LAWRENCE'S CONFESSION.——OTHER MATTERS BROUGHT TO LIGHT.—On Saturday last Sheriff Bennett received the Death Warrant of Fred Lawrence, who was convicted of the murder of Emeline Handy in October last, at the late term of the Caroline County Circuit Court.—The following is the warrant:

STATE OF MARYLAND.

To the Sheriff of Talbot County, Greeting:

WHEREAS, Frederick Lawrence, colored, was convicted in the Circuit Court for Caroline County, at May term, in the year one thousand eight hundred and seventy-one, of murder in the first degree:

AND WHEREAS, the said Court sentenced him to be hung by the neck until he be dead, in Talbot County, the place the indictment was found—

Now, THEREFORE, These are to will and require, as also to charge and command you, that at or before the hour of two o'clock, P. M. on Friday, the FOURTEENTH day of July next, you take the said Frederick Lawrence, colored, from your prison, and him safely convey to the gallows in the county aforesaid, the place of the execution of malefactors, and then and there the said Frederick Lawrence, colored, hang by the neck until he be dead. For all which this shall be your sufficient power and authority.

Given under my hand and the GREAT SEAL of the State of Maryland, at the city of Annapolis, on this Twenty-sixth day of May, in the year of our Lord Eighteen Hundred and Seventy-one, and of the Independence of the United States the Ninety-Fifth.

By the Governor, ODEN BOWIE.

R. C. HOLLYDAY, Secretary of State.

On Monday morning about 10 o'clock, the Warrant was read to the prisoner in the reception room of the jail to about thirty invited citizens—including the members of the press. Before reading the paper the Sheriff made a few prefatory remarks and then asked the prisoner to give him his attention, when he proceeded to read. During the reading of the paper Lawrence sat in a chair, perfectly calm, and did not evince the slightest emotion. When the reading was through with the Sheriff said that if any one present wished to talk with the prisoner or to pray with him they had the privilege to do so. Dr. Ewell, of the Methodist Protestant Church being present, he offered up a fervent petition to the Throne of Grace in behalf of the soul of the unfortunate man then in their presence. Lawrence kneeled during prayers, with one hand to his face, and appeared to be in earnest devotion. He was afterwards returned to his cell, followed by a number of citizens, for the purpose of conversing with him and to see whether or not he would stick to his old story in reference to the murder. Chas. H. Gibson, Esq., State's Attorney, then told Lawrence of his inevitable doom and that it was no use to equivocate and he wanted him to tell the whole truth. He said he would do so, and commenced by saying that Bob. Stanton was the means of his being in his present situation. He said that he had always tried to do his duty and behave himself. That he had belonged to three or four masters during life and that not one of them had ever had occasion to put a scar upon him and then appealed to the Bailiff of the town, who was present, to know whether he ever had to speak to him for misbehaving. He said that for a time himself and Emeline kept house, but whenever he had occasion to go into the country Bob Stanton was at his house, until at last Stanton got into the good graces of his wife and was the cause of their breaking up housekeeping and separating. He said after Emeline went to live with Mr. Wright, Bob Stanton was with her every opportunity, and on the morning he killed Emeline, he did not go for that purpose, but he went for the purpose or killing Bob Stanton. He said he had told Stanton previously he intended to do it, and he went to the kitchen of Mr. Wright for the purpose of carrying out his intention if he could find Stanton there. When he went the first time the kitchen door was fastened on the inside but the window shutter was ajar and he looked through, when he saw Bob Stanton and Emeline in criminal intercourse. He (Lawrence) then went into the street and by the time he reached the street Stanton slipped out of the kitchen, up Brick Bat Alley, across Dr. Adkins' lot and into Mr. L. C. W. Powell's kitchen, under the pretence of going to see Chas. Viney. He (Lawrence) then went after his clean clothes and returned to Mr. Wright's when he charged Emeline with the crime in which he had caught her and she did not deny it. He said he asked her why she acted so and she replied that she was pursuaded to do it.—They then got into words over the affair and he struck her with his hand. The blow did not knock her down, but turned her a little and the pan which she was greasing for baking bread fell from her grasp. There was an axe lying on the kitchen floor and he picked it up and struck her a blow with the flat part, which knocked her down. Upon being asked whether or not she said anything after he struck her with the axe, he said she told him he had ruined her." When asked why he did not make these statements before his trial he said he intended to have done so before the Court at Denton, but he was a stranger there and did not know many people. He said he was trying to prepare to meet his fate, but the most he had to contend against was in trying to keep Bob Stanton from his mind. He tried not to think of him. He said he was glad the 14th of July was the day. He loved all the gentlemen in his presence. He loved the Sheriff and no one troubled his mind except Bob Stanton. That Bob Stanton could not now be going into Mr. Wright's to see Emeline and setting her against him, and he thanked God for it. She had gone and he expected soon to go too. He also said that Bob Stanton stole Dr. Adkins' meat, (Dr. Adkins' meat house was broken into some time back and a large quantity of meat stolen therefrom,) and hid it by the hog pen, and that if Emanuel Fountain had not died he supposed that Bob would have been sent to the pehitentiary. When talking about Stanton, Lawrence became quite excited and showed a fierry spirit that probably nothing but jealousy could cause him to evince. After this interview a number of colored persons went into Lawrence's cell and prayed with him.

