LOCALS.

ALMOST FATAL ACCIDENT.—On Monday last, an oyster dredging boat commanded by a Captain Jones, and said to be from Baltimore, put into Tilghman's Creek, during the gale of that day, for safety. The boat being very short of wood and water, the old captain and two young men, ranging from 18 to 21 years of age—were sent on shore to procure these necessaries, instead of doing this, they made for liquor; where they could find liquor. On being directed, they proceeded to a grocery keeper named by the name of Godwin, and getting very much under the influence of whiskey, they remained there until nearly night, when they started, it was supposed, to get on their boat. They missed their way however, and stopped at a house on the road, occupied by two brothers named George and Noah Vinson and a woman called Mrs. Bellamy, for a bucket of water to boil food, but were refused. On arriving at Tilghman's, they were hailed by the oyster men, who had gone on shore in advance of the other, when they heard the cry of distress. They returned to the house and found their companion, John Cluster lying in a ditch, covering in blood.—Dr. Jones was sent for and he came to the road in a few minutes after the occurrence, and examined the wound. He found the skull crushed in two or three places and one piece of the bone which was pressing heavily on the brain had to be extracted. The Vinsons and the woman Bellamy were arrested, and have been captured that night and were taken to St. Michaels. They had a partial hearing before Esquire Sparks, but the case was postponed until Tuesday morning 9 o'clock. Notwithstanding the Vinsons disclaimed any knowledge of the affair, one of them was very bloody about his face, hands and clothes. And at length evidence was given that Cluster received his wounds from blows inflicted by Nathan Vinson, with an axe. The axe was found under the house—completely besmeared with blood. In default of bail, Nathan Vinson, the two oystermen and Bellamy were committed to jail. Cluster remains in a very critical condition.

REPUBLICAN VOTE.—Republicans, let every one of you, white and colored, that are entitled to vote, come to the polls on Tuesday. At this important election—when the Republican party is attempted to be crushed by the iron heel of Democracy, no Republican has the right to absent himself from the polls on that day. Let not the military demonstration of the Democracy deter you. But come to the polls with a determination to vote peaceably—but to vote. There is no need for apprehension and we do not apprehend any. If any should so far forget themselves as to provoke a difficulty, we imagine there will be sufficient force to take the matter in charge immediately as we learn that the Sheriff intends to summon a large police force for the occasion.

Bring out every Republican voter.

THE ELECTION.—In another column will be found a card over the signatures of the Judges of Election for this District and also one from the Sheriff of the county appended. The Sheriff says he intends to summon a large force of discreet police from both colors and that no pains or effort will be left undone, on his part, to protect every voter, let him be white or colored. The Sheriff is the proper officer to adopt means for the people's protection and not hastily raised military companies. We have no fear of difficulties being commenced by Republicans—white or black, and if every Democrat will determine to preserve the peace, no need will be entertained.

STONE DRAYS.—The store of Mr. Stitchberry, on Washington st., was broken into on Saturday night last and twenty three and four hundred dollars worth of goods stolen therefrom. Whole boxes of shoes, a large quantity of liquor and nearly everything in his store was broke open, and he has not yet obtained any clue to the perpetrators of the theft.

READY MADE CLOTHING.—Moses Herzberg has just received a large lot of ready made clothing for the fall and winter seasons, such as pantaloons, coats, vests &c.

J. L. Stewart has just added to his already large stock of clothing, which makes his supply complete.

ELECTION.—We see in the Washington items of the Philadelphia Inquirer of Wednesday, that at the Cabinet meeting on Tuesday, there was some conversation, with regard to the coming elections, and that it was the place in Maryland from especially manifested, representations having been made that troubles are apprehended. The administration, however, will in this State, as in New York, enforce the law, and as an evidence of this the commission of Paul Richardson, near Baltimore, has been ordered to hold himself in readiness with his troops to assist in enforcing the law.

CAUTION TO CONSUMERS OF PERUVIAN SYRUP.—Some unprincipled scoundrels have procured some of Solomon's celebrated Peruvian Syrup, and have deceitfully imitated the preparation of Peruvian Bark and Iron, which may be known by the following marks: Every bottle of genuine has Peruvian Syrup, not Peruvian Bark, blown in the glass. Examine the bottle you purchase, and if it does not have the name of Henry E. Taylor, Proprietor, blown in the glass, it is a base counterfeit. We caution Druggists and others against purchasing any other, and hope the public will be on their guard against imposition.

TICKETS.—The Republican tickets will be distributed in the different Districts of the county, on the day of election. On the Tuesday before Election they can be had at the Gazette office. Be sure you take the right ticket before you vote.

Vote for Forbert.

The Mason & Hamlin Organ Co., have the pleasure of announcing important improvements in their Cabinet Organs; for which they have received Patents. These are not merely incredulous attachments, but enhance the substantial excellence of the instrument.
