DIFFICULTY AMONG THE NEW YORK REGIMENTS ON THE POTOMAC.

There has been considerable difficulty among the New York troops on the line of the Potomac. A correspondent of the Buffalo Commercial Advertiser thus states the difficulty:

A letter, which is dated Upton's Hill, Fairfax county, Va., Jan. 31, contains the subjoined general order and comments:

HEADQUARTERS, ARMY OF THE POTOMAC, WASHINGTON, January 15.

GENERAL ORDERS, No. 8.

I. Before a general court-martial, of which Major William Atterbury, 9th New York State militia, is President, convened at the camp of Banks' division, by virtue of special orders, No 134, from these headquarters, of Nov. 7, 1861, was arraigned and tried private Railton B. Stalker, of company A, 19th New York volunteers, on the following charge and specification:

CHARGE—"Desertion."

Specification—"That Private Railton B. Stalker, of Company A, Nineteenth' Regiment New York Volunteers, having been duly enlisted into the service of the United States, did desert the same on or about the 23d day of November, 1861. This at camp near Rockville, Maryland."

The record shows no plea to this charge and specification. It is to be taken as if the plea of "not guilty" were interposed.

After mature deliberation on the testimony adduced, the court found the prisoner "guilty" of the specification and "guilty" of the charge, and thereupon did sentence him, the same Private Railton B. Stalker, of Company A, Nineteenth Regiment New York Volunteers, "to be dishonorably discharged the service of the United States, and there committed to the United States penitentiary in the District of Columbia, at hard labor, for the term of two years and six months."

II. The Major-General commanding, after a careful examination of the testimony shown by the record, is unable to confirm the proceedings in this cause.

It appears that in the month of April, 1861, the accused was enlisted for two years into the service of the State of New York. On the 22d of May he was mustered into the service of the United States for three months. This term expired 22d August, 1861. No subsequent enlistment or mustering into the service of the United States was shown at the trial. It was in evidence, however, that he drew pay and rations after the expiration of the three months for which he was mustered into the service of the United States.

Whether the receiving of pay by the strictest construction of the 20th Article of War can be invoked to extend a term of service beyond the original contract, against the consent of the soldier, is, at least, very questionable. There can be no doubt that to exact any penalty by the aid of such a construction would be barbarous in the extreme. As nothing was said in the specification respecting such a ratification of the extension of the enlistment, but the case was put upon the due enlistment of the accused, the evidence was clearly improper.

It is the opinion of the Major-General commanding, however, that no plenty of statement in the charge and specification could have warranted a primitive sentence on such testimony as this record discloses. The prisoner was entitled to his discharge on the 22d of August, 1861. He cannot be punished for deserting, in November, a service to which he did not belong.

The proceedings are disapproved. Private Railton B. Stalker will be released from confinement, and regularly discharged the service of the United States.

By command of Major-General McClellan.

S. WILLIAMS, Ass't Adj't.-Gen.

When the foregoing order came into camp, Lieut.-Col. Root, who was in command, ordered it to be suppressed, until he could telegraph to Gen. McDowell for instructions—for he believed the order to contain a serious error of judgment. Gen. McDowell directed the printed orders to be returned to headquarters, and it was done, so far as the Twenty-first regiment was concerned. But the neighboring regiments had heard the order read, and our own men were not long in obtaining written copies, and distributing them through the regiment. You can imagine the effect of this order upon our soldiers, many of whom, while performing their duty, nobly and well, have believed themselves to be illegally held in service.

I understand that General McClellan revokes and disavows the general orders No. 8, which practically discharges from service five New York regiments—viz., the Twelfth, Thirteenth, Nineteenth, Twenty-first and Twenty-seventh. It seems that General McClellan never saw or knew of the order, until his attention was called to the serious consequences caused by its having been promulgated. Yet the order says: "The Major General commanding, after a careful examination," &c. Now, what is to become of the Twenty-first regiment? Many predict that unless it is given active fighting duty very soon, the men will, after next pay-day, claim their discharges, and if they are not granted, will quietly walk out of camp and go home.