☞ "THE Methodist Protestant Sunday School of Easton will make an excursion over the Maryland and Delaware Railroad to Smyrna on the 8th of June."—Wilmington Commercial.

You are mistaken, Mr. Commercial. The Methodist Protestant Sabbath school of Easton is going to give an excursion to Oxford—at the lower end of the road instead of the upper, and those along the upper portion of the road, who have never visited this section of Maryland, will have a fine opportunity to take a glance at our green fields, meandering streams, beautiful water courses, inhale the perfume of our choisest flowers, indulge in the luxuries of the salt water, and see as pretty girls as can be found on the peninsular.

THE NEW CHURCH AT ST. MICHAELS.—The congregation of the M. E. Church at St. Michaels, expect to commence the foundation of the new Church about the 15th or 20th of the present month. We have no doubt it will be a beautiful edifice. It will be 45 feet front and 75 feet deep, beside a recess of five feet for the pulpit, Mr. Thos. H. Coburn, of Easton, has received the contract to do the brick work. Mr. Coburn is a good mechanic, and no doubt will give entire satisfaction.

☞ I. C. W. POWELL, Esq., former State's Attorney for this county, has returned from Florida, where he has been sojourning for several months, to regain his health. We are glad to see him looking so much better. He has returned feeling like another man, and has again entered upon the duties of his profession.

☞ On Tuesday last there were more people in town, more whiskey drank and a greater number humbugged by Handenburgh & Co's., Circus and Menagery than for a long time. But there must have been very little fighting whiskey afloat as we have heard of but one or two disturbances.

☞ On Thursday last the Friends held their Quarterly meeting at their meeting house, near Easton: We noticed quite a number of strangers in town on that day, both ladies and gentlemen, and their manner of dress and pleasant faces indicated that they were of that pursuasion.

THE EXCURSION.—Don't forget the M. P. Sabbath School Excursion, on Thursday next. Also bear in mind the sumptuous feast that is to be given at Oxford on the same day. The cars to leave Easton depot at 9 o'clock A. M.

AT HIS OLD STAND.—Phil. Floyd, the barber, requests us to say that he is back again at his old stand, under the Brick Hotel. He is now ready to wait on his old friends or new ones either, having commenced anew, with new energy and a full determination to please.

☞ HON. SAML. HAMBLETON, of this town, who has been on a visit to California, in company with Dr. N. Pinkney, of the U. S. Navy, has returned. The Colonel looks hale and hearty.

SUDDEN DEATH.—Jno. Anthony Esq., died suddenly at his residence in Oxford, on Friday morning last. He was aged about 43 years.

Court Proceedings.

The prisoners convicted were brought into Court and sentenced.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills.

For all the purposes of a Laxative Medicine.

Perhaps no one medicine is so universally required by everybody as a cathartic, nor was ever any before so universally adopted into use, in every country and among all classes, as this mild but efficient purgative Pill. The obvious reason is, that it is a more reliable and far more effectual remedy than any other. Those who have tried it know that it cured them; those who have not, know that it cures their neighbors and friends; and all know that what it does once it does always—that it never fails through any fault or neglect of its composition. We have thousands upon thousands of certificates of their remarkable cures of the following complaints, but such cures are known in every neighborhood, and we need not publish them. Adapted to all ages and conditions in all climates, containing neither calomel nor any deleterious drug, they may be taken with safety by anybody. Their sugar-coating preserve them ever fresh, and makes them pleasant to take, while being purely vegetable, no harm can arise from their use in any quanity.

Minute directions are given in the wrapper on the box, for the following complaints which these PILLS rapidly cure:—

For Dyspepsia or indigestion. Listlessness, Languor and Loss of Appetite, they should be taken moderately to stimulate the stomach, and restore its healthy tone and action.

For Liver Complaint and its various symptoms, Bilious Headache, Sick Headache, Jaundice or Green Sickness, Bilious Colic and Bilious Fevers, they should be judiciously taken for each case to correct the diseased action or remove the obstructions which cause it.

For Dysentery or Diarrhoea, but one mild dose is generally required.

For Rheumatism, Gout, Gravel, Palpitation of the heart, Pain in the Side, Back and Loins, they should be continuously taken as required, to change the diseased action of the system. With such change those complaints disappear.

For Dropsy and Dropsical Swellings they should be taken in large and frequent doses to produce the effect of a drastic purge.

For Suppression a large dose should be taken as it produces the desired effect by sympathy.

As a Dinner Pill, take one or two Pills to promoje digestion and relisve the stomach.

An occasional dose stimulates the stomach and bowels into healthy action, restores the apetite, and invigorates the system. Hence it is often advantageous where no serious derangement exists.—One who feels tolerably well often finds that a dose of these pills makes him feel decidedly better, from their cleansing and renovating effect on the digestive apparatus.
