By order of the Commissioners for Talbot County. M. G. FEDDEMAN, aug 18-3t Clerk.

Report of the Trustees of Talbot County Alms House, for the year ending June 1st, 1866.

To the Commissioners for Talbot County:

GENTLEMEN.—The time has again arrived when it becomes our duty to make a statement of the condition of the Alms House for your examination, to the discharge of which duty we proceed by saying we have had in our care during the year, twenty-one white and twenty-seven Colored, making in all forty-eight inmates, of whom seven have died and sixteen have sufficiently recovered to leave the house, which now leaves us in the charge of twenty-five, of whom twelve are white and thirteen are colored.

At the making up of our report one year since we showed an unprovided for balance against us (after consuming the entire levy to our credit in your hands) of $1315,63 in the face of which the number of inmates (mainly from the colored population) so continued to increase as to render it necessary in the judgment of the Trustees to enlarge the house for their better accomodation, and for the accomplishment of which purpose they are now erecting at the south end of the main building, a frame addition——ft by——ft.

The sale of the products of the farm during the past year, as presented by the supervisor are as follows:

Wheat sold	$128.50
Corn sold	134.66
Beef sold	40.00
To which add levy for current year	3000.00
	3303.16
From which deduct bills paid	$1749.49
And we have in your hands	15,53,67

There is now on file, bills passed and ordered to be paid amounting to $2415.00 to meet which, defray current expenses, and complete the work of enlarging the House, we ask at your hands a levy of $3000,00 all of which is most respectfully submitted by

WALTER H. THOMPSON,
aug 18-4t Secretary.

THE STATE OF MARYLAND VS. TENCH TILGHMAN AND OTHERS.—This case which has excited much interest from the important question involved, was decided by the Hon. P. F Thomas, special Judge, at the adjourned Court for Talbot County, on Thursday last. The application by the State for a mandamus was refused on account of certain informalities in the proceedings which precluded a decision upon the merits of the case. By request of the counsel however, on both sides, his Honor delivered his opinion upon the various points in controversy which had been agreed by the counsel, to the following effect:

1st. The State Directors had no power to vote the Stock of the State for Directors of the Company at the Stockholders' meetings, but HAD the power to vote said stock for President, Treasurer and other officers of said company.

2d. The President of the Company had no power to vote the Stock of Mitchell & Maffitt or any other stock, which had been transferred to the Company, at any election of the Stockholders, and the Directors had no power to authorize any one to vote such stock at any election.

3d. In the voting of the State Stock for officers of the Company it was not necessary that all the State Directors should be present and concurring, but that a majority of them should be sufficient for such action.

There were several other minor questions embraced in the decision, but the above are the principal points involved. The opinion, which is a very lengthy one, occupied nearly two hours in the delivery, and is regarded by those who heard it as a most able and lucid exposition of the whole matter in question. Several of the questions decided have never before been adjudicated in this county, which we presume, will give to this decision more than usual interest. We have not yet heard whether an appeal will be taken or not, but trust that the decision may be acquiesced in by all parties and accepted as the law to govern the future elections of the Company.

☞ We presume the Journal thinks it creates quite a panic in this section by constantly insinuating that our post office term will be of short duration. We hope our friend will not work himself into a fever over this matter. We know that a portion of his party have been straining every point to accomplish this end for the last three or four months under the pretense of being conservatives, when it is a well known fact that the main instruments in trying to bring about our removal have been, during the rebellion, out-spoken traitors, and now conservative because they are forced to be. We wish it to be understood that we do not intend to sacrifice any opinion or principle to retain the office nor shall we sacrifice the office to satisfy the craven appetites of those who abused Mr. Johnson, called Mr. Lincoln a tyrant and blackguard, and who would to-day, sooner see Jeff. Davis President of the United States than Andrew Johnson. Wherein we have differed with the administration we have before stated, and if that is sufficient cause for removal, by the solicitation of those who threw every obstacle in the way of the Goverment in crushing the rebellion, let it be so, we have nothing to retract or regret. Therefore we shall endeavor to keep our "house clean" and "lamps trimmed."

☞ THE Philadelphia Convention, of which we have heard so much said recently, met in their wigwam in Philadelphia, on Tuesday last, by appointing Gen. Dix as temporary president, but on a permanent organization being effected, Senator Doolitle of Wisconsin, was made the president of the Convention. At the time of going to press but little had been done except the joining arms of the Massachusetts and South Carolina delegations and entering the wig-wam and the withdrawal of Valandigham, the Woods' and some others who appeared to be objectionable, while hundreds who had served in the rebel army during the war, and guilty of some of the greatest outrages on Union soldiers, took their seats.

☞ "As "this office" is located between an apothecary shop and a bar room, it is possible enough stimulants can be obtained to save "this" office."—Journal.

As the Journal office is "located" between the alms house and the county jail, the moon-struck creature that conducts that sheet has yet sufficient of his reasoning faculties left to know that he has a sure abiding place while in his present state, and that the State provides a more ample place when when clear gone.

☞ "It being "kindness" to borrow according to the Gazette, we imagine that Post Master General Randall, will do him a favor by letting some one "borrow" his commission for a while.—Journal.

The Journal appears to know something about borrowing. As the STARS differ in their magnitude the borrowed patronage of the lesser is being returned unto the greater light.

THE UNCONDITIONAL UNION CONVENTION.—We take the following from the Baltimore American of Thursday:

The representatives of the Unconditional Union party in Maryland yesterday met in Convention at the New Assembly Rooms. There was manifest difference in the gentlemen composing this body and those which have recently met here under the auspices of Messrs. Blair, Pratt, Swann, and other opponents of the Union party. The men who in the field fought for the maintenance of the Union, and in the halls of legislation and elsewhere battled for freedom, and to which Maryland contributed so much to-day for the position she occupies, assembled together to select a standard bearer for the coming contest, and to reaffirm their adherence to those principles of right, and justice, and freedom which they have sustained during the years of the rebellion. Hon. George W. Sands, of Howard county, one of the most able and eloquent members of the Free State Convention, an elector on the Lincoln and Johnson ticket in the last campaign, was chosen as President of the Convention, and made a very able speech on taking the chair. A Committee on Resolutions, consisting of one gentleman from each county, and three from Baltimore city, with Mr. C. C. Fulton as chairman, reported a lengthy series of resolutions, one of which declares that the Union men of Maryland "heartily endorse the Constitutional amendment as passed by congress, regarding it as both fair and impartial to all the States; that we see nothing now in the refusal of congress to exclude non-voting negroes from the basis of representation, as we in Maryland have made the white population alone the basis of representation in our House of Delegates."—Colonel Robert Bruce, of Cumberland, Allegany county, a soldier of the army of the Union, and a gentleman of irreproachable character, was nominated as the candidate for Comptroller. Delegates were elected from the State at large and from the several Congressional Districts to the Convention of Southern Loyalists which meets in Philadelphia, in Independence Hall, on the 3d of September. The delegates at large are Hon. John A. J. Creswell; Hon. Francis Thomas, Hon. John L. Thomas, Jr., Hon. John Lee Chapman, Brevet Major-General Dennison, Chas. C. Fulton, Esq., Col. Saml. T. Graham, George W. Sands, Esq., Samuel M. Evans, Esq., and Alford Mace, Esq.
