National Republican Nominees.

FOR PRESIDENT,

Gen. Ulysses S. Grant.

FOR VICE PRESIDENT,

Hon. Schuyler Colfax.

Vermont with her 30,000 Majority for the Republican Ticket.—The result in Vermont has occasioned considerable rejoicing among Republicans throughout the country and dissatisfaction among their opponents. The New York World, on the morning of the election, said; "We predict a handsome, decided, clear Democratic gain," and on Wednesday it said that "a larger vote than that of last year was polled by both parties, the increase being greater on the Radical than on the Democratic side," and then consoles itself with the reflection that "the Radicals have done no better than they did four years ago." The New York Herald says: "Various causes might be assigned for the result. There can be no doubt but that to the course of certain fire-eating Southern orators in proclaiming their unwavering devotion to the Rebel flag, in their vulgar and vicious denunciation of Gen. Grant, and in their revival of the dead issues of the past, and in other ways, alike unwise, impolitic and revolutionary, can this Democratic collapse in Vermont be mainly attributed." The Richmond Dispatch professes to believe that "the result signifies nothing," and that "Vermont is a land of political heathens." The Republican press everywhere is jubilant. Our latest despatches say that there is undoubtedly a Republican majority in the State of 30,000. The net gain in one hundred and seventeen towns, from which official returns have been received, foot up nearly 5,000 votes.

Vermont is always Republican, but it is only on great occasions that she emphasizes her devotion to correct principles by putting forth the full measure of her strength, and thus directs as well as indicates the drift of public sentiment throughout the country. Vermont voted on Tuesday, and the way in which she did her duty bids us prepare for a succession of brilliant Republican victories this fall. The vote is the largest polled in the State since 1860, and the majority for the Republican candidate for Governor will range from twenty-seven to thirty thousand. The three Republican Congressmen are elected by increased majorities; the State Senate is unanimously Republican and the Legislature is nearly so. In 1867 the Republican majority in the State was over 20,000, in 1866 nearly 23,000, in 1865 nearly 19,000, in 1864 the Republican candidate for Governor had 19,000 majority in September, and in November following Mr. Lincoln's majority was 20,000. The fact that the majority this year will exceed this last number at the State election, shows that Grant and Colfax will do still better in November.

Whilst rejoicing over Vermont, the Republicans of Wilmington, Delaware, also deserve a word of commendation. At the election there on Tuesday, when a very heavy vote was polled, they elected their Mayor by an increased majority of one hundred votes. This shows what hard work will do.

Maine votes on Monday week, and, encouraged by Vermont, will give from twenty to twenty-five thousand majority for the right side.

HON. FRANCIS THOMAS TO CANVASS THE STATE.—From the following it will be seen that Hon. Francis Thomas, although declining to be a candidate for Congress, intends taking an active part in the canvass of the State for Grant and Colfax. As our readers know, ex-Governor Thomas is one of the most able and eloquent public speakers in the country, and we congratulate the Republicans of the State in having his valuable assistance in the coming campaign:

FRANKVILLE, Aug. 27, 1868.

C. C. Fulton, Esq., Chairman of Republican Central Committee:

Dear Sir:—Although unwilling to be a candidate for Congress, I desire to render such service in the Presidential canvass in Maryland, as the committee, of which you are Chairman, may call upon me to perform.

Very respectfully,

FRANCIS THOMAS.

Democracy and the Negroes.

Democratic negro clubs, Democratic negro orators, Democratic negro mass meetings, and Democratic negro barbecues are appearing and rapidly growing all over the South. The Charleston News has collected a variety of facts on the subject from the various States, showing that in South and North Carolina, Virginia, Georgia, Alabama, Louisiana, Mississippi and Texas, there will be negro votes for Seymour and Blair. In one place in Louisiana the Democratic negroes got up a Democratic ball; and at Yazoo City, Miss., the white Democrats have honored the Democratic negroes by giving them a public barbecue as an evidence and testimonial of our esteem and good will for them, and the value of their noble aid in a just cause, patriotic principles, and a further token of friendship and union in support of Democratic principles."

The nomination of Gen. Blair, an abolitionist and negro suffrage man, has had a wonderful effect in developing Democratic friendship for colored men.

