CONGRESSIONAL.—The impeachment question was finally disposed of by the House of Representatives on Saturday. By agreement between the opposing parties the motion to lay the subject on the table was withdrawn and a direct vote taken on the motion made by Mr. Logan, of Illinois, for the adoption of the majority report favoring impeachment. The vote was taken amid much excitement, but with profound order, the Speaker having previously announced that any manifestation of approval or disapproval on the part of the spectators would be promptly punished. The result of the vote was—ayes fifty-seven, nays one hundred and eight, absent or not voting nineteen. The vote was politically divided as follows: Ayes fifty-seven, all Republicans. Nays—sixty-eight Republicans and forty-eight Democrats. Thus it will be seen that the Republicans voting in the negative were sufficient to have decided the question, and also to put at rest the assertion that the measure was one for which the Republicans, as a party, were responsible. Among those voting in the negative were members of such prominence in the Republican party as Messrs. Banks, Baldwin, Bingham, Blaine, Dawes, Eliot, Laffin, Ingersoll, Garfield, Poland, Spaulding, Van Wyck, the Washburns, Welker, Woodbridge, and James F. Wilson. In a full House it is estimated that sixty members would have voted for, and one hundred and twenty against, impeachment.

In speaking of the vote upon the impeachment of the President, the Philadelphia Inquirer says:

"The Democrats support him because they hope that the Republicans will be disorganized; but they are careful to have it known that Mr. Johnson is not their man; they did not elect him, and they will not think of him when the next nomination for President is to be made. It was, therefore, wise for Congress to show the moderation and wisdom of its policy by refusing to countenance extreme measures of doubtful utility. The evil effects of an endeavor to impeach the President would have been seen in a paralyzation of industry, anxiety among all classes, and complications which would have led to disturbance, and, perhaps, to civil war.—It is not worth while to risk so much for the pleasure of a mere personal triumph over the President."

The House of Representatives on Saturday, by the decisive vote of ayes 128, nays 28, passed the resolution reported from the Committee of Ways and Means, against any further contraction of the currency. The bill provides "that, from and after the passage of this act, the authority of the Secretary of the Treasury to make any further reduction of the currency, by retiring or cancelling United States notes, shall be and is hereby suspended."

In the United States Senate on Wednesday, Mr. Anthony introduced a bill, which was referred to the Judiciary Committee, enacting that all and singular the laws, the declarations and acts of confiscation or forfeiture, passed, made or done by the late so-called Confederate States of America, or made, had or done, directly or indirectly, by or under their or the color of their authority or jurisdiction, shall be and they are hereby declared to be null and void to all intents and purposes. Mr. Morrill, of Vermont, called up his bill to increase the value of legal-tender notes to par. He read an elaborate argument in favor of the adoption of his bill. Its adoption, he said, would establish such confidence that from the day of its passage the inequality between coin and legal-tenders would begin to diminish, and by the time specified for the redemption of legal-tenders in coin (July 4, 1869,) the legal-tenders would be at par and equal to coin. It is the apprehension that we have become demoralized by our paper currency that causes our securities to be at such a discount abroad, but if the holders are satisfied that our efforts will soon restore our currency to par, the securities will rise in the same proportion.—He maintained that the time fixed for the redemption of specie payments was not too near a period. He believed now that there was at least $100,000 of specie hoarded up, which the passage of this measure would bring from its inglorious retreat. On the conclusion of his remarks the Senate went into executive session, and shortly afterwards adjourned.

In the House of Representatives on Wednesday, Mr. Julian, of Indiana, made an explanation justifying his vote in favor of the President's impeachment. He criticized Mr. Johnson's course, and bitterly denounced him. Mr. Bromwell, of Illinois, also made a personal explanation as to his course on the same subject. He said that he had been accused of dodging the vote on the question of impeachment. He had voted in aid of the fifty-seven who fillibustered for an opportunity of speaking, and yet the name of Bromwell, Broomall, and Butler were omitted in the count, and he was accused of dodging. He had not dodged, but had voted for impeachment, believing, before God and man, that Mr. Johnson had committed acts which demanded impeachment. The bill to prevent the President from restoring dismissed officers to the military service was reported favorably from the Military Committee. Mr. Niblack (Dem.) inquired whether the bill was intended to meet the case of Fitz John Porter? Mr. Garfield declared that if it were conceivable that the President could restore an officer under such circumstances, that would be the best possible reason for passing such a law. After considerable discussion, the bill was recommitted to the Military Committee. Mr. Washburne, of Illinois, made a speech against the ratification of the recent treaties for the purchase of Russian America and St. Thomas. He urged that the treaties should never have been made, and he trusted that the House would give the Secretary of State such a rebuke as would be a lesson in all future time to men in his position. Mr. Brooomall, of Pennsylvania, addressed the House on the question of the finances, particularly as to whether the principal of the 5.30 bonds was payable in gold or in currency. He argued that they were payable in currency. At the same time, he looked upon Mr. Butler's scheme as dangerous, because it was plausible, and because it set off the apparent interests of the many against the real interests of the few. On the conclusion of his remarks, the House adjourned.

THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS.—We learn that at a meeting of the School Commissioners of Talbot county, a few days ago, it was decided to continue the public schools of Easton as they are at present conducted, viz: with but two teachers. We do not wish to appear dictatorial to the Board, for it is composed of highly honorable and accomplished gentlemen, but we really think it a wrong decision. Either the Male or Female department is too large to be conducted by one teacher and to have anything like justice done the children. We learn that the two schools contain about one hundred and forty scholars which of course vary in size and age and are divided into a large number of classes and we cannot see how, with the present number of teachers, that the children can be pushed forward with any sort of rapidity. It is true that a little more expense would be incurred by putting on more teachers but we believe that the people of Talbot are more fully awakened on the subject of education than they have ever been before and money properly and judiciously spent for educational purposes we do not believe they will object to, but will heartily concur in. While the school interest is up let the children have the full benefit of it. If they do not have proper instructors the children are the losers, or let there be a deficiency in any manner whatever, the children of to-day, that are to fill the spheres of life now filled by their fathers and mothers, will be the losers. Every school district should look upon their schools with a jealous eye and endeavor to make each surpass the other. Let us have the teachers then, in order that our children may be properly instructed. Much credit is due Mr. Atkinson of the Male department and Mrs. Roberts of the Female department for the interest they have taken in building up these schools and we think they ought to be encouraged in every possible manner.

FIRE AT THE MALTBY HOUSE.—The rear portion of the Maltby House, on Pratt street, Baltimore, took fire on Monday last, about 5 o'clock, in the afternoon. The fire, it appears, originated in the lower portion of the back premises, where the gas for the house is manufactured, and above which are the sleeping apartments of the servants of the hotel.—The flames reached the upper portion with great rapidity, and several of the employees escaped narrowly with their lives. Hugh McLeague aged about forty years, employed as "yardman," at the house, who was asleep in one of the upper rooms at the time, was terribly burned about the head, arms, side and feet. On awaking he ran, blazing, to the main portion of the building where he fell. He was at once covered with carpets, and the flames extinguished. Drs. Dunbar and Knowles were called to attend the injured man, and succeeded in relieving his agonies. The loss on the portion of the building burned, with the contents, consisting of stored furniture and servant rooms, is estimated at $10,000, which is fully covered by insurance.

PUBLIC ROADS.—We see that there are meetings being held in some of the counties of the State for the purpose of taking into consideration the condition of the public roads and to adopt some method whereby they may be kept in good traveling order during the winter months. This, we think, most an admirable move, and one which the people of every county should feel a deep interest in, but we think it a pretty late day in the season to undertake such a work, for the present winter. Such a work might now be undertaken, however, and by next winter every road be put in complete order. We commend this enterprise to the favorable consideration of the good people of Talbot. Many of our roads are almost impassable during the wet season, for man or horse, when if they were taken in time and put in proper condition they would be equal to any dirt roads in the country. This is a matter of vital importance to the entire public.

THE LECTURE OF MISS ST. CLAIR.—The Lecture of Miss St. Clair, was delivered on Saturday night last, before not a very large, but most attentive audience. She acquitted herself in a very creditable manner, and received a hearty applause at the conclusion of her lecture. She spoke principally to her own sex; of their difficulties and errors in life and how to remedy them, but said it would also apply to the young men in many instances. She entreated the young ladies to cultivate moral courage, industry, &c., and centured in pretty strong terms those mothers who work day and night to prevent their daughters from soiling their "delicate white hands."

RAIL ROAD MEETING.—The annual meeting of the Md. and Del. Rail Road Company, took place in Easton, on Wednesday last, when Capt. E. L. F. Hardcastle of Easton, was elected President, in place of Gen. T. Tilghman, resigned, and Dr. G. W. Goldsborough, re-elected Treasurer. Directors, Thos. H. Slaughter, Thos. I. Marvel, Del.; Dr. Alex. Hardcastle, Caroline county; Major Nicholas Murray, New York; David Knotts, Thos. Hughlett, J. A. W. Powell, Talbot county.

