CITY INTELLIGENCE.

THE HOLIDAYS.—There is manifest disposition on the part of our citizens to properly observe the holidays, and so far as possible drive away, at least for a few days, the dull monotony which has affected society for months. The fair sex appear particularly determined in regard to the matter, and are already filling hampers and larders with good things to eat and drink, and making selections of wares, fancy articles, dresses, furs, and, in fact, of all articles which will be suitable as gifts and keepsakes. Yesterday and the day previous, Baltimore and other business streets presented very animated scenes It was jostle and bustle, hurrying from one store to an ther, each one apparently anxious to make the first selections.

Persons who desire to make presents of books will find an elegant assortment at the store of Mr. John Berger, No. 252 West Baltimore street. He has just received and exposed for sale a large supply of beautifully bound standard works, and also a full variety of the current literature, together with fancy articles, writing desks, chess boards, and, in fact, everything connected with his branch of trade.

Samuel Kirk & Sons, 172 Baltimore street, can supply those who are in search of silver service, or silver or plated wares of any description. Their stock of jewelry is extensive and varied, comprising every variety of style and pattern.

A box of fragrant Havanas is a most appropriate present to young men, and, in most instances, to old men also; and nowhere in the city can a better assortment be found than at Sutro's, No. 189 Baltimore street. He always has a supply of the most popular brands, which he disposes of on very reasonable terms. His supply of pipes, meerschaums and sweetbriars, is large and well selected.

Messrs. Canfield, Bro. & Co. are prepared to accommodate all who may desire articles in their line suitable for the holidays. Their stock of gold and silver ware is, as usual, very complete, and we have but little doubt that their elegant establishment will be crowded during the next few days.

Those in want of a good smoke—either the cigar or the pipe—can be accommodated with every description of the article by calling at "La Habana," No. 228 Baltimore street, corner of Charles.

Mr. George W. Webb has his usual complete assortment of Christmas presents in the jewelry and silver ware line, and we would advise those desiring articles in his line to give him a call.

Messrs. Cortlan & Co., No. 216 West Baltimore street, offer a fine collection of housekeeping articles, plated ware, etc. Nothing would make a more acceptable present for the good housewife than something from their stock. Messrs. C. & Co. have also a large stock of elegant fancy articles, many in the highest style of art, which they are disposing of at moderate prie s.

A present that is always in season, and particularly at Christmas, is a good book. Mr. John Murphy, 182 West Baltimore street, has a well assorted stock of books, a number of them especially selected for the holiday reason.

Mr. W. B. Larmour, Light street, opposite the Fountain Hotel, has a large and well selected stock of jewelry, watches, etc, from which no one will be at a loss to chose a Christmas present.

We will continue on Monday our notices of the depots of the most acceptable holiday presents.

SALE AT ST. MARY'S ORPHAN ASYLUM.—There will be a sale of useful and fancy articles at St. Mary's Orphan Asylum, Franklin street, during the holidays. The sale will be opened on Monday next, 23d inst., and will continue open from 10 o'clock in the morning until 10 o'clock P. M., and close on Saturday evening. This sale affords a good opportunity for such as wish to practice a real charity, to exercise it without detriment to their Christmas investments. Don't buy your presents until you take a look at the Sisters' salesroom; you may suit yourselves just as well there, and if you do, you have the satisfaction of conferring a double happiness, one on the intended recipient and another on the needy orphan child.—Catholic Mirror.

CHRISTMAS EXHIBITION AT THE INFANT ASYLUM.—The Sisters in charge of the Infant Asylum, Division street, will have an exhibition during the Christmas holidays, a magnificent scenic representation of the Nativity of our Saviour. We had the pleasure of seeing this interesting display of figures and landscapes last Christmas, and were very agreeably impressed with the effect produced by it. To children especially, we can imagine nothing that could be better devised for their amusement. They should by all means go and see it. The charge is only half a dime, with an abatement when visited by schools.—Catholic Mirror.

DISTRIBUTION OF BREAD TO THE POOR.—Dr. H. Greentree, James Fuller, George S. Riggs and others, of the Twelfth Ward, will distribute six hundred loaves of bread to the poor of their ward, from the corner of Garden and Preston streets, between the hours of two and five o'clock on the afternoon of Tuesday next, the 24th inst.