THE CONGRESSIONAL CONTEST.—The result of the meeting on Tuesday week, to nominate delegates to the Democratic Congressional Convention which meets at Salisbury, not being at all satisfactory to those who supported Gov. Thomas, the Star of Tuesday last, belched forth quite a dose of fire and brimstone, in denunciation of Col. Hambleton's strength; saying that "the friends of Col. Hambleton thoroughly canvassed every district of the county, brought up every man who could be prevailed on to attend the meeting, making a liberal use of whiskey as an agency in the canvass. In addition to this, we are told that many notorious Radicals were induced to attend the meeting and vote their ticket. Such proceedings very naturally disgusted many Democrats, who refused to vote or take any part in the meeting, considering competition under such circumstances useless. The result is, therefore, anything but a fair expression of the voice of the party."

We did not expect any better terms to be used toward Republicans, but we must confess that it is a pretty rough charge to make against its own political brethren. If the Star charges its own party with drunkenness, all sorts of immorality, intrigue and deceit, sufficient to "disgust many Democrats," pray what sort of charges ought it expect from an opponent? But it is not here where the shoe pinches. For some time past there has been a considerable breach in the Democratic party in this county; not in political sentiment, to any great extent, do we mean, but more between the prominent members or leaders. The nominations and election last year, showed this so plainly that none could mistake. Since that time matters have been resting comparatively quiet, until Tuesday week, when the meeting, the circumstances connected therewith and the Star of Tuesday, showed that the breach had been made still wider. At the nominating convention the forces of each side were rallied in their strength, after a thorough drilling, and entered the contest with vigor. Each went into it with rather a nervous fear of the result, until it was ascertained that Hambleton had swept his opponent as with a whirlwind—carrying some of the districts unanimously and all of them by large majorities. This result shows conclusively that the wing of which the Star is the organ, has lost influence, is fast losing numbers and is beyond doubt the under dog in the fight. One of the principal arguments used against Col. Hambleton was, that he was an old line Whig, but instead of doing him injury it added to his strength. The day passed away when emancipation was inaugurated, when nothing but a life long Democrat could hold office.—Party lines were then broken never again to be cemented as slavery cemented them. That question took precedence above every other subject; with its abolishment the foundation was laid whereby every American citizen, both white and black was set at liberty and enabled to worship under his own vine and fig tree. This is one of the reasons why the hue and cry that Col. Hambleton was an old line Whig did not have the desired effect. People are beginning to feel their liberty, that there is no slave-owner to lord it over them and to put the poorer class of whites even below their slaves.—Whether Col. Hambleton is a good Democrat or not, is not our province to determine, but we should think by the overwhelming vote cast for him at the nominating convention that they are as willing to trust him as though he was rocked in the cradle of Democracy, unless the "notorious Radicals," as the Star terms them, numbered more in the nominating convention than that paper has heretofore acknowledged remained in the county. As we have before said during this contest, we have no political concern in the matter, but Col. Hambleton, as a good citizen, as a man of talent, as a close student in his profession and a prompt and reliable man in business—we know of none other in the Democratic party more worthy of the position.

☞ THE Journal of Thursday, says "we were a little surprised on Saturday morning not to find the Easton Gazette at our office as usual." This was purely accidental, having a new carrier that week, but even with old ones, such omissions sometimes occur, consequently there should be nothing very startling about it, nor was it done to prevent our article being noticed, as is intimated.

The Journal, in order to bolster up its own statement, at the same time, attempts to point out the changes in the county, in Seymour's favor, but instead of showing that some forty or more such having taken place since the nomination of the candidates of the two parties, the Journal goes back from three to four years. Why not date back to 1861, when there was such a tremendous Union vote given against calling a State Convention?—By thus doing the Journal might swell its figures even larger. We know that the Democratic majority in the county is a "big thing," but it has never yet been sufficiently large to ELECT a President for the United States. The Journal may have answered our query to its own satisfaction, but we doubt whether it has to the satisfaction of any one else.

