracy are rent with domestic discord. The unity and harmony of the party are gone. Their anti-slavery proclivities at the North, and pro-slavery proclivities at the South have been exposed, and the masses of the people are unwilling to follow either the Northern democratic abolition advocates, or the Southern democratic disunion fire-eaters. Duplicity served it for a time, but that time is past, and now the eyes of the whole people are opening to a true appreciation of the tricks that have been played upon them, and the conservatives even of the democratic party are ashamed of their association and repudiate its leaders as well as its doctrines.

MEETING.—A protracted meeting will be commenced in the M. P. Church in this town, on the 1st of January.

MEETING OF CONGRESS.—The second session of the 35th Congress opens on Monday next, and closes on the 4th of March. Should a quorum of both houses be present on Monday, the President's message may be sent in on the same day. It will, says the Balt. Patriot, unquestionably attract considerable attention, and is expected with increasing interest as the day approaches for its promulgation, owing to the immense number of subjects necessary to be discussed since the advent of the present Congress, and from the fact that curiosity fills the public mind with regard to the opinions and conclusions arrived at by the Administration.

The revenue, affairs in Utah, Central America, Paragua, Indian difficulties, Kansas and Lecompton will be but a few of the intricate subjects requiring the most delicate treatment upon the part of the President, and however nicely he may handle them he will meet with fierce opposition to his policy, whatever it may be, from the heterogeneous material in the halls of Congress.

It is also knowingly intimated, by Washington letter writers and others, that a bold stroke will be made towards the annexation of Cuba, which is a favorite theme of Mr. Buchanan. The editor of the Richmond South, who writes as though he had been behind the curtains, is confident that the Cuban question will occupy a prominent position in the forthcoming message, and that the acquisition of that Island will be urged peaceably, and for a fair equivalent, if possible, but forcible, if necessary.

We judge from the length and tone of the article in the last Star, that the editor is satisfied and desires a discontinuance of the controversy. We can truly say that we have no disposition to prolong such an one, for it is the reverse of our taste and believe it foreign to the relish of our readers; but we believe we have acted on the defensive, and can assure the editor of the Star that he has not knocked us from our equilibrium by his threats, &c. And if he rests easy in his boots we shall not object to it, nor envy his position. Upon this subject we have nothing more to say than to add, that when we are treated in a gentlemanly and courteous manner, those that thus treat us, will receive the same in return; but when a different disposition is shown we shall not remain silent.

MR. WM. R. WARNER, who was raised in our county, and for several years in the Drug Store of Mr. Levin H. Campbell of this town, we are glad to see, is attracting the attention of the press in Philadelphia. The Ledger, in noticing the exhibition at the Franklin Institute, in that city, and where he now resides, says: "In the second story Mr. Wm. R. Warner has on exhibition a superb lot of pharmaceutical preparations, drugs, medicines, etc. They are prepared with much care, and for medicine, look very tempting."

RACE.—The race announced some days since, to take place between the race mare belonging to Mr. James Grason of Queen Annes and the beautiful stallion, 'Skipton,' belonging to Mr. W. H. W. Powell of this county, took place in Steambot Lane, on Kent Island, on Tuesday, the 30th ult.—The race was one mile heat, and made in very short time—the horse leading in the race 25 yards, under a heavy pull all the way. Queen Annes couldn't hold a light.

OUR Court is still in session—but as it will, no doubt, close to-day or the first of next—we would say to our friends who owe us little bills, we would thankfully receive the overplus, after they pay their expenses, if they have no serious objection.

TALBOT COUNTY, MD., is in a fair way to become a paradise of "Buffers." We see, from the Star, that out of twenty cases tried during the last session of the Court, fifteen were cases of assault and battery.—And these luxuries are afforded at remarkably cheap rates. A regular set-to costs but $1, a black eye, a bloody nose, a kick in the seat of honor, each 50 cents; or all three for $1; a slap in the face 25 cents; a tweak of the nose 13 cents. As might be expected from these low rates, in spite of the hard times, all classes indulge in these enjoyments, from a "free nigger" to a State's Attorney.—Smyrna Times.

We would say to our cotemporary that it would take a number of such offenses as the above, to amount to the horrible murder of Cook in that State, a short time since where the perpetrator even got off cheaper than 13 cents. We have no pillories in which to punish a man for stealing an old hat, till he is black in the face, nor the refined mode of punishing females, white or black, by throwing a raw hide on the naked back.

MARINE LOSSES FOR NOVEMBER.—A list of marine losses for the past month shows an aggregate of forty-one vessels, of which seven were ships, one a bark, ten were brigs, and twenty-three schooners. The total value of property lost was six hundred and sixty-three thousand five hundred dollars. This is the value of the property totally lost, exclusive of damage to vessels not amounting to a total loss and of partial losses of cargo. The losses for the last eleven months have been 300 vessels, valued at $8,045,391, against 525 vessels, valued at $16,250,800 during the same time last year.

