THE RECENT VOTE IN WESTERN VIRGINIA.

WHEELING, March 6th.

Messrs. Editors:—At the election held on the 3d instant for the new Constitution, there were altogether 975 votes cast in the county, including the city of Wheeling, of which the latter gave 718 votes; the vote given was nearly unanimous for the new Constitution and emancipation, but few votes being given by the opponents of this movement to secede from Virginia; and it is a fair inference that this vote shows the abolition strength of this county, though we do not believe there are 700 abolitionists among us. At the Presidential election there were 3,517 votes polled in Ohio county, Wheeling included, and of these Lincoln received 771 votes, which was then the full strength of the abolitionists.

It is urged that there are many voters absent from the county in the Federal army, it is also true that a large number of Democrats are absent, and that a large proportion of the recruits for the Federal army from this region are foreigners, principally Germans, and that many of them have not been naturalized. From all the evidence afforded by the votes given in relation to the division of the State, it is plain that but a fraction over one-fourth of the people of this county and city are in favor of it. VIRGINIA.

The deception intended by the appended statement is made clear by the foregoing statement from the official returns:

VIRGINIA CONSTITUTIONAL ELECTION.

WHEELING, April 3.—The vote of this city to day gives the new Constitution 646 majority, and a majority of 583 in favor of gradual emancipation. The interior counties, as far as heard from, give the same ratio.

[COMMUNICATED.]

"Infernal Atrocity."

Mr. Bingham, of Ohio, is reported as having said that to treat an African as chattel or property is an infernal atrocity. In Leviticus, xxv., 44, it says:—"Both thy bondmen and thy bondmaids, which thou shalt have, shall be of the heathen round about you; of them shall ye buy bondmen and bondmaids. Moreover, of the children of the strangers that do sojourn among you, of them shall ye buy, and of their families that are with you, which they begat in your land; and they shall be your possession. And ye shall take them as an inheritance for your children after you, to inherit them for a possession; they shall be your bondmen forever." Who committed the infernal atrocity? the Lord, through Moses, or Mr. Bingham? Would Mr. Bingham say that the Almighty God committed an "infernal atrocity," when He made the African black, if he (Mr. B.) could gain votes, power, place or money by the assertion?

From the New York Express.

NEGRO EQUALITY, ETC.—NEGROES TO THE RESCUE.

The Republican journals—some of them—more and more begin to develop, to their credit, what they really mean,—

NEGROES FOR GARRISON DUTY.

The Secretary of War, with provident eye to the heats of summer, and the necessity of holding forts and arsenals in places where the yellow fever demon will enlist for three or four months, on the side of the Confederates, has, we are told, conceived the possibility of using negro soldiery for garrison duty. The blacks, thoroughly acclimated, will be saved from the risks of climate; while in the well defined limit of fortifications they will be restrained from the commission of those revengeful excesses which are the bug-a-boos of the Southern people. And, indeed, we hardly know why so much care should be taken of these same Southern nerves, seeing the merciless readiness of the Confederates to turn upon us the Indian savages of the Southwest. But there is an argument for the use of the negro troops sufficient to acquit Mr. Stanton of sympathy with Garrison Abolitionism. Experience proves the blacks to have rare merit in the handling of artillery. Both in the British and American service has this excellence been noted. They are proof to the heat and smoke of the casemate, unendurable by whites in a warm climate, while the ardor of their labor and courage throws the utmost energy into their gunnery. It is also asserted that their practice is quite as accurate as that of the white artillerists. This aspect we are sure the Secretary will weigh carefully before deciding—this faculty of the negro as a gunner would go far to commend his employment.

The further comments of the Express are as follows:

Arming the Negro—as a necessary defender and protector of our country—is not only the first, but the great step toward the equalization and amalgamation of the race with the white race here, as in Spanish America, where the amalgamationists began, just as it is proposed to begin here—in the arming of the negro, and thus enabling him, with arms in his hand, to command post, place, office, honor, emolument, equality, marriage, intermarriage, and the reduction of the Spanish race to his own African standard. If, as the Times argues, the negro, as artillerist, or anything else, was worth all he is stated to be, the worst of policy is, would be, nevertheless, to organize him, as soldier, and to arm him; because it would be certain here, as in Spanish America, to lead to that equality of the races, that there has taken the manhood out of all Spanish life. To be soldier, is to be citizen. To hold arms is to have power to force equality and amalgamation. Arms—much as we talk of civil law and constitutional law—arms, nevertheless, rule the world. The soldiers of the human race are the great governors of that human race. Every Government now depends upon arms; and they who hold the arms, govern mankind. To put arms, then, into the hands of the negro, is to declare at once the equality of the African and of the Caucasian races, and to break down at once the Puritan and chevalier caste upon which the English colonies were founded, and to reduce these, now States, to the Spanish level of equal Negro-Indian degradation. Even our Puritan fathers, with all their other talk, made this a white man's Government, and kept it a white man's Government; and neither Indians nor negroes entered—but as servants—their ranks, when soldiers. The Puritan element of our society, now degraded into Abolitionists, is, so we see, converting itself, or trying to convert itself, into amalgamationism!

REPORTS ABOUT "RECOGNITION."—It is reported that prominent members of the Diplomatic Corps at Washington have received from Europe intimation that an amicable separation of Virginia, the Carolinas, Florida, Georgia, Alabama, Mississippi, (Louisiana?) Arkansas and Texas from the remainder of the United States, will take place in June.—It is very evident, he says, that some of the representatives of foreign Powers at Washington have written home suggestions that this might be brought about, based upon their openly expressed convictions that the slave States will never return to their allegiance, and that the North will rather consent to a separation than desire to hold them as subjugated provinces. Letters from London state that Mr. Mason also proclaims this idea. The Albany Argus notices these facts, and asks:

"What, let us ask, is the secret source of all these converging rumors? Is it not the fact that influential members of the Cabinet, and the President himself, have talked of an ultimate recognition of a Confederacy of Gulf States? Does not the President's message distinctly give this impression? We pointed out this characteristic on first reading that paper, and protested against the deduction to be drawn from it. The American people are fighting for the restoration of the whole Union, under the old Constitution—and any result other than this will be regarded as a calamity."—Hartford (Conn.) Times, April 9.

RELIABLE NEWS.

BALTIMORE, March 29, 1862.

Mr. Geo. Pearson—Dear Sir: Being troubled with a severe SORE THROAT and Cold (which settled on my lungs), I tried your MEDICATED TAR DROPS, and can speak very flatteringly of their having relieved me in a few hours, and curing me in three or four days. I cheerfully recommend your justly celebrated Tar Drops to all similarly affected, who will find them pleasant, simple, very efficacious, and the cheapest remedy I ever used. Yours, very truly,

W. HARRISON HORNER,