☞ DR. C. C. COX, so well kuown to our citizens, will deliver a lecture for the benefit of the Easton Cornet Association, in the Court House, on Tuesday evening next—Subject: "Robert Burns, the Poet, and the man." The Band will be present and enliven the occasion with some of their choice pieces. Our citizens ought to give the Doctor a good audience, if so the Band will be much benefitted.

COURT.—Judge Wickes appeared on Wednesday, and took the Bench for the first time since his election. The case of Arnold, charged with the murder of James A. Tarr was called up but did not succeed in getting a jury until Thursday afternoon.—On Friday morning the examination of witnesses began and in the afternoon the State closed the examination of its witnesses.

GOODS FOR CHRISTMAS.—We would invite the attention of our readers to the advertisements of Dawson & Bro., L. H. Campbell and Saml. Patchett, of Christmas Goods, in another column. They have a large supply of articles, suitable for presents, which will be disposed of at moderate prices. The attention of purchasers is respectfully invited to them.

EDITORIAL CHANGE.—Dr. Chas. E. Tarr, is now editor and proprietor of the Denton Journal, formerly conducted by Jas. Steel, Esq. The Journal will be continued as heretofore, the Democratic organ for Caroline county.

☞ EMINENT men of science have discovered that electricity and magnetism are developed in the system from the iron in the blood. This accounts for the debility, low spirits and lack of energy a person feels when this vital element becomes reduced. The Peruvian Syrup, a protoxide of Iron, supplies the blood with its iron element and is the only form in which it is possible for it to enter the circulation.

"THE LOST CAUSE," or better known as Jefferson Davis, has been sojourning, for a short time, with his friends in this county. We learn that he leaves for West River, in the steamer from Miles River Ferry, on Sunday, (to-morrow.)

[COMMUNICATED.]

MR. EDITOR.—The last time I visited your market house, in Easton, I was much pleased to witness the decided improvement that had been made. On the north side where it used to be covered with moss and bore the unmistakable marks of decay, I was pleased to witness a spacious SKY LIGHT through which all those occupying that side of the house, have all the light that is requisite.—If the tax-payers can stand the pressure, to prevent an oddity, the south side of the roof should be similarly improved. This being done the conveniences will be complete and your market house an ORNAMENT to your town. I am glad to see your people MANIFESTING such a spirit of improvement and taking such an interest in the architectural beauty of your public buildings. Yours, most affectionately, A MARKET-TENDER.

ITEMS.—A quarrel occurred between two minstrels in New York, on Tuesday last in front of the Fifth Avenue Opera House, which resulted in the shooting and killing of one of them.

A duel also occurred on the same day, in the same city, between two sailors. One was shot through the heart and instantly killed.

A car ran off a bridge, in the river, at Harbor Bridge, Va., on Tuesday which resulted in the death of fifteen men, some twenty shockingly injured, in the way of scalds, broken limbs, bruises, &c.

☞ THE surgeons reports show that our armies have suffered greatly from chills and fever which is induced by the miasma and change of climate to which they are exposed. They also find Ayer's Ague Cure is an effectual remedy for this distemper, and are urging the government to adopt it within the regulations.—The Surgeon-General hesitates, because it is put up in a proprietary form. However great that convenience to the public, he prefers the physicians of the army should give their own directions for the dose. Whatever professional pride may dictate, he knows as well as we do that Dr. Ayer's 'Cure' is an almost perfect antidote for the Ague, and that the soldiers should have the benefit of it, as well as the people.—(Washington (D. C.) Correspondent.

BURIAL LOT FOR PRINTERS.—The Chicago Evening Post has the following.—

"The members of the Chicago Typographical Union have lately purchased a plat of ground at Rose Hill Cemetery for burial purposes. The plat is centrally located, large and when laid out will correspond in beauty and taste of design with the most attractive in the Cemetery The resident members of the Union have entered into this matter with their accustomed zeal, and the completion of the work will reflect the utmost credit upon the proverbial generosity of Chicago printers. It is the design of the craft to erect a suitable monument as soon as the necessary funds can be raised."

The lot has an area of nearly four thousand feet.

POPULATION OF THE EARTH.—In the first volume of Dr. Behm's Geographical Annual, lately published at Gotha, there is an interesting article on the population of the earth. This was estimated by Busching in 1787 at 1,000,000,000, by Fabri and Stein in 1800 at 900,000,000, by Horschelman in 1833 at 872,000,000, by Dieterici in 1858 at 1,288,000,000, and by Kolb in 1865 at 1,220,000,000. Dr. Behm estimates it at 1,350,000,000, thus distributed: Europe, 285,000; Asia, 796,600,000; Australia and Polynesia, 3,850,000; Africa, 188,000,000; and America, 74,500. At the same time he acknowledges that it is impossible to arrive at anything more than an approximate notion of the population in Asia and Africa, there being no census or other accurate means of ascertaining the number of inhabitants in them.

