WAR ITEMS.

FROM FORTRESS MONROE.

Arrival from Hatteras Inlet--The Burnside Expedition Still at the Inlet--Safety of the Steamer Louisiana--Loss of the Steamboat Herbert--Proposal of the Confederates to Evacuate Roanoke Island.

FORTRESS MONROE, February 6.—The United States steamer Suwanee, of the Burnside Expedition, arrived here this forenoon. She left Cape Hatteras on Wednesday morning, having come out of the Inlet the day before. The fleet was still inside the Inlet, and, not, withstanding the continued stormy weather, all safe and in good condition. Most if not all the vessels had gone over the bar, and about six thousand troops had been landed from the transports at the Inlet.

The Suwanee was considerably damaged by the storm, having had part of her bulwarks and wheelhouses stove and her upper works injured. She brings a large mail and thirty-four sick men from the expedition. Five of the sick died on the passage. After landing her mails and passengers she will go to Philadelphia for repairs.

The steamer Louisiana had been got off without very serious damage, and the only disaster in addition to those already reported is that of the loss of the purchased gunboat E. H. Herbert.

No forward movement had yet taken place owing to the weather, but a movement was shortly expected.

There was a rumor circulated that the Confederates had offered, through a flag of truce, to give up Roanoke Island on condition that Elizabeth City should not be attacked.

The steamer Albany arrived this forenoon from Annapolis with Quartermaster's and other stores for the Burnside Expedition.

It has been raining here all day.

There is no news of the Burnside fleet in the Southern papers, or about the Merrimac.

The steamer Rhode Island arrived from New York this afternoon.

Adjutant-General Schouler, of Massachusetts, arrived this morning.

The Constitution sailed again this afternoon.

A flag of truce to-day brought down a large number of ladies and children to go North, fleeing from the privations and terrors of the "C. S. A." Also, Lieut. Preston, of the 71st New York, to be exchanged and J. H. H. Sands, 5th Michigan regiment, a prisoner of war, released on parole.

No news was brought down except the following items.

From Southern Papers.

MEMPHIS, Feb 5.—Three Federal gunboats appeared on the Tennessee river yesterday. They opened fire on Fort Henry and the latter responded. There was no damage done to the Fort. The Federals are landing troops two miles from the Fort, and an attack is expected. The Confederates are in full force on the Tennessee river, and no damage from the Federals is apprehended.

A Order was issued from the War Department on the 4th ordering all military commanders to impress all the saltpetre found in their districts, except such as is in the hands of original manufactures and Government agents and contractors, paying therefor forty cents per pound and no more. The order is issued in consequence of the monopoly of speculators and the exorbitant rates charged the Government.

The Richmond Dispatch says the Missouri difficulty has been satisfactorily arranged. General Price will doubtless be commissioned a Major-General, and the Missouri troops so received into the Confederate service as twelve months' volunteers.

The Legislature of Virginia yesterday, says the Dispatch of the 5th, went into secret session for the purpose of considering an important communication from the Governor upon a subject in regard to which it is understood the State and Confederate authorities are entirely agreed. Its purport will not transpire at present.

The Richmond Dispatch says in an editorial:

"Spain is the natural ally of the South. If the South has had one friend from the beginning of her troubles, it has been Spain. We think it due to her generous and chivalric people to have sent representatives to the Spanish court, and thereby laid broad and deep the foundations of permanent and close amity with that nation. It is not too late now to rectify the omission, which was not dictated by any want of courtesy."

Additional Southern News--Troops Leaving Norfolk for Mobile--Drafting for the Confederate Army--Beauregard at Nashville--Attack on a Confederate Fort in New River, near Savannah.

PHILADELPHIA, February 7.—The Inquirer's special despatch of Southern news, via Fortress Monroe, embraces the following items:

A fleet of the richest and a considerable number recovered uninjured.

A gentleman from Norfolk says the Confederates there were under the impression that the Burnside Expedition had been completely wrecked.

Troops at Norfolk were being rapidly sent South as far as Mobile.

Drafting for the Confederate army will commence on the 1st of March.

Gen. Beauregard is at Nashville.

Bishop Ames and ex-Governor Fish will not be permitted to visit Richmond.

AUGUSTA, Feb. 5.—A letter from Savannah says that heavy firing was heard here in the direction of New River, on the South Carolina side, on Monday morning, lasting four hours. A Confederate officer at Savannah says one of our batteries on New River has been attacked, and one Federal gunboat at least destroyed.

The Charleston Mercury says that the firing was at Red Bluff, and that the enemy destroyed the houses in the neighborhood.

Gen. Price is at Richmond after a Major-Generalship and supplies.

The Inquirer's correspondent also has news, he says, of a riot at Richmond, and that the city had been placed under martial law.

FROM WASHINGTON.

From the Washington Star of Yesterday.

A Fight This Morning Over the River.

Gen. Wm. F. ("Baldy") Smith telegraphs today that the scouting parties—a portion of one of his regiments now engaged on picket duty in his immediate front—are engaged with some portion of the enemy (probably also scouting parties—Eds. Star) near Flint Hill. He says of the affair:

"A part of my scout has returned with five prisoners belonging to the 1st Cavalry, and one citizen. The remainder of the regiment is engaged near Flint Hill with the enemy. Captain Currie reports that he needs no assistance. The cavalry dismounted and assaulted a house and took the prisoners. One of our captains is wounded, and one man, thus far.

"P. S. Another detachment has returned with four prisoners belonging to the 1st North Carolina regiment, three of them being non commissioned officers. We have thus far captured six horses and eight Colt's rifles. I will send the prisoners on as soon as possible."

Washington Correspondence New York Times.

THE CONFEDERATE STATES EXPECT RECOGNITION IN THE SPRING.

An English gentleman who has just arrived here from the South, having left Richmond on Tuesday last, states that he saw and talked with several members of the Confederate Cabinet, and they assured him they had positive intelligence that France and England would recognize the independence of the South by the 4th of March. He says that David's will foreshadow it in his communication to the Confederate Congress on the 22d of February, at which time he is to be inaugurated. This gentleman brought despatches to several of the legations here.

ANOTHER SENATORIAL INQUIRY PROBABLE.

The expulsion of Mr. Bright is likely to prove only the beginning of the war against Senators suspected of disloyalty. Attention is already being directed toward Mr. Powell, of Kentucky. It is said that shortly a resolution will be introduced into the Senate directing the Superintendent of the Document Room to inform that body what public documents Mr. Powell has ordered to be sent to members of the Southern Confederacy since the formation of the Provisional Government.

THE DISLOYAL GOVERNMENT EMPLOYEE.

It is said that several Government employees, named in the report of the Potter Committee, have challenged some of the witnesses against them.

The Remains of Gen. Zollicoffer.

A despatch from Nashville, via Mobile, dated February 1, and published in the Richmond papers, says:

The remains of General Zollicoffer reached here to-day from Bowling Green. The Legislature took a recess for the day. The body of the deceased was escorted from the depot by the military, the Governor of the State, the officers of the State, members of the Legislature and citizens generally. The remains are now in the Capitol in state, and the funeral will take place to-morrow.—The official report by Lieutenant-Colonel Waltrum, commanding the Fifteenth Mississippi regiment, of the battle of Fishing Creek, or Somerset, states that forty-three were killed, one hundred and fifty-three wounded and twenty-four are missing.

DOMESTIC MARKETS.