We have seven deserters now being tried. Since this Order No. 8 has been promulgated, these deserters have set up the defence that they, being three months' men, were illegally held, and cannot be punished for deserting a service to which they do not belong. They have secured the services of Lieutenant Samuel P. Gall, of the Twenty-first, as counsel, and he is now engaged in their defence.—Of course the State of New York can hold the regiment for two years, and I don't see so that the men will gain by being sent back to the State of New York, to garrison some fort in New York harbor, during the remainder of their term of service. Certainly the regiment cannot be mustered out of service entirely, unless the Governor so directs.

From the New York World, Feb. 11.

LATEST FROM MEXICO.

We have important news from Mexico, received via Havana. Advices from Vera Cruz to January 15th state that the allied force at that place numbered 16,000 men, and that there were between the city and the capital 50,000 Mexicans ready to resist any advance movement. The Mexican government has increased the taxes twenty-five per cent., and re-established an income tax of two per cent. The allied powers have issued a manifesto announcing that they have come to get reparation for past injuries, and denying that their purpose is conquest or interference with the politics and government of Mexico. Attached to this is a despatch from each of the plenipotentiaries stating their claims.

The invaders are suffering from want of provisions, and dare not make any movement outside of the city. Gen. Prim has promulgated an address to his soldiers urging them to deeds of valor worthy of Spain, and enjoining upon them to respect the land in which they now are. Miramon left Havana on the 23d under an assumed name, intending, it is said, to be transferred, at Vera Cruz, to a schooner which is awaiting him, and in which he hopes to effect a landing, somewhere on the coast. A Spanish war steamer, from Vera Cruz, arrived at Havana on the 25th, bringing General Gasscott and other military persons attached to the expedition, who report that the allies had made an advance toward the capital, occupying Espiritu Santa, and that the Mexicans retreated as they advanced, without fighting.

The Troy cotton mill, which has been running half time for several months, has commenced running three-fourths time.

Col. Jewelson has recently turned over to Gen. Hunter the sum of $4,400, being the proceeds of a sale of Confederate property in Johnson county, Lexon.

The Duke of Wellington, it is related, never lost a gun in an engagement with the enemy, though he mentioned about three thousand.

Monetary and Commercial Review.

BALTIMORE, February 11, 1862.

The business at the Stock Board was light again today, but the whole market, with one or two exceptions, was very strong. Northern Central Railway shares and bonds were especially strong, the shares closing at 20 bid, an advance of ¼ a dollar, and the 1885 bonds at 70 bid, which is 3 per cent. more than was bid for them yesterday. Baltimore and Ohio Railroad shares were hardly as firm as on yesterday, only 40¾ being bid for them. There were however none offering. Baltimore and Ohio bonds were firm, 1867's closing at 83 bid, 1875's at 78 bid; 1885's at 77 bid, 1885's at 74¾ bid, and 1862's at 50 bid, 50¾ asked. A sale was made of $2,000 Northwestern Virginia first mortgage bonds at 80¾, and they closed at 80 bid, 80¾ asked. For the second mortgage bonds of this road 70 was bid, but there were none offered. For Western Maryland first mortgage bonds 81 was asked, but no bid was made. City 6's were in better demand and firmer to day than for several days past. Sales were made of $4,000 1875's at 99, and $1,000 1890's at 90¾, and these figures were bid for more at the close. No sales of State stocks were made, but they were firm, Maryland 6's closing at 91¾ bid for inscribed, and 92 bid for coupon 1870's, and for Kentucky 6's 78 was bid. Bank and Insurance stocks were very firm, but nothing was done in them. Springfield Mining Co. was higher again to day, $2.05 being bid, and $2.15 asked for it.

In New York to-day stocks generally were better, and the market closed firm. Virginia 6's declined ¾, but Tennessee and North Carolina 6's advanced 1 per cent. each, Missouri 6's ¾; Canton ¾; Erie ¾; New York Central $1¾; Rock Island ¾, and Reading $1¾.

The New York Herald of yesterday says:

Stocks opened to day with a better feeling; but the absence of orders caused a decline in the market as soon as the speculators had made their purchases. The decline was aggravated by the receipt, shortly after noon, of the America's news, which foreshadows a probability of an early interference by France in our civil war, and the market looked very gloomy in the afternoon. The average decline was ¾@¾ per c ct. on the speculative list, but Illinois Central fell off 1 per cent., Pacific Mail ¾, &c. The market closed heavy.