☞ A Baltimore letter writer, to the Philadelphia Inquirer, of Thursday, says:

The Grant enthusiasm continues and new clubs advocating him for the Presidency are daily forming. It is thought here if he runs simply with his own past record as a platform he will carry Maryland against the Democracy and its Rebel allies. The Union men and Republicans, even extreme radicals, say he is sound enough for them; and the thousands of recent disappointed office seekers declare they are sick of the Democracy and will vote for Grant, no matter who or what party nominates him.

Jeff. Davis is still here but remains very quiet. It is stated that he said to some friends the other day that Gen. Grant was the most formidable man that could be nominated for the Presidency, and if he kept aloof from extreme partisanism, would, perhaps, be the saltest man for the country for some years to come.

Gov. Swann is now in town preparing his annual message. He has no doubt of being made U. S. Senator. Those best informed now concede Philip F. Thomas will be admitted to the United States Senate.

Report of the Postmaster General.

The Hon. A. W. Randall, the Postmaster General, in his annual report, presents a great many interesting facts in regard to the operations of the Postoffice Department, and the rapid extension of our mail facilities to the ends of the earth. It is gratifying to know that the department received three quarters of a million more than it expended last year. The receipts for postages increased six per cent.; the total estimates for next year are $22,837,500; the use of stamped envelopes is rapidly increasing; the sale of stamps and stamped envelopes reached nearly $13,000,000; an improved stamp, to more completely prevent fraud, is in preparation on June 30 last there were 7,743 mail routes in operation, the whole length being 203 245 miles; railroad routes 31.015 miles; steamboat, 15,094; whole extent of annual transportation nearly 79,000,000 of miles; increase of miles over 1866, 22,344, or over seven millions of transportation.

Mr. Randall devotes a chapter to the new steamship routes provided for by legislative contract. An investigation into the weight of mails and price for carriage shows an average of 20,000 pounds per day between New York and Philadelphia, at $375 per mile for the year, which is the highest land compensation. Much attention has been given to through mails between New York and New Orleans, and generally, very good time has been made. There are now 18 railway postal routes (postoffice cars.) extending 4,435 miles. 879 miles served twice a day. Mr. Randall considers that we have gained material advantages thereby; an arrangement has been made with Hong Kong for regular mails; the new Pacific ocean routes are important, and require legislative attention and assistance. The whole number of removals during the year was 3,444; of appointments, 9,744; new postoffices, 1,885; postoffices discontinued, 6,111—whole number of officers June 30, 25,163. Letter delivery by carriers works well, and should be extended.

Dead letters are less frequent this year. The money order system is established in 1,224 offices, 474,496 orders were issued during the year, amounting to $9,229,328, more than three times as much as in the previous year; the fees received were about $71,000, which was $26,261 over expenses. The report calls special attention to the immense increase of foreign mail service, for which Mr. Randall wants a special superintendent. On the matter of using the telegraph for postal purposes he has no opinion, but thinks it would be well to see how it works in Great Britain. The report closes with a sharp hit at the abuse of the franking privilege, by using printed or stamped fac similies of names of Congressmen to circulate lottery tickets, cards, books, &c., and unless this swindle is stopped the transportation branch will need an extra million of dollars for carrying the stuff.

CONSUMPTION CURABLE BY DR. SCHENK'S MEDICINES.

To cure consumption, the system must be prepared so that the lungs will heal. To accomplish this, the liver and stomach must first be cleansed and an appetite created for good wholesome food, which by these medicines will be digested properly, and good healthy blood made; thus building up the constitution. Schenck's Mandrake Pills cleanses the stomach of all bilious or mucous accumulations; and by using the Sea Weed Tonic in connection the appetite is restored.

Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup is nutricious as well as medicinal, and, by using the three remedies, all impurities are expelled from the system, and good, wholesome blood made, which will repell all diseases If patients will take these medicines according to directions, Consumption very frequently in its last stage yields readily to their action. Take the pills frequently, to cleanse the liver and stomach. It does not follow that because the bowels are not costive, they are not required, for sometimes in diarrhea they are necessary. The stomach must be kept healthy, and an appetite created to allow the Pulmonic Syrup to act on the respiratory organs properly and allay any irritation. Then all that is required to perform a permanent cure is, to prevent taking cold. Exercise about the rooms as much as possible, eat all the rich food—fat meat, game, and, in fact, any thing the appetite craves; but be particular and masticate well. [2nd w. ca. mo, 1 yr.
