FOREIGN MISCELLANY.

DOUBLE MURDER IN FRANCE.—A double murder, which, says the correspondent of the Daily News, suggests very melancholy reflections as to the moral value of "good conduct" in prison, has just been perpetrated at Toulon. A soldier named Huet, who was condemned to death in 1848 for an attempt to murder an officer, had his sentence commuted to imprisonment with hard labor for life. Subsequently, in consequence of his good conduct, he was informed that that his punishment would cease at the end of 20 years, and consequently in six years from this time he would have been a free man. But two of his comrades in chains drew the inference from the favor granted to him that he must be a police spy, and gave expression to their suspicions. This accusation awakened the old instincts of the man, whose mind was familiarized with the notion that any injury to himself must be wiped out with blood. He got hold of a hatchet used to cut wood in the kitchen, killed with it at a single blow one of his traducers, whom he found asleep in bed, and so desperately wounded the other that his life is despaired of.

A SHIP'S CARGO ON FIRE.—A despatch has been received in Liverpool to the effect that the Australian ship King of Italy, bound from Melbourne for London, had put into Valparaiso with her cargo on fire. It appears that for thirty days previous to the ship's reaching Valparaiso the cargo had been on fire, and the heat and steam caused by the burning of the goods and the quantity of water poured into the hold rendered the condition of those on board anything but comfortable. Fortunately, however, the vessel was got into the above port, where all the crew and passengers were landed in safety; but doubts were entertained whether the ship could be saved, as the fire had apparently gained too much hold over the cargo to be easily subdued.

A SPIRIT TEST.—An interesting experiment was made last week at the residence of the Sub Prefect of St Nicolas. A chemist from Cognac demonstrated that he could by means of a reactive, distinguish pure Cognac brandy from mixed spirit, and tell whether the latter was composed of spirits of wine, beet root, or corn spirit. Various descriptions of brandy were given to the chemist for his experiment. By pouring a glass of his reactive into a bottle of each liquor, he produce d both by a particular tint, which indicated the nature of the mixture. There were a number of wine merchants and distillers present, who were astonished at the accuracy of the experiment, which succeeded above 100 times.

THE CHANNEL FISHERIES.—The large quantities of fish caught round the Channel Islands have always been attributed to vast supplies of sand eels found close to the islands, on which such fish feed, and these eels are supposed to be driven into the shallows by porpoises. For some time past a colony of sharks have been living in the Channel, which have driven away the porpoise tribe, and there has ever since been a great scarcity of the fish which live upon the sand eels. Curiously enough, the sharks having now left the Channel, the porpoises have returned, and the fish which were so scarce are as plentiful as ever.

PICKED UP AT SEA.—The brig Spring Flower brought a seaman named Erie Haggestrom into the Tyne on the 23d who had been picked up at sea from an open boat. It seems that he is one of the crew of the schooner Cleveland, of Whitby, which was run down by another vessel on the 18th.—Three of the persons on board the schooner had jumped into the vessel which run them down, but Haggstrom was left aboard the sinking ship. He subsequently had to take to a small boat, and was driven about in a stormy, gusty night, with the wind freshening, when Mr. Pritchard, the master of the Spring Flower, fortunately heard his cries, and bore down to him and rescued him.

The treaty of commerce concluded between Russia and Turkey has been ratified. The mixed commission appointed to settle the nationality of Turkish subjects who are under the protection of Russia is continuing its labors. It is said that a large number of Armenians have resolved to return to their first nationality, their experience as Russian subjects in the Bulgarian colonies, in the Crimea, not having been favorable.

The Bank of France was robbed lately by one of the garcons de caisse, who had absconded with 150,000f. in notes. On the preceding evening one of the governors of the Bank had summoned before him the messengers of the Paris house, who "know that the governor, in a stern voice, of dishonesty." garcons of the Bank are incapable

THE ARMSTRONG GUN.—We understand that a crack or fissure has made its unwelcome appearance in the large Armstrong gun at Shoeburyness. The trials to which it has been put are extraordinary. Captain Dalhgren would certainly never dream of exposing one of his soda water bottles of equal dimensions to the effects of charges of 80 lbs. and 90 lbs. of powder with shot of 150 lbs.—British Army and Navy Gazette.