HOTEL CHANGE.—On the 1st inst., the proprietorship of the "Easton Hotel" changed hands. The firm of Albertson & Norris has dissolved and Mr. James C. Norris is now sole proprietor. During the whole time the hotel was kept by those gentlemen, we presume no public house in the town ever surpassed it in cleanliness, accommodation and good board. While Mr. Albertson principally attended to the books and the table department, Mr. Norris, the present proprietor, was the stirring member of the firm—giving his attention entirely to the other departments. Seeing to the wants and comforts, especially, of strangers, that the servants were accommodating, sparing no pains in giving any information that travellers desired and constantly keeping an eye single to the welfare of his guests generally. Mr. Norris having now entire control of the house, we feel confident that his zeal and energy will not abate one jot or tittle, but that renewed vigor and a determination to please his large circle of friends and the entire public, will be his watchword.

IN ERROR.—We were misinformed in reference to the murder in Hillsborough last week. There has not been any murder committed there recently, and we presume it was the stabbing affray near Queenstown that gave rise to the report, a notice of which we take from the Denton American Union:

STABBING AFFRAY.—A stabbing affray, between two colored men, occurred near Willoughby's Shop, about four miles beyond Hillsborough, on the Queenstown road, one day last week. It seems that they had resorted to their fistic skill to settle a personal misunderstanding, and in the melee one drew a knife and struck the other with it in the side, cutting him to the very bottom of the stomach. His entrails, of course, were let out upon the ground. A physician was summoned, who rendered the necessary assistance, and at last accounts the wounded man was still alive, though his recovery is very doubtful.—The names of the party we could not learn.

FERTILIZERS.—We invite the attention of our readers to the advertisement of Jno. Baggs, Esq., in another column, offering for sale the right to manufacture fertilizer. By the process which Mr. Baggs offers, the fertilizer is said to be equal to any sold and does not cost but little more than half price. Call and see him at the Court House.

FARM FOR SALE OR RENT.—As will be seen by the advertising columns of the Gazette this morning, the farm belonging to the heirs of the late Chas. Stewart, will be offered at private sale until the 20th inst. If not sold by that time it will be for rent for the ensuing year.

HON. FRANK THOMAS, M. C. will accept our thanks for Patent Office Reports, Messages and Documents, &c., &c.

☞ THE Democracy of Maryland met in convention in Baltimore on Tuesday and selected as electors, Judge Carmichael, of Queen Annes, Judge Mason, of Anne Arundel, Albert Constable, of Cecil, Dr. Alleander of Baltimore county, H. Clay Dallam of Baltimore city, Charles G. Roberts of Carroll and Geo. Peter of Montgomery.

☞ A "well sweep" broke and one piece of it struck Mr. James P. Loveday on the head, who was drawing water at the well yesterday morning. The blow knocked him senseless for a time, but we learn is slowly recovering.

☞ DURING the thunder storm of Thursday night Mr. F. G. Wright had an old goat and a kid killed by the lightning.

☞ "REMINISCENCES OF THE FRONTIER," by "H.," has been received and will appear next week.

TRIAL OF MACHINES.—We have received the report of a committee of seven appointed to judge of the merits of the "Diamond State" and "Wheeler" wheat thrashers, at a trial of the two machines at New Ark, Del., a few days ago in the presence of from 300 to 500 persons. The committee makes the following report:

"The "Wheeler Machine," in the hour she was run, thrashed 65 dozen sheaves, which produced 24 bushels of wheat; and the "Diamond State," in the same time thrashed 67 dozen sheaves, which produced 28½ bushels of wheat, making 4½ bushels in favor of the "Diamond State."

The wheat was all grown on the same field and taken from the same mow. Like most of the wheat grown this year, it will not produce over 14 or 16 bushels to the acre.

The tests adopted in Rule 7 all meeting in the Diamond State Machine, she is clearly entitled to our award in her favor of being the BEST and a No. 1 Machine.

Although giving the Diamond State this award of preference, we consider the Wheeler a No. 1 Machine."

The "Diamond State" Machine was advertised in the Gazette for several months this Summer and several farmers made purchases.

EASTON, September 3d, 1868.

At a called meeting on Thursday evening, Sept. 3d, held in the basement of the M. E. Church, for the purpose of organizing a Division of the Sons of Temperance in Easton, Mr. Lewis E. Barrett was called to the chair, and Geo. W. Johnson appointed Secretary.

