The Injunction cases.—Upon the adjournment of the July term of Court, some were under the impression that the injunction issued against the Md. & Del. Railroad had been postponed until the fall term, but this is not the case. A special term will be held, to commence on the 16th inst., for the hearing of these cases. On Thursday last, an attachment was issued out of the Circuit Court for Talbot county, by order of his Honor Judge Stump, against the officers and employees of the road, to appear at the special term to show cause why the injunction therefore issued in the case of Wm. T. Kemp, &c., shall not be enforced.

We do not pretend to understand the merits of these land cases, and even if we did, we should be loath to appear to prejudge them by any declaration of opinion, but we must refrain from expressing a hope that, in the event of a decision adverse to the company, some method will be devised by which the people of the county may continue to enjoy their railroad facilities, while at the same time the requirements of the law are fully satisfied. We think we but record a feeling in saying that there is as little inclination on the part of the plaintiffs, in those suits, to embarrass the traffic and travel of the people of the country, as there is disinclination on the part of the defendants to manifest disrespect to the court, or unwillingness to abide its authority.

[illegible] camp at McNeal's woods, [illegible] on Friday morning. We learn the question is being considerably [illegible] ment ministers of the [illegible] Conference and leading [illegible] of the M. E. Church, as to [illegible] a peninsula or Conference camp [illegible] in this beautiful grove. It is [illegible] one of the finest places for a camp meetings in the State. The [illegible] is high and rolling. The water [illegible] excellent and inexhaustible. It is [illegible] about 3½ miles of Easton, and but [illegible] distance from both rail road and [illegible] boats. For a peninsula or [illegible] Conference camp, its central point, its [illegible] location, its convenient access [illegible] the great abundance of pure spring [illegible] appear to point it out as the most [illegible] spot that could be selected.

Prospectus of the Congregationalist.—The Committee of Arrangements for the Amendment celebration, to take place in Easton, on Wednesday the 16th inst., have issued the following programme:

[illegible] procession will form on South St. at 9 o'clock, and march as follows, viz: 10 A. M. It will then pass the old Abra st., Aora to Goldsborough, from Goldsborough to Washington, and through all the principal streets of this town, when it will be dismissed. The speaking will take place at 3 o'clock, P. M., at the Court House Green. [illegible] Marshal of the Day—Jas. Pennington. Chief of Staff—Frank Foxwell. Aids—Isaac F. Dobson, Saml. Webb, E. Green, Saml. Chaplain, Kensy [illegible] Al red Bartlett. [illegible] agreed that Blues Bands will be invited to join in the procession, viz: [illegible] Makers—Hon. H. H. Goldsborough, Henry Harrison, Dr. S. Brown, Dr. Cowgill, Rev. Mr. Handy, Hon. H. H. Isaac Hopkins, Frederick Douglass. [illegible] police force has been appointed [illegible] to keep order and [illegible] Cem. of Amendment [illegible]

Too Fast for Comfort.—On Monday last, several young [illegible] for their moustache to be about two shades [illegible] Gover's best back and pair, already for the [illegible] camp. At the appointed time, all on board [illegible] with hair well greased, handkerchiefs highly perfumed, gloves of the best tint, and canes of the most exquisite patterns, they started off in high glee. On they sped in fine spirits with smiling faces and gesticulations in the prospective. Carriage after carriage they passed, until at last a team was overtaken that was more than a match for them, [illegible] he [illegible] and [illegible] ted the [illegible] dashed lash heavy and fast, until the span was in a full run and just as the carriage in front was about to be [illegible] over a large stump, which threw it over. Here was a sight to behold. Their hats [illegible] their coats [illegible] their faces covered with perspiration and dust, which after [illegible] was a pretty mixed affair. But [illegible] they arrived on the ground, Murry, the barber, was a very popular man. This is another [illegible] slower.

The Good Templar.—We have received a copy of the first number of the "Good Templar," a very neatly printed little eight page paper, published at Preston, by [illegible] M. Rowins, Esq. The Good Templar, is started in the cause of temperance and it has our best wishes for its success.

[illegible], Cold, Pain in the Chest, or Bronchitis? In fact have you the premonitory symptoms of the "insatiate archer," Consumption? If so, know that relief is within your reach in the shape of Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry, which in many cases where hope had fled, has snatched the victim from the yawning grave.

Dry and Dusty.—Owing to the continued dry weather the corn crop and vegetation of all kinds in this section is becoming very much parched up, and the main roads have become terribly disagreeable to travel, owing to the great depth of dust.

☞ There was an excellent rain in the upper part of this county on Thursday last, which extended down below Skiptop. The main road to that point being quite muddy.

YARFLIN AHOY!
[illegible] Morris, Smith, will commence his camp at Caroline's Springs on Friday next.

DIED.

Hambleton.—Departed this life, on Monday, August 1st, Frederic, youngest son of Col. Saml. and Elizabeth Hambleton, aged 18 years and five months.

Having made a full confession of his Faith in Christ, a few months before he was called to endure his last severe illness, the young Disciple showed forth in an eminent degree, the power of Christianity to triumph over the last enemy. After taking a last farewell of those dear to him, peacefully, calmly, he commended his soul to God,—resting in the sure and certain hope of a resurrection to eternal life. God in his wisdom took him, while his armour was bright, and before contact with a sinful world had tarnished its purity. Those who were privileged to be with him in his sickness can never forget his love for the church, ordinances—his submission and holy resignation to his Father's will.

"Forever with the Lord
Amen, so let it be!
Life from the dead is prepared in the Lord
'Tis mine to sleep with the blest in the grave."