THE HOG MARKET.—At Louisville, up to the close of last week, 109,344 hogs had been killed, leaving 25,162 in pens. They were arriving faster than in any former year. At St. Louis, last Friday, prices ranged at 6 25a$6 50. At Cincinnati the season's receipts up to Friday evening reached 137,331 head, against 95,081 same time last year? Prices on Friday ranged from $6 50 to $6 80. At Hagerstown, Md., pork has been selling at $5 per cwt., which is less than for several years past.

THERE appears to be a tremendous hubbub in Carroll county, owing to the County Commissioners being unable to account for some $21 000 which have been collected from the people of that county. We give below an article from the Sentinel, that our readers may have a full understanding of it:

COUNTY AFFAIRS.

Twenty-one Thousand Dollars Unaccounted For.

The records of the County show that in the year 1847, the County debt did not exceed $3,000. In 1855, the County debt had reached the enormous sum of THIRTY-FOUR THOUSAND DOLLARS. During that period there was levied and collected from the people of the County the sum of SIXTEEN THOUSAND DOLLARS to sink the County debt; and there was a further debt incurred of Twenty-Six Thousand Dollars to purchase a Farm and build an Alms House.—The liabilities of the County then, as shown by the records, as kept by JACOB MYERLY, Clerk to the County Commissioners during all that time, over and above the ordinary expenses of the County, did not exceed the sum of TWENTY-NINE THOUSAND DOLLARS. Sixteen Thousand Dollars have been levied and collected to meet this extraordinary expenditure, and yet, at the end of the term, instead of lessening the amount of County indebtedness, it is found to have increased to the enormous sum of THIRTY-FOUR THOUSAND DOLLARS.

These facts the Books of the County show. Let the interested tax-payers of the County examine the books and records in the Commissioner's Office, and they will find this statement true to the letter.

There appears, then, by the books and statements of the Board of Commissioners, as published to the people during that period, a deficit in the County funds of the ENORMOUS SUM OF TWENTY-ONE THOUSAND DOLLARS, which deficit has, in part, been replaced by a voluntary surrender by MYERLY of Two Thousand Dollars, and a judgment in Carroll County Court, against JONATHAN DORSEY, for upwards of Seven Hundred more; amounting, in the whole, to the sum of something over Twenty-seven Hundred Dollars, leaving upwards of Eighteen Thousand Dollars yet unaccounted for, except so far as JACOB MYERLY is implicated in having TWENTY-SIX HUNDRED DOLLARS yet in his possession, which cannot be satisfactorily accounted for,—which sum being deducted from the Eighteen Thousand, still leaves a balance of over Fifteen Thousand, which, for all that, now is, or ever has appeared, on record, has gone to the tomb of the capulets, or more likely to the pockets of some Honest Democratic ex-officials. It is quite likely JACOB can tell where, but Jacob has already been designated as a fool for not succeeding better in hiding his part of the plunder!

The act of Assembly requires the Commissioners of Tax to publish, at the end of every year, a full and correct statement of the receipts and expenditures of the County. From 1847, up to 1855, this was not done. Sixteen Thousand Dollars were levied to pay the County debt, and collected, also; but where the money has gone, there is nothing to show. The people have paid the money to the Collectors, but whether it remains in the Collector's hands, or in what manner it has been appropriated, does not appear by the Books, or published statements of the Commissioners; nor has the debt been paid.

The Act of Assembly authorizing the purchase of a farm and building an Alms House, expressly provided that County Bonds or Certificates should only be issued for that purpose. The gross cost of the Farm and Alms House was $26,000; yet, on the first of January, 1856, there were found to be outstanding the sum of THIRTY-FOUR THOUSAND DOLLARS in County Bonds or Certificates, at least Eight Thousand more than were authorized to be issued by law.

In regard to this matter the records show that County Bonds or Certificates were issued for the purpose of building Bridges, paying postage, and paying State witnesses, and a beautiful item appears of a bond for $1,000, being out-standing to pay the sum of $800, due for State witnesses.—Was the County shaved to the tune of twenty per cent., and who did the shaving?

Another fact is, that when Bridges and other matters, not authorized by law to be paid for in County Certificates, were so paid for, the charges for the same were, at the same time, put on the County Levy, and collected from the people in the form of taxes, by which arrangement the people have been, or are likely to be, compelled to pay twice over for the same service. That is, the cost of building the Bridge is paid for in Taxes, and Taxes are again levied to redeem a County Bond, which was issued for the same purpose. A County Certificate to the tune of $1,000, is issued to pay $800, due to State witnesses. The expenses of the Courts are levied for and collected from the people, and it is supposed that Jacob Myerly still holds the County Bond for $1,000!

A pretty arrangement, this, to make money, to say nothing of a neat little sum of $75, an extra charge made by the Honest Clerk for doing this business, and which charge was passed and paid by the Board.