The chairman stated the object of the meeting, and called for those favorable to the project to come forward and sign; when more than a sufficient number responded to the call to procure the requisite Charter, &c.

It was then moved and seconded that Messrs. Barrett, Brinsfield and Sewell be appointed a committee to procure a suitable room for the future meetings of this Division, and to make other necessary arrangements. Carried.

Moved and seconded that Mr. Jas. H. Dillen be appointed to collect from members the requisite amount of money to procure Charter, Books, &c.; that Geo. W. Johnson be appointed Treasurer, pro. tem. and, in conjunction with D. G. W. P. Thomas H. Coburn, of Cambridge Division, No. 59, be empowered to send for same. Carried.

On motion a committee consisting of Messrs. Johnson, C. T. Loveday and J. E. Horney, were appointed to collect the emblems and such other property belonging to the old Division of this place, as could be found. Carried.

Moved by Mr. James H. Greenhawlk and seconded, that the meeting now proceed to the election of officers, when the following gentlemen were elected for the quarter ending 1st October, 1868:

Lewis E. Barrett, W. P.; Geo. W. Johnson, W. A.; James H. Greenhawlk, R. S.; Chas. T. Loveday, A. R. S.; J. E. Sewell, F. S.; Walter H. Thompson, T.; Rev. Dr. Kenney, Chaplain; J. E. Horney, C.; James H. Dillen, A. C.; J. M. Mowbray, I. S.; and Wm. H. Elliott, O. S.

Moved and seconded that this Division be known as the "Easton Division, No. 58, of Sons of Temperance."

On motion, Thursday was fixed upon as the night of meeting, and half-past 7 o'clock the hour for the present.

On motion, Mr. Walter H. Thompson was added to the committee to procure a suitable room for future meetings.

After some very appropriate and pertinent remarks by Mr. Walter H. Thompson and D. G. W. P. Coburn, the meeting adjourned till Thursday evening next.

LEWIS E. BARRETT, Chairman.

GEO. W. JOHNSON, Secretary.

Horrible and Cold Blooded Murder.

A most horrible and cold blooded murder was perpetrated in this county on Friday (yesterday) morning, the particulars of which, as we learn them, are as follows:

A man named Reamy Gilmore, an industrious, honest and inoffensive farmer, aged about forty years, residing on a farm belonging to the heirs of the late Judge Chambers, on the road from Church Hill to Chestertown, about four miles from the former and two from the latter place, was found dead at an early hour yesterday morning, and his wife lying in an insensible condition, but still alive, by a negro man and woman who had been engaged by Mr. Gilmore to "save fodder" for him. They immediately gave the alarm to one of Mr. G.'s neighbors, who made the fact of the murder known to the officers of the law, and Justice Tarbutton, of Crumpton, summoned a jury of inquest, and among the witnesses was a negro woman, Martha Barwick—Mr. Gilmore's cook—who, at first denied all knowledge of the murder, but finally confessed that a certain negro man in the neighborhood, who was in the habit of visiting her, named Mitchell Bell, and herself, had formed a plot to murder and rob Mr. Gilmore, which plot was intended to be put in execution on last night, but, from some cause, on Thursday night the time was changed, and the deed perpetrated on Friday morning, between day break and sunrise. Bell, she states, remained in the kitchen all night, and in the early morning went up stairs and effected an entrance into Mrs. Gilmore's room without awakening her, when he dealt her two blows with the blade of an axe, as she lie sleeping, and then sent the woman—the partner in his crime—to tell Mr. Gilmore (who, it appears for some cause, slept in another house some distance from the dwelling) that his wife was very sick and wanted him. Mr. G. immediately repaired to his wife's room, and as he entered the door, Bell dealt him a heavy blow with the eye of the axe, knocking him senseless to the floor, after which he struck him two more blows upon the head, and then left him.—The woman Martha says Bell then commenced rifling the bureau drawers, but drove her from the room, and she does not know what amount of money, if any, Bell obtained. After completing his search for booty, he left the premises, and that was the last she saw of him.