INQUEST.—Coroner Greentree yesterday held an inquest upon the body of Sarah Mason, the wife of a soldier of the Third Maryland regiment, living in Patterson's Lane. The jury rendered a verdict of death from apoplexy, superinduced by intemperance. She was about thirty years of age, and leaves two children.

FROM FORT WARREN.—Charles H. Pitts, Esq., member of the Maryland Legislature, who has for some time past been confined in Forts Lafayette and Warren as a political prisoner, arrived in this city yesterday. Mr. Pitts has been released upon his parole of honor, to return to Fort Warren at the expiration of thirty days.

WATER RENTS.—Attention is called to the advertisement of the Water Registrar in relation to water rents remaining unpaid.

THE GUNBOAT HERCULES.—Mr. P. M. Dungan, of this city, has been ordered to the command of the United States gunboat Hercules.

Amusements.

HOLLIDAY ST. THEATRE.—A magnificent programme is announced for representation this evening, in which the beautiful and gifted actress, Miss Lucille Western, will make her 56th appearance, sustaining her great character of Handsome Jack and Black-Eyed Susan. This gala entertainment will surely attract a crowded audience.

FRONT STREET THEATRE.—The opening night at this place of amusement was a complete success—both in an artistic and a pecuniary point of view. The "stock" company is composed of actors of fine talents, and, without doubt, is the best company that has appeared before a Baltimore audience in many years. Miss Charlotte Thompson, the "leading" lady, by the manner in which she has rendered the characters assigned her during the past two nights, has proved that she is an actress of no ordinary ability; possessing in an eminent degree those qualities which, with careful training, are destined to stamp her as one of the brightest "stars" of her profession. Messrs. Meldrum, Hind, and the rest of the company are deserving of honorable mention. Of Mr. John E. Owens, the "star," it is only necessary to say that he never played an engagement with more spirit; and while he remains at Front Street the audiences will be large, fashionable and appreciative—a fitting tribute to the merits of the inimitable comedian and true gentleman.

BALTIMORE MUSEUM.—Kunkle's Opera Troupe still continues to grow in favor with our citizens, as is attested by the large and fashionable audiences which are constantly in attendance. This afternoon there will be a choice matinee for ladies and children, especially, when a number of new and charming songs, dances and acts will be presented. To-night at 7½ o'clock there will be a grand soiree d'Ethiope.

TEMPERANCE TEMPLE.—The Prestidigitateur.—Our readers will be gratified to learn that Professor Wyman, the great Prestidigitateur, necromancer and ventriloquist, is about, with his magic touch, to convert the beautiful and popular Temperance Temple into an ancient Grecian Thaumaturgic Psycomanteum, where he will appear on Monday next in a number of wonderful feats never yet introduced to the citizens of Baltimore. The Prestidigitateur will remain but a few nights, and has adopted a popular scale of prices.

WAR ITEMS.

FROM THE UPPER POTOMAC.

A gentleman who arrived in this city yesterday from the Upper Potomac, states that, instead of the regiment, as reported by the Associated Press, being sent forward to Williamsport by General Banks, five regiments were first despatched, which were subsequently followed by ten other regiments, and that five regiments were held in reserve ready to march at a moment's warning. We have also accounts of very serious fighting in that vicinity. Colonel Geary's exploit at Point of Rocks dwindles down, as usual, to very diminutive proportions. The firing lasted but half an hour, during which he lost one man. The Confederate loss was unknown.

FROM WASHINGTON.

Special Washington Despatches to the New York World.

COL. COWDIN TO BE A BRIGADIER GENERAL.

It is said that Col. Cowdin, of the First Massachusetts regiment, will be made a Brigadier-General. He is one of the best and bravest officers in the service, and for some time has commanded the first brigade of Gen. Hooker's division.

PROTECTION FOR OUR COMMERCE IN CHINA.

H. Ex. A. H. Rice has made earnest representations to the Secretary of the Navy in regard to the exposed condition of our commerce in the Chinese seas, and has obtained a promise that war steamers now in the Pacific shall be sent across forthwith.

Special Washington Despatches to the New York Tribune,

ARRIVAL OF BULL RUN PRISONERS.