The above facts the records of the County show. Let the honest, hard-working yeomanry of the County examine for themselves. Let them go to the Office of the Commissioners, and there search, and they will find ample proof of the truth of what we have stated. Newspapers prove nothing. Record evidence is generally considered best, and the Records of the County prove, incontestibly, the truth of the above statements and those records were kept by JACOB MYERLY. These records were kept under the direction and superintendence of a Democratic Board of Commissioners, guided and directed by Democratic Counsel.

We now say, candidly, we have no wish to make a party issue, or a party question of this matter, neither do we wish to implicate any innocent, honest citizen, of our County; but we do say, that every tax-payer in the County is deeply interested in having this whole affair truthfully and impartially shown up; and there are some gentlemen whose reputation is involved in having a full and true expose made of the whole matter. Let those gentlemen do the duty that the people, not we, now require of them. Let them come forward and show what has become of the $21,000; or, at least, that part of it that is yet unaccounted for, and all may yet be well with them.—We assure them that we mean not to make either a party or personal issue in this matter. We assure them again, we desire to injure the standing and reputation of no man. We have heretofore hinted; we now speak plainly; what we have said above cannot be misunderstood by any sensible man. The whereabouts of at least the $15,000 unaccounted for, must be accounted for, or every thinking man in the County will believe that Myerly was not the only man who has grown FAT on the public plunder!

SEWARD'S SPEECH.

Most of our brethren of the Democratic press are sorely concerned in relation to the late speech of Mr. Seward. The speech was, indeed, an atrocious one—but the attempt of the Democracy to make the Opposition at the South suffer for the sentiments of Seward, is a failure. The Southern Opposition have no sympathy with the doctrines of the New York Senator, nor do we believe the great mass of his own party have any more than we do.

The Democracy are already beginning to set up the old cry, that a Democrat must be selected President, in order to save the Union. Whenever the spoils begin to slip from the fingers of the Democracy, the Union at once becomes deeply imperilled. For one, we have too lively a recollection of the canvass in 1856, to participate in these patriotic tears. Then, Mr. Buchanan was to be elected to prevent the election of Fremont, to bring Kansas into the Union as a Slave State, and thus to save the Union. Buchanan was elected, and we should be glad to know what the cause of the South, or of the Union, has gained by the operation, and we should like to know how much worse off than we are now, would we have been, had Fremont been elected instead of Buchanan. The Democracy may save themselves the trouble of attempting to bolster up this wind-galled and spavined Administration, by shouting Seward and Abolition. Such cries now, instead of frightening Whigs into the support of the Democracy, only set them to reflecting on the fact that the Party has proved itself utterly incompetent to administer the Government for the good of the people, and the security of the rights of the South.—Lynchburg Virginian.

CUMBERLAND CITY (MD.) BANK.—The St. Louis Democrat is rejoicing over the fact that the notes of this exploded concern have but a small circulation in that section of country, which it attributes to its having been in such bad repute there that its issues have been at a discount of 5 per cent. for some time past. This is the second time within a few months that we have heard of the circulation of Maryland "paper money" in Missouri, just after the short-lived institutions that had issued them had exploded.

FLORIDA.—The Legislature of Florida assembled at Tallahassee on the 22d ult. John Finlayson, of Jefferson, was elected president of the Senate; and J. D. Gailbraith of Leon, speaker of the House.—Gov. Perry's message discourages the idea of reopening the slave trade, and favors the removal of the remaining Seminoles from Florida soil.

THE assassin of officer Rigdon was extensively known in Kansas city. The Journal of that city says he was arrested for stealing watches, store breaking &c., during his sojourn there.

SATURDAY EVENING POST.—Deacon & Peterson, 132 S. Third St., Phila. $2,00 per annum, in advance. It is full of choice reading. The publishers of the Evening Post have enlisted some of the best writers in the country for their columns. The "horrible" is very carefully excluded, as well as the trashy literature. Their place is more acceptably filled with careful selections and original articles from able pens.

THE PRINTER.—Henry & Huntington, 1 Spruce street, N. Y. $1,00. This monthly newspaper is a beautiful specimen of typography, and is intended for the goodly arm whose cognomen it bears on its title page. It can be best appreciated by those to whom it is more especially dedicated, though it also contains many articles of general interest.

GRAHAM'S MAGAZINE.—Graham for December is magnificent. Its samples of embroidery and other work for the ladies, are unsurpassed. All in want of something rich and beautiful, should try Graham for 1859. Philadelphia. Single copy $3.

HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT AND PILLS.—Be on your guard.—To preclude the possibility of deception, it is as well to examine the books of directions used as envelopes to the medicines. If upon every leaf the words "Holloway, New York and London," appear as a water-mark, the preparation is genuine; but not otherwise. Vast benefit is derived from the use of the Ointment in asthma, bronchitis, quinsy, tightness of the chest, and pleurisy. The part affected should be fomented with flannels dipped in warm water, and the Ointment rubbed briskly in. We have seen immediate and lasting relief afforded in this way. The Pills are powerful auxiliaries in reducing the febrile symptoms.