Information was afterwards obtained that Bell made his way to the river, just below Chestertown, and procuring a small boat, boarded the steamer Chester as she passed, and it is supposed went to Baltimore. On obtaining this information, parties were sent to intercept the steamer Trumpeter, in the Sassafras river, who went in pursuit of the murderer, and as the Trumpeter has a much shorter route than the steamer Chester, she generally arrives in Baltimore in advance of that boat, and it is confidently hoped that the murderer was arrested upon his arrival in Baltimore.

The jury of inquest rendered a verdict in accordance with the above facts, when the woman was committed to jail by Justice Tarbutton, as an accessory to the murder, and was handed over to the jailor last night, about ten o'clock, by Constable Gatford.

The object appears to have been both robbery and malice, as it is said there had been some difficulty between Mr. Gilmore and Bell a short time previously. Mr. G. raised a great deal of garden produce, which he had been selling in Baltimore, and it is believed that he had a considerable sum of money about the house, and it was with the double object of gratifying his malice and obtaining this money that Bell perpetrated the horrible deed. The murdered man was childless.—Centreville (Md.) Citizen.

On Sunday last Messrs. Milnor Jones, Thos. Wicks and Geo. Perkins, young men from Chestertown, visited Wye Camp, where they found Mitchell Bell, the party suspected, whom they arrested and brought to Centreville and lodged in jail. Bell professes to know nothing about the murders and expresses a surprise that he should have been suspected as being implicated in them. He says he has been in Queenstown for sometime past and never saw Martha Barwick before.—Observer.

THE WICKEDEST MAN IN NEW YORK.—He Shuts up his Dancing House—The Old Den to be a Magdalen Asylum.—John Allen shut up his dance house at midnight on Saturday, and announced that it would never be opened again, except for some good purpose; that, as a dance house, its career had closed. A number of Christian friends were present, who had been notified of his intention, and after the house had been closed, a midnight prayer meeting was held in the dancing saloon. Allen, his wife and girls took part in the prayer meeting, and joined heartily in singing the hymns.

Many of Allen's neighbors and lots of loafers gathered in the street in front of 304 Water st., and discussed the portentous conduct of the Wickedest Man. Some thought he had gone crazy; others felt sure that he knew what he was about, and had really made up his mind to quit the business for the sake of his children.

On Monday morning the following announcement, written in a bold, plain hand, was posted on the door of 304 Water Staeet.

"THIS DANCE HOUSE IS CLOSED."

"No gentlemen admitted unless accompanied by their wives, who wish to employ Magdalens as domestics. JOHN ALLEN."

This notice attracted great attention, and groups were constantly gathering in the streets during the day, discussing the matter, and making all manner of prophecies in regard to the result.

In the afternoon Allen attended the Sabbath School and meeting at the Howard Mission, where the fact that he had closed his dance house was publicly announced. Allen himself made a few remarks as follows:

JOHN ALLEN'S SPEECH.

Ladies and Gentlemen—Unaccustomed as I am to public speaking, my address will not be prolix. I simply say that although I have been called "the Wickedest Man in New York," I will show yet to the world that I am not the wickedest man in New York; that I will help the outcast and fallen of all creeds and denominations, and that I will begin from this moment to achieve a moral reform whenever and wherever I can. I want my friends to stand by me, as I shall have a hard time of it for awhile, and I will in the future devote my life to doing good as far as I can."

After Allen took his seat it was announced that there would be a prayer meeting at his house in the evening, and a prayer meeting was held last night at 304 Water street, in accordance with such announcement.—New York Sun,

CONSUMPTIVES READ!

A Physician, who had consumption for several years, with frequent bleedings of the lungs, cured himself with a medicine unknown to the profession, when his case appeared hopeless. He is the only physician who has used it in his own person, or who has any knowledge of its virtues; and he can ascribe the degree of health he now enjoys to nothing but the use of this medicine; and nothing but utter despair and entire extinction of all hope of recovery, together with a want of confidence in all others, induced him to hazard the experiment. To those suffering with this malady he recommends a treatment he confidently believes will cure the disease.—Medicine sent by express. Send for circular or call on

