P A R I S, August 15.
 THE Parliament of Douay has wrote the following Letter to the King, which bears all the Marks of Zeal the most respectful, sensible, generous, truly patriotic and political.

S I R E, Dishonourable Peace, after an unfor-fortunate War, would be to France the height of ignominy; and the speedy source of a new war, more fatal perhaps than that which she had terminated. 'Tis therefore to your people, Sire, a point of honour, a matter beyond all interest! a point of necessity; a matter beyond every other motive! to furnish your majesty with succours capable of vanquishing or tiring the obduracy, the arrogance, the fortune of our enemies; with succours capable of making them yet feel, what they have experienced so many times, that French generosity sets no value upon estate and life, when Glory is in question, and that is never more terrible than when even decay and the reverse agitate it with the terror of contempt; with succours, in short, capable of obliging nations allied only by the desire of winning humanity, to finish, by a just and reasonable treaty, a war to which they have forced us, without reason, and against all justice.

These sentiments, those of Frenchmen at all times, those especially of your Frenchmen, we see with joy engraven on the hearts of our countrymen, expressed in their discourse, and by their conduct; and we are ever eager in all circumstances, to set them the lesson and example.
In this spirit, Sire, we have not hesitated to enregister, purely and simply, the declaration of the 16th of June last, prolonging for two years the double capitation, and the third twentieth penny, because we have perceived the distance of peace, and the probable continuance of the war for two Years.
But at the same time we have no doubt, that if heaven filling up our wishes and anticipating our hopes should design to restore reconciliation and repose before that term, your Majesty will cause those heavy impositions to cease with the war that is the object of them."

Augsburg (a very large and elegant city of Suabia, in Germany) August 24. There is daily more likelihood, that the congress will not take place so soon as was expected, and some people even pretend that it is entirely suspended. The proprietors of the houses taken for the several ministers continue however to have their rent paid them.

ADMIRALTY-OFFICE, August 27.
Extract of a letter from Sir Piery Brett, Commander in Chief in the Downs, to Mr. Cleveland, dated the 25th of August, 1761.

Mr. M'Bride being off Dunkirk with the Grace armed cutter on Saturday morning, and observing, that the two Prames were gone into the harbour, and only four flat bottomed boats and a dogger privateer were in the road, he immediately left his station to join the Maidstone, and proposed cutting out the privateer that night, if Captain Diggs would let him have four boats manned and armed; which he very readily complied with, knowing his abilities and resolution. The boats left the ships at ten o'clock at night; and when they came near the road, they laid all their oars across except two in each boat, which they muffled with bays, to prevent their being heard at a distance. They rowed in that manner till they were within musket-shot of the privateer: and being haled, they made no answer, but in a few minutes boarded him on both sides, and took possession of him without the loss of a man, and only two were wounded. Mr. M'Bride shot the Lieutenant of the privateer through the head with a musket, as he was pointing a gun into the boat; and one common man was killed, and five wounded.
This was done within half gun-shot of the Fort on the east side of the harbour, but the Fort did not fire at them; and when the prisoners were secured, they cut the cables, and sailed out of the road,

H A G U E, August 20.
S I R JOSEPH YORKE, ambassador extraordinary from the King of Great Britain, went yesterday to court with a brilliant and numerous retinue, and being introduced into the assembly of the States General, he had a public audience of their high mightinesses, to whom he made on that occasion the following S P E E C H :

High and Mighty Lords, BEING commissioned to deliver to your high mightinesses, the letter of the King my Master, by which his majesty has been pleased to honour me with the character of ambassador extraordinary and plenipotentiary to you, he at the same time expressly commands me to renew to your high mightinesses, in his name the assurances of his particular esteem, and invariable friendship for you.
 "The king, since his accession to the crown, having received marks of your high mightinesses attention to his person, commands me to return you his thanks, and to renew to you this day, by an extraordinary embassy, the most solemn assurances of the sincerity of those sentiments, with which I have already had the honour to acquaint you.
 "His majesty does not content himself with giving your high mightinesses bare assurances of his friendship; in the midst of successes with which it has pleased Providence to bless his arms, he forgetteth not the general welfare of Europe and much less the interests of his good friends and allies.
 "He commanded me to assure your high mightinesses, that he will always give the greatest attention to every thing that relates to the essential interest, the security and welfare of the Republic.