The Queen Dowager of Prussia has printed the manuscript prayers of King Frederick William IV., and distributed a number of copies among her royal relatives by way of Easter gift. To the public at large this royal manual of devotion is not yet accessible.

The two floating batteries, the Peiho and Palestro, will, it is said, be launched at Rochefort early next month, and experiments are about to be made of the formidable cylindro-conical projectile, of which so much has been said.

The new flag of the united Principalities, according to the pattern decided on by the convention of Paris, has been officially recognized by the Porte. It is red, yellow and blue, placed horizontally.

It is stated in the Australian papers that the mercantile community are opposed to a more frequent mail communication with England, on account of the labor which it would impose on them!

The Catholic Archbishop of Dublin, Dr. Cullen, has issued another strong protest against secret societies, which he condemns as being most baneful to religion and to society.

The Times is disposed to think that, if any one wins, the negro race is a most sure to lose by the results of the present civil war in America.

THE OHIO STATE FAIR.—The next Agricultural State Fair in Ohio will be held at Cleveland, Sept. 16—19. The location is one of the pleasantest in the State, and easily accessible from the numerous cars and boats that concentrate there. A fair was held there in 1852, and another in 1856, both of which were very successful. The city of Cleveland is proverbial for its beauty and enterprise of its inhabitants; and it is surrounded by a fine farming country, and a class of farmers noted for thrift, and there is a very flourishing manufacturing interest in that section, which will contribute to the success of the fair of 1862. The grounds selected on which to hold the fair are situated at the junction of Kinsman street and Wilson avenue. The tract is a beautiful level, with some shade trees. The indispensable article of water will be supplied by the City Water-Works.

REDUCTION OF POSTAGE TO GERMANY BY THE PRUSSIAN CLOSED MAIL.—The Postoffice Department gives notice that, hereafter, the single rate of postage for prepaid letters, transmitted per Prussian Closed Mail, between the United States and all parts of Germany (except the Grand Duchy of Baden) will be 28 instead of 30 cents. All unpaid letters, to whatever part of Germany they may be addressed, and prepaid letters addressed to Baden, will continue to be charged with postage at 30 cents the single rate. Postmasters should note this reduction on their tables of postages to foreign countries and charge postage accordingly.

REPUBLICAN OPINION.—The Washington correspondence of the New York Times of Saturday, says that no Republican here is known to sustain General Hunter's proclamation. With quite as good opportunities to understand what the fact is in that respect, we affirm that we find no Republican here, in or out of Congress, who does not desire that this proclamation should be left to stand just as it is, and the work which it has accomplished be let alone.—Washington Republican.

The dividends of nearly all the banks of Philadelphia whose capitals amount to an aggregate of $9,714,195, have just been declared for the last six months. The largest has been that of the Farmers and Mechanics' Bank, which divided, $60,000, and the smallest has been that of the Tradesman's Bank, $6,000. The total amount of dividends is over $627,000, which sum will thus be put in circulation.

The steamship Great Eastern is to sail from New York for Liverpool on Saturday next.

STILL ANOTHER TRIUMPH.

BALTIMORE, May 1st, 1862.

I have experienced so much benefit by using PEARSON'S MEDICATED TAR DROPS, that I believe it not only a duty but a pleasure, to make it known to others. I was afflicted with a Sore Throat and Dry Cough, which debilitated me so that I could get no rest. My friends told me that I had the consumption. I am now happy to inform you that your MEDICATED TAR DROPS have cured me.

I find that your MEDICATED TAR DROPS are counterfeited, and I caution the afflicted to be on their guard. This is really a shame that so efficacious a remedy should be injured by unprincipled men. I am glad, however, to see that your signature is now on each package, and I advise those who purchase to bear that in mind.

Yours, truly, HENRY FISHER,