The Rev. John F. Mines, chaplain 24 Maine regiment, taken prisoner at the battle of Bull Run, and since that time incarcerated at Richmond, accompanied by Thomas Wilkinson and Charles Smith, privates, taken at the same time, arrived to-night. They brought a bag containing 1,000 letters from prisoners, most of them franked by Mr. Ely. One is from Colonel Wood to his wife.

CONDITION OF LIEUT. JANEWAY.

Lieut. Janeway, of Jersey City, who was wounded in the reconnoissance on Monday last, from Gen. Heintzelman's division, is in the hospital of the 24 Maine regiment, near Fort Lyon. He was hit by eight musket balls, six of which entered his body. Two of these have been extracted. With proper care he is likely to recover.

MARYLAND SOLDIERS CAPTURED.

The report that a Maryland regiment had been captured on the Upper Potomac grew out of the fact that a captain and thirteen men of a Maryland regiment were the other day taken prisoners on the Upper Potomac.

Special Washington Despatches to the Philadelphia Inquirer.

THE HOSTAGES.

It is rumored that the English and French Governments agree that the Confederate privateers men captured by us cannot be held or tried as—to use a phrase of international law "hostis humani generis," an enemy of the human race, whose hands are turned against all nations and the hands of all nations against him. Should our Government accept this construction of the status of the prisoners under trial for piracy, their hostages, including Colonels Corcoran and Lee, can easily be exchanged.

UNFOUNDED RUMOR.

The town has been excited to day with a rumor that fifteen hundred men of General Heintzelman's division have been taken prisoners by the Confederates. A ride of 25 miles shows that it is without a particle of foundation.

COMMITTEE ON CONDUCTING THE WAR.

The committee appointed to day will meet to-morrow morning at ten. The irregularities of a number of our Generals will be at once inquired into.

Brigadier-General Lane.

The Washington Republican, after stating that the nomination of Senator James H. Lane as Brigadier-General in the Federal service was unanimously confirmed, says:

"The Administration will co-operate with General Lane fully and heartily. He will have such an army and such a command as he desires to have. No announcement could be more gratifying to the country. It is the beginning of the end of this war."

An Embargo on Ship Timber.

From the New York Times, December 20.

The promptness of Great Britain in forbidding, upon the first alarm of a war, the exportation of arms and the constituents of gunpowder, presents an example which it is advisable to imitate in this country. We are informed that the purchases of ship timber in the United States for the British Admiralty have been so heavy as nearly to clear the market; and vast quantities are actually stored here, awaiting transportation. Owing to the war, the supplies of live-oak timber, which came from the South, have been curtailed. The Virginia sources have also been practically closed; and at this moment, when Congress is about to urge the most energetic measures for doubling the navy, it is almost impossible for the American shipbuilder to find material for a single vessel. To stop this exhaustion of our strength for the benefit of a foreign, and possibly a hostile Power, will not be the direct of a retaliatory policy, but of a policy which looks to the safety of our own people before that of the stranger. The Government cannot act in the matter too early.

Arrival of the Prize Ship Cheshire.

The British ship Cheshire, of Liverpool, England, Captain Craig, from Liverpool October 10, and Belfast 19th, via Savannah bar 6th inst., arrived at this port yesterday morning in charge of a prize crew, and in command of Prizemaster Heath, of the United States steamer Augusta, Captain Parrott The Cheshire was discovered on the 6th inst., off Tybee Island, in six fathoms water, and upon being boarded it was found that she had cleared for Nassau, N. P., and that her cargo consisted of coffee, salt and army blankets, which was deemed very suspicious. Upon her captain being questioned as to why, if he was bound to Nassau, he should be found in that locality, he replied that he had received instructions at Liverpool to "speak the blockading squadron," but for what purpose was not made known. Not deeming it safe to allow her to proceed, and as the replies were not satisfactory, she was towed to Charleston by the United States steamer Augusta, Capt. Parrott, a prize crew put on board, and sent to New York. She is now lying at the Brooklyn Navy Yard.—New York Herald, December 20.

The United States sloops-of-war Macedonian and Constellation, of 22 guns each, have been ordered to cruise in foreign seas, for the protection of American commerce.