"I am very happy, high and mighty lords, to be made choice of by his majesty, in a manner so honourable for me, to be the interpreter of his sentiments; which ever since the beginning of his reign, have discovered him to be a monarch who inherits the virtues of his ancestors, giving, like them, his principal attention to the support of true religion, and public liberty.
 "The king still cherishes in the bosom of your republic, the illustrious offspring of the house of Orange, intrusted to his tutelage and to yours; an object which forms an additional tie between him and the republic.
 "I presume to flatter myself, high and mighty lords, that after nine years residence here, the sincerity of my desire for a disinterested and in-dissoluble union between the two states, is sufficiently known to your high mightinesses.
 "The events which have followed one another, in such quick succession for some years, sufficent-ly prove how desirable this union is: I shall execute, with the most ardent zeal, the commands of my august master, to contribute towards it; happy if my labours can procure me the good will of your high mightinesses."

The following is the answer returned by Baron Waf-Jenaar de Catwick, President of the Week, in the name of the States General, to the speech of his Excellency Sir Joseph Yorke.
S I R,

THEIR High Mightinesses are extremely affected by the assurance of friendship and good will, which his Excellency has just renewed to them in name of his Britannic Majesty, in the character of his Ambassador Extraordinary and Plenipotentiary.
 "Their High Mightinesses are particularly penetrated with gratitude, on account of his Majesty's having declared that he will, on all occasions, have at heart the interests, the safety, and the welfare of this Republic.
 "These assurances cannot but engage their High Mightinesses to a respectful and inviolable attachment to his royal person, and to offer "their most sincere prayers for the length and prosperity of his reign.

 "Their High Mightinesses have a most lively sense of the necessity of maintaining the union, which has so happily subsisted for such a number of years between Great-Britain and their Republic. Their utmost endeavours will be constantly exerted to strengthen the ties of this union.
 "They are persuaded that the Prince of Orange, who is so dear to all the inhabitants of this province, will most readily give his assistance towards this end, when he shall enter upon the functions of his posts.
 "In the mean time, it is a great satisfaction to their High Mightinesses to see the friendship and attention of his Majesty concur with those of his Serene Highness the Duke of Brunswick, for their Hereditary Stadtholder.
 "Let me add, Sir, that their High Mightinesses can assure your Excellency, that the King your master could not have chosen any Person for this extraordinary Embassy, who could have been more agreeable to them, as they have had the satisfaction for so many years of seeing you reside with them on the part of his Majesty with such distinguished approbation.
 "They will continue to give you proofs of their esteem and regard upon all occasions."

L O N D O N.
August 25. His Majesty's ship Aquillon, Capt.
Ogle, has taken and sent into Plymouth the Sub-tile, a French frigate, belonging to the East-India company, of 16 guns, and 90 men. She had difpatches on board, but the Frenchmen threw them overboard, and is laden with coffee and pepper.
 The unfortunate army of the Empire has not only been disappointed in their design upon Leipzig, but, while they were intent upon that enterprise, a small corps of Prussian hussars fell upon their rear, and made themselves masters of their military chest, in which they found 9000 rixdollars; no very large sum indeed, being about a rixdollar a head for the whole army, and every farthing they had.

Sept. 2. A letter from the Sound of the 18th ult. advises, that a Danish cartel ship was arrived there, which had brought an account that the Griffin, Captain Dethick, an English China ship, was unfortunately lost in an unknown streight, East of Java, but that all the crew were saved.
She parted from the Oxford, Webber, the Valentine, Furnell, and the Pocock, Debuke, six degrees east of the point of Java; and brings advice likewise, that the Suffolk East-India ship arrived at St. Helena the 26th of May last.
 His Majesty's ship the Royal George, of 100 guns, is ready for the sea, and it is reported Sir Edward Hawke will soon hoist his flag on board of her.

The Bedford man of war, which lately arrived from Lisbon, brought home upwards of 94,000 l. cash, the freight of which alone amounts to upwards of 900 l.

The Montreal frigate of 32 guns, called after the city of that Name in Canada, will soon be launched at Sheerness.

They write from Westphalia, that the French under Pr. Soubise had invested the city of Munster.
Sept. 8. It is said that the reduction of all the West-India islands is under consideration, and a plan for that purpose, with proper commissions, &c. preparing to carry it speedily into execution.

Some private letters from Paris intimate, that the court of France perceiving our naval force too powerful to admit of their attempting any enterprize on the coasts of this kingdom, had laid their strange projects aside for the present.

Letters from Paris of the 21st, mention, that on the preceding day a courier arrived there from London, with an answer to the last proposals made by France; by which the English seem unalterable in their demands.