DR. E. BOYLSTON JACKSON,
apr 4-1y No. 250 North Tenth St., Philadelphia

ADDRESS TO THE NERVOUS AND DEBILITATED, whose sufferings have been protracted from hidden causes, and whose cases require prompt treatment to render existence desirable: If you are suffering, or have suffered, from involuntary discharges, what effect does it produce upon your general health? Do you feel weak, debilitated, easily tired? Does a little extra exertion produce palpitation of the heart? Does your liver, or urinary organs, or your kidneys, frequently get out of order? Is your urine sometimes thick, milky, or flocky, or is it ropy on settling? Or does a thick scum rise to the top? Or is a sediment at the bottom after it has stood awhile? Do you have spells of short breathing or dyspepsia? Are your bowels constipated?—Do you have spells of fainting, or rushes of blood to the head? Is your memory impaired? Is your mind constantly dwelling upon this subject? Do you feel dull, listless, moping, tired of company, or life? Do you wish to be left alone, to get away from everybody? Does any little thing make you start or jump? Is your sleep broken or restless? Is the lustre of your eye as brilliant? The bloom on your cheek as bright? Do you enjoy yourself in society as well? Do you pursue your business with the same energy? Do you feel as much confidence in yourself? Are your spirits dull and flagging, given to fits of melancholy? If so, do not lay it to your liver or dyspepsia. Have you restless nights? Your back weak, your knees weak, and have but little appetite, and you attribute this to dyspepsia or liver-complaint?

Now, reader, self-abuse, veneral diseases badly cured, and sexual excesses, are all capable of producing a weakness of the generative organs. The organs of generation, when in perfect health, make the man. Did you ever think that these bold, defiant, energetic, persevering, successful business-men are always those whose generative organs are in perfect health? You never hear such men complain of being melancholy, of nervousness, of palpitation of the heart. They are never afraid they cannot succeed in business; they don't become sad and discouraged; they are always polite and pleasant in the company of ladies, and look you and them right in the face—none of your downcast looks or any other meanness about them. I do not mean those who keep the organs inflated by running to excess.—These will not only ruin their constitutions, but also those they do business with or for.

How many men, from badly-cured diseases, from the effects of self-abuse and excesses, have brought about that state of weakness in those organs that has reduced the general system so much as to induce almost every other disease—idiocy, lunacy, paralysis, spinal affections, suicide, and almost every other form of disease which humanity is heir to, and the real cause of the trouble scarcely ever suspected, and have doctored for all but the right one. Dis-

Disease of these organs require the use of a Diuretic. HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU is the great Diuretic, and is a certain cure for diseases of the Bladder, Kidneys, Gravel, Dropsy, Organic Weakness, Female Complaints, General Debility, and all diseases of the Urinary Organs, whether existing in Male or Female, from whatever cause originating, and no matter of how long standing.

If no treatment is submitted to, Consumption or Insanity may ensue. Our flesh and blood are supported from these sources, and the health and happiness, and that of Posterity, depends upon prompt use of a reliable remedy.

Helmbold's Extract Buchu, established upward of 18 years, prepared by A. T. Helmbold, Druggist, 594 New York, and 104 South 10th St., Philadelphia, Pa. Price—$1.25 per bottle, or 6 bottles for $6.50, delivered to any address. Sold by all Druggists everywhere.

Among the many restoratives which nature has supplied to relieve the afflictions of humanity, there is no more favorite one for a certain class of diseases than the "medicinal gum" of the Wild Cherry Tree; but however valuable it is, its power to heal, to sooth, to relieve and to cure, is enhanced tenfold by scientific and judicious combination with other ingredients, in themselves of equal worth. This happy mingling exists to a remarkable degree in

STRONG TESTIMONY.

From Benjamin Wheeler, Esq., Depot Master of South Royalston, Mass.

"In the spring of 1858 I was most severely afflicted with a hard, dry cough, with its usual accompaniments of night sweats, completely prostrating my nervous system, and producing such a debilitated state of health that, after trying medical aid to no purpose, I had given up all hopes of ever recovering, as had also my friends. At this stage of matters I was prevailed upon through the influence of a neighbor to try Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry, and, before using two bottles, the effect was almost magical. My cough entirely left me, the night sweats deserted me, hope once more elevated my depressed spirits, and soon I had attained my wonted strength and vigor. Thus has this Balsam, as has often been remarked by persons conversant with the above facts, literally snatched me from the yawning grave. You are at liberty to use this for the benefit of the afflicted."
