

able to make their escape, which they effected, by taking the Monk's boat and their own, and rowing to the shore. They afterwards understood that the enemy had got the brig off.

The ship General Greene ran on shore at the same time, and it is feared, has fallen into the hands of the enemy.

Had it not been for the above unfortunate circumstances, the Fair American, together with the rest of the British cruisers, which now infest our bay, would in all probability, have shared a similar fate to the General Monk.

So sanguine were the British who had taken possession of the Lovely Sally, that when they saw the General Monk engaged, they declared, she would take two such vessels as her antagonist, with all the ease imaginable; but they were struck with astonishment, when they saw her humbled and led off in triumph by the Hyder Ally.

April 16. Yesterday morning the brigantine Friendship, capt. Hall, arrived here, after a passage of 14 days, from Port-au-Prince. This vessel brings us advice of the arrival of 27 Spanish ships of the line, with 12,000 troops, at Cape François from Cadiz. These forces are no doubt destined to act in conjunction with those of his Most Christian Majesty in the attack on Jamaica, which, in all probability, must be subdued by so powerful an armament.

John Tayloe's Old Yorick, his dam by Ranger, his grand-dam by Dove, both imported by Dr. Hamilton, his great-grand-dam by col. Tarker's Othello, upon Old Selima. Ranger was got by Mr. Martindale's Regulus, his dam by Merry-Andrew, his grand-dam by Steady, his great-grand-dam was the dam of Shaftoe's Wildair; all horses of high blood and form; and were all king's plate horses.
