By accounts from New-Jersey we learn, that deserters daily me over from the enemy, who are penned up in Brunswick, to at they never peep out but our people have a knock at them, such as often turns out in our favour. One of which skirmishes opened on Tuesday the 18th inst. where we took several wagons, 8 prisoners, and found 4 or 5 dead in the field; and another happened on Friday last, when the enemy made the best of their way into the town to tell, that they could not get any fore, for the rebels.

In CONGRESS, February 25, 1777.
TO the end that the most speedy stop may be put to the per-sious and unforderly practice of deserting, and that such offenders who receive the public money for services that they de-not to perform, may be certainly and speedily carried back the corps they have deserted from, it is earnestly recommend-to the committees of observation or inspection in these United ates, that they cause diligent enquiry to be made in their respective counties or districts, for all deserters that may be lurk-and harboured therein, and cause such, whenever found, to immediately secured and conveyed to the nearest continental icer, and all such officers are hereby directed to receive and ure such deserters, that they may be safely delivered to their pective regiments, and brought to a speedy trial and exemary punishment; and farther to pay to the persons delivering ch deserters, eight dollars for each deserter so brought and deered, and twelve ninetieths of a dollar, in lieu of expences, for ery mile from the place where the deserter was taken up, to the place where he is delivered to the officer.

ARTICLES OF WAR. SECTION VI.

Art. 3. No non-commissioned officer or soldier shall enlist him-

Extra of a letter from Providence, March 21.
The continental army in this state fills fast. A deserter came off from Newport this week, he proves to be a Hessian sergeant, and says, that all their men would desert if they could get away. He says, all the ladies of Newport are taken up and confined in the common gaol, the officers, both Hessian and British, frequently meeting at the house of those ladies, quarrelled about the beauty of their doxies, which coming to gen. Prescott's ears, he ordered them all into gaol. Count Kaipfartch, a Hessian major, and a Hessian captain, lately, they had not time to do so.

The next morning we took possession of the town, and the day following the ships fell down below. Crpton river, these marauders (according to their usual practice) plundered and abused some houses, and burnt several others, carried off a few cattle and sheep, and some light articles from the public stores. Our principal loss is in rum, molasses and flour, which we destroyed, and a quantity of sugar burnt by the enemy; in the commisary's store, the militia, on the first alarm, turned out with the greatest alacrity, and marched to our assistance, and if these British heroes had had a day
